PREFACE.

Two years have passed since the first quarterly Part of this work appeared in July, 1866. To those who then became Subscribers, and who now find this Preface accompanying the Title and Indices of the First Volume, it may seem strange to see a Preface at all. The name of the book and its known contents mutually explain and justify each other. It may be so, but yet it is pleasant for the Editor to find a corner in which to record his thanks to all, who, whether original Subscribers or not, have during the progress of this volume favoured him with their communications. Without such kindly support his undertaking must have proved abortive.

There is, however, another class of Readers who may even now be making their first acquaintance with this volume of 'Miscellanea' in its complete shape. Such persons may perhaps expect, in limine, a word or two as to the plan and contents of the work.

They will find it to be a true 'Miscellany' devoted (in the words of the original Prospectus) "exclusively to transcripts from original and inedited documents relating principally to Genealogy and Heraldry," and comprising "Genealogies from Heralds' Visitations and from certified Pedigrees, Grants of Arms, Funeral Certificates, Wills, Monumental Inscriptions, Extracts from Parish Registers, etc., with Illustrations of Armorial Bearings, Seals, and Autographs."

It is of such materials that the present volume is composed, and a little consideration will show that the families with whose history our genealogical portion is concerned must chiefly be such as sprung into notice in the second half of the sixteenth and the early years of the seventeenth centuries.

The investigation of their history should possess much general interest, as the majority of existing English families of note can trace no higher than this in the male line, though by the marriage of female heirs many connected themselves with the earlier aristocracy of the land, and, indeed, it was often by the aid of such matches that they emerged first from obscurity.

Much remains to be done for the elucidation of Pedigrees of this class, and for that purpose the Monastic Chronicles and Chartularies are no longer available, and the Public Records soon cease to be so. Recourse must be had not only to the Heralds' Visitations, but to Parochial Registers and Monumental Inscriptions.

As to Heraldry, with some notable exceptions, the examples contained in the present volume are also chiefly of the Elizabethan date. It is believed that so large a collection of original Grants and Confirmations of Arms has never hitherto been presented to the public.

The spirited reproductions on wood, by Mr. Cleghorn and Mr. Utting, of the coats illuminated in the "margent" of many of the documents, besides preserving an authentic explanation of the blazon, will, it is hoped, be appreciated as affording excellent illustrations of the taste of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in the matters of Heraldic Art.

London, September, 1868.

Rev. Sir,—One Mr. Burton, of St. John's, having laid before me a Pedigree of the descendants from Thomas Beresford, who died in 1473, certified under the hand of Mr. Beresford, I ordered it to be examined with the Visitation books in the Heralds' Office, and find it exactly agrees in all the particulars which are here marked with red ink, so that our books prove the whole down to the time within memory of persons now living, save only that the founder of the Fellowships, James Beresford, is not mentioned in them to be the son of Thomas, who died in 1473. But if my information be right, that founder mentions his brother Laurence; so if it shall appear to be fact that he was the son of that Thomas, then the relation of Mr. Burton to the founder by Wigley will be indisputable in case Emma, the second wife of Ralph Gell, was (as Mr. Beresford's papers alledge) the daughter of Hugh Beresford. He claims a consanguinity likewise to the founder by another method of descent, through the Fernes of Hognoston, which Pedigree is likewise confirmed in all respects by our books, save only that Rowland Ferne is not entered in them, though his daughter is expressly said to be of Hognoston. The reason is evident for these breaks, because these entries are taken from distinct pedigrees in the Office. I have presumed to lay this matter before you supposing you may have some notices whose son the founder really was; I cannot, without proofs, certify any more than what is contained in our books, but since all the other points in Mr. Beresford's certificate (besides those which I have here hinted) are confirmed exactly by our books, there is all reason to believe the whole is true, and consequently a double relation in this case, which I presume, when all other qualifications required shall be found, may be preferred before a single relation, as having more of the founder's blood. I beg your pardon for this trouble, and am

Your most obliged humble servant,

Heralds' Office, 21 Febr. $172\frac{6}{7}$. John Anstis.

These are to certify whom it may concern, that this is a true copy of the Pedigree and Letter directed to the Rev. Mr. Baker, at St. John's College, in Cambridge, and signed by John Anstis, Esq., Garter Principal King of Armes, concerning the claim of Mr. Michael Burton, of St. John's, to one of the Fellowships founded by James Beresford, LL.B., in the said College. Witness my hand the 22d day of Febr. $172\frac{6}{7}$.

James Greene, Bluemantle,
Pursuivant of Arms.

And I do hereby further certify that upon perusal of the said Mr. Beresford's papers, it is plainly said that Emma was the second wife of Ralph Gell.

James Greene.

"John Bennett, late of thes northe parts, master of th'ordenance," died 8th July, 1568, and was buried in the quire of St. Nicholas, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, under a rhyming stone, "caused" by "his wyf and children—and Capten Carveli a frend of his." Proved 15th Oct. 1586, by John Barbor, son and executor. Windsor, 54 c p c.—It appears by family papers and traditions that this William Barbor was, for his religion, in the reign of Queen Mary, brought to the stake in Smithfield to be burnt, but ere the fire was lighted, news came of that Queen's death, which happened on the 17th November, 1558, and the execution was stopped. In memory of so providential a deliverance and in honour of Queen Elizabeth, a valuable jewel was made, in which is a bust of the Queen, his deliverer; and as a further proof of the family's gratitude, this jewel has regularly been bequeathed to such sons as named their eldest daughter Elizabeth, so that by regular descent it is now in the possession of Mrs. Sarah Barbor, relict of Richard Barbor, late of Brentwood, Gent., deceased, but who being since dead it is come into the possession of Mrs. Elizabeth Blencowe, relict of Henry Prescott Blencowe, Esq., of Thoby, her eldest daughter.

Marshall, of Nottinghamshire.—Information is requested concerning the descent of a family of this name, originally resident at Rampton, in the county of Notts. Augustine Marshall, of that place, had issue,—Robert, of the city of Lincoln, and he had Robert,* aged 74 in 1666, John, William, and George. Edward Marshall, of Rampton, married May 1, 1690, Mary Hall, at Rampton, and had issue,—Edward, baptized April 22, 1693 (buried March 3, 1704?); Thomas, baptized September 4, 1695 ; Mary, baptized April 11, 1698 ; Elizabeth, baptized September 3, 1700, buried September 14, 1701 ; Mary, baptized March 31, 1703 ; John, baptized August 5, 1705, buried September 26, 1706. Thomas is probably identical with Thomas Marshall, who married Mary . . . and was buried August 11, 1768 ; she was buried March 24, 1760. Of their issue a family still owning property in Rampton descends, who bear for arms, barry of six argent and sable, a canton ermine, and for crest, a man in armour proper, holding in his dexter-hand a baton ; with the motto, "Veritas vincit."

This family was in some way related to a numerous one of the same name residing at Tuxford, and this to Thomas Marshall, of Kirton, who in his will of October 28, 1663, proved March 3, 1663–4, mentions his sons Robert and Thomas, a daughter Elliner, and four others, married respectively to Richard Maples, John Howker, Edward Smith, and Robert Shipman. The writer of this note has extracts from the parish registers of Rampton, and of births and marriages only from Tuxford, down to 1663 and 1730 respectively; and notes of the wills of the Tuxford and Kirton families from York. Extracts from wills or parish registers, or any information likely to lead to the identification of these several branches, would be very acceptable. G. W. M.

Gorges.—I shall feel greatly obliged to any one who can give me any information on the following points in the pedigree of the Gorges family:—1st. Who were the offspring of Sir Edward Gorges, b. 1481, son of Sir Edmund Gorges and Lady Ann Howard? He is stated in all visitations as having married two wives, Mary, daughter of Sir John Newton, and Mary, daughter of Sir A. Pointz. But in an authentic pedigree in the Bodleian Library, dated 1579, and drawn by Henry, eldest son of Sir John Newton, no mention is made of this marriage, though Sir John Newton (the father) is stated to have married Margaret, daughter of Sir A. Pointz, and therefore Sir Edward Gorges was brother-in-law to Sir J. Newton, and not likely to have married first the niece and then the aunt. I have even better evidence from Wills to upset the list of his offspring given in the visitations, but I am at a loss whom to place in their stead. There is or was an inscription in the mayor's chapel, Bristol, in memory of "Robert Gorges who died March 1st 1619," and of "Sir Robert Gorges and Elena his wife who died 1617." Who were these? He is not the Sir Robert Gorges, son of Sir Thomas, as I have extracts from his will; he died at Redlynche, Somerset, in 1648. Dorothy Mellor, afterwards Dame Dorothy Gorges, Will made 1642, proved 1649, said to have married Lord Charles Stanhope and Sir Charles Vaughan; who was she? and how was she connected with Gorges' pedigree?

Coggeshall, Essex. Thomas B. Allen.

Hastings of Co. Dorset.—It is well known that a branch of the family of Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon, settled in the County of Dorset, and that the eccentric Henry Hastings,* second son of the fourth earl, left descendants who intermarried with several Dorsetshire families. I should be glad to know whether the entry in the subjoined abstract of the Will of Henry Browne, of Mapercomb, gent., refers to a member of the Huntingdon family. The Will is dated 28 October, 1682, and was proved May 18, 1685. The testator mentions his son-in-law, Mr. Robert Humber, and his two sons, William and Robert Humber, his daughter Anne Hastings, widow, and her three children, Henry Hastings, Anne and Mary Hastings; his daughter Julian Rock and her children Elizabeth, Mary, Grace and Anne Rock; Mary and Grace Watts, daughter of his son-in-law Richard Watts. His executor Nicholas Browne was sheriff of Dorset in 1708. C. J. R.

Rayney, of Ipswich.—A Yorkshire lady, in her will, dated March 23, 1645, names her cousin "Elizabeth Rayney [or Ranie], daughter of Gilbert Rayney, of Ipswich, clerk, deceased." I am desirous of ascertaining what preferment or engagement Gilbert Rayney held at Ipswich and any other particulars about him. Also the date of his death or burial, to enable me to refer to his will. To any Suffolk genealogist who can kindly assist me I shall feel much obliged.

Families of Trevers (extinct), Barons Trever and Viscount Hampden, and Weldon, of London, Hunts, etc.—I shall be glad if any of your learned genealogical and heraldic correspondents could furnish me, through the pages of your valuable miscellany, with any further particulars respecting the above families than I have appended hereto.

John Trevor, of the very ancient family of that name, derived from one of the most distinguished stocks in Cumbrian genealogy, deducing descent from Tudor Trevor, Lord of Hereford, Bromfield Chirk, both the Maelors, and Oswestry, was seated at Trevallyn, in Denbighshire. He married Mary, daughter of Sir George Bruges, Knt., of London, and died July 15, 1589. He was succeeded by Sir John Trevor, his second son, of Trevallyn, knighted June 7, 1618, who married Margaret, daughter of Hugh Trevannion, Esq., of Cornwall, and had issue, 1, John (Sir), who predeceased his father, and was one of the principal Secretaries of State and Member of the Privy Council in the reign of Charles II. He married Ruth, daughter of John Hampden, Esq., of Great Hampden, Bucks, and left at his decease, May 28, 1672, with two younger sons, Richard and Edward, two elder sons. 1, John, of Trevallyn, who married Elizabeth (Clark), widow of William, eldest son of Colonel Herbert Morley, of Glynde, M.P. for Lewes, and by her (who married, thirdly, the Lord Viscount Cutts) had issue three sons and two daughters. The eldest son, John Morely Trevor, Esq., of Trevallyn, Plasteg, and Glynde, born 1681, married Lucy, daughter of Edward Montague, Esq., of Horton, Northants, and dying April 12, 1719, left issue three sons and nine daughters. Lucy, the eldest, born 1706, married Edward Rice, Esq., of Newtown, M.P. for Carmarthen, and was mother of George Rice, Esq., of Newtown, M.P. for Carmarthenshire, who married, August 16, 1756, Cecil, Baroness Dynevor, only daughter of William Talbot, second Baron and first Earl Talbot, created Baron Dynevor, of Dynevor. Gertrude, the seventh, married to the Hon. Charles Roper, third son of Henry, eighth Baron Teynham, and had issue—1, Charles Trevor Roper, eighteenth Baron Dacre, who married, March 2, 1773, Mary, only daughter and heiress of Sir Thomas Fludyer, Knt., brother of Sir Samuel, the first Baronet, and who died, s. p., July 4, 1794; 2, Henry, Lieut.-Colonel in the Army, died s. p.; and 3, Gertrude, who succeeded her brother in the barony of Dacre.

* He married, first, Dorothy, daughter of Sir Francis Willoughby, of Wollaton, who died Dec. 4, 1638, aged 84; and secondly, in 1639, Mrs. Anne Laughton. He died Oct. 5, 1650, aged 99, and left issue two sons, George and Henry.

Thomas, the elder brother of John, I shall speak of hereafter. Anne, aunt, married Robert Weldon, Esq., of London; 2, Jane, another aunt, married the Hon. Sir Francis Compton, fifth son of Spencer, Earl of Northampton; and 3, Elizabeth, the youngest, married to William Masham, Esq., eldest son of Sir William Masham, Bart. Sir John Trevor died in 1673, and his eldest grandson, John, inherited Trevallin, while the next (alluded to before), Thomas, was brought up to the profession of the law, and having obtained reputation at the Bar, was made Solicitor-General in 1692, when he received the honour of knighthood. In 1695 he became Attorney-General, and on the accession of Queen Anne, was constituted Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, when he was elevated to the Peerage, December 31, 1711, as Baron Trevor, of Bromham, co. Beds. In 1726 he was appointed Lord Privy Seal, and the next year he was declared one of the Lords Justices. On the accession of George II. he was again sworn Lord Privy Seal, and in 1730 constituted President of the Council. He married, 1st, Elizabeth, daughter and coheiress of John Searle, Esq., of Finchley, co. Middlesex, by whom he had issue Thomas and John, second and third Barons, and three daughters; he married, 2ndly, Anne, his cousin, daughter of Robert Weldon, Esq., merchant, of London, and widow of Sir Robert Barnard, Bart., of Brampton, co. Hunts (M.P. for the county in 1688), by whom he had issue, 1, Robert, who succeeded as fourth Lord. This nobleman was born 1701, and in compliance with the testamentary injunction of John Hampden, Esq., of Great Hampden, assumed the surname and arms of Hampden. His Lordship was several years Envoy Extraordinary to the States General, and was constituted, in 1746, one of the Commissioners of the Revenue in Ireland. In 1759 he was made joint Postmaster-General with the Earl of Bessborough, which office he held until the year 1765, and was created, June 14, 1776, Viscount Hampden, of Hampden, co. Bucks. He married, in 1743, Constantia, daughter of Peter Anthony de Huybert, Lord of Van Kruningen, of Holland, and had issue 2 sons and 2 daughters. On the death of the second son, John, in 1824, who had succeeded his brother Thomas, second Viscount (who died s. p. 1824), the title became extinct. 2. Richard, in holy orders, consecrated Bishop of St. David's in 1744, translated to the See of Durham in 1752, and died unmarried June 9, 1771. And 3, Edward, died young.

I have above stated that Anne, aunt of the first Baron Trevor, married Robert Weldon, of London, Esq., and from often hearing my relatives say we were nearly related to the Lords Trevor, Dacre, and the Fludyers, Baronets, I set inquiries on foot and come to the following result:—James Weldon of London, afterwards of Buckden, Hunts, and then of Duddington, Northants, was son of Robert Weldon, of London, woollen mercer, who through fire was burnt out of his dwelling near Temple Bar. After that event he came to reside at Buckden, a village close to (in fact adjoining) Brampton, Huntingdonshire, where his daughter, Lady Bernard, resided. James had a family, but who his wife was I am ignorant; but his daughter Mary married at Derby, in June, 1757, my great-grandfather, Thomas Simpson; another sister, Jane, married Hugh Jackson, Esq., of Duddington, Northamptonshire; and another married an East Indian merchant named Bennett, who on their voyage to that country perished, as neither they nor the ship was ever seen or heard of afterwards. After a short residence at Duddington, Mr. Weldon returned to Buckden. By Mary (Weldon), his wife, Mr. Simpson had inter alios Thomas, his eldest son, and who married Mary, one of the daughters of James Nowlan, of the Hermitage, London, and died March, 1810; Robert Charles, born 1777, still living. There was a numerous family of the Nowlans. Another of the daughters married Octavius Graham Gilchrist, Esq.. F.S.A., a distinguished literary character of his day, who died in 1823, a brother of a celebrated portrait-painter of the last century; another married Captain Reilly, R.N.; another married Francis Simpson, a younger brother of Thomas, and was mother of Francis, author of a work on Baptismal Fonts; and a fourth married Justin M'Carthy, barrister-at-law, a member of the ancient and once royal family of the M'Carthys, of Carrignavar, co. Cork. This gentleman married, secondly, a daughter of Sir Thomas Hawes, of London, by whom he had inter alios Sir Charles Justin M'Carthy, Knt., Governor of Ceylon, who died October, 1864. A writer in the 'Cornhill Magazine,' recording the death of the late Cardinal Archbishop Wiseman, remarked upon the singularity of the death of the Cardinal following so closely that of his old schoolfellow and cousin the Governor of Ceylon; I shall feel obliged if any clue can be afforded to show how this relationship existed.

Stamford, Sept. 3, 1866. JUSTIN SIMPSON.

P.S.—In the chancel of Duddington Church, Northamptonshire, are two brass plates inserted in the floor; one is inscribed to the memory of James Weldon, who died January 9, 1761, and the other to Thomas Marsh* Weldon, who was born October 18, 1774, died December 6, 1850. Frances Weldon, widow of Thomas Marsh Weldon, born July 19, 1763, who died March 8, 1851.

Peter Frecheville, of Staveley, co. Derby, who married Matilda Wortley and died in 1503, had, amongst other children, a younger son, Ankerus Frecheville, who married Isabella Wakefield. This Anker had a son Robert. Can any of your readers inform me, through your columns, whether this Robert was ever married and, if so, to whom; also what issue, if any, he had? F. W. H.

It is stated that a colony of Flemings and Walloons settled in Halifax, Yorkshire, and the neighbourhood, about the fifteenth century; I shall be glad to learn where I can meet with a list of the names of these families. ATHERSTON.

Roger Fretwell, of Carr and Hooton Levet, Yorkshire, living there in 1531, and was formerly of Soucombe or Sookholme, co. Notts; could one of your correspondents supply me with information as to his progenitors? F. W. H.

LAWRENCE FAMILY.—Is the Tisbury, co. Wilts, branch of the Lawrence family extinct? Had Nicholas Lawrence, æt. 26, 1645, or Thomas, 2nd son, or William, 3rd son of Richard Lawrence, of Tisbury (of Dorset Visitation, 1623), any issue? if so, where is the account thereof? L.

FULLER FAMILY.—Can any of your correspondents give me particulars about or extracts from the Will of Honourable Mary Fuller, daughter of Lord Baltinglass, and wife of Thomas Fuller (the Church historian), from whom I claim to derive (see 'Gentleman's Magazine' for September, page 355). I want also information about Fuller's first wife, his sisters, his brother John, his son John (by first wife), his son Thomas (by second wife), —in short, I want all the information I can get about any member of his family, and shall be much obliged to any of your correspondents who may give me the smallest aid. The Honourable Mary Fuller was living at Uppingham in 1674. Probably her Will is to be found in Doctors' Commons.

NEWMAN.—F. N. will feel grateful for any suggestions to enable him to ascertain the Arms and when granted, of Sir Richard and Sir Thomas Newman, brothers of Henry Newman, Vicar of Harringworth, diocese of Peterborough, and who in his will, dated August 11, 1522, makes sundry bequests to the Abbess of Elnestow (Elstow, near the town of Bedford), Dame Abys, and Dame Elizabeth Beovyll, to the Monastery of Elnestow, and to the paryshe church of Harringworth.

Any information respecting the arms and family of Newman, of Folksworth, near Peterborough, would also be very acceptable.

HENRY PERCY, EARL OF NORTHUMBERLAND.—Wanted, a reference to the Will of the above, who died at Hackney, 30 June, 1537, and was buried there.

Brighton. J. R. D. TYSSEN.

THOMAS HUSEE.—Thomas Husee, of Stalham, Norfolk, living 1596, married Jane, daughter of George Townshend, of Raynham, and had a son and heir, Richard, who married Elizabeth, daughter of John Skinner, of Hempstead-cum-Eccles, in the same county. Harl. MS. 4756, f. 29 b.

This Richard and his wife had issue; can their descendants be traced?

The Pedigree of the Antient Family of the Palmers of Sussex 1672.*

To The Right hono[ble] the Lady Anne Palmer Roger Jenyns Esq[r] humbly dedicates this Pedigree of her antient Family and alliance 20[th] December 1672.

A preliminary account of ye Antiquity & Name of this Familie of ye Palmers.

The Palmers of Sussex are acknowledged by the whole County one of their antient Families before y[e] Conquest though the name came from the holy war; for Palmer signifies Pilgrime because they carried (as Cambden sayes) a Palme when they returned from Jerusalem. The Name usually had noe particles before it yet some heretofore after the Custome of y[e] Normans (who often added de & le to theirs) added them alsoe to this; for we finde in Villare Cantianum p. 322. William le Palmer and in y[e] Monasticon John le Palmer in y[e] time of Hen. 3[rd]. All our Adventures in the Holy war (as Fuller & others have it) were called Pilgrims or Palmers And therefore severall brave champions after y[t] most Christian Expedition retained this devout appellation. So that there have been aboue sixty considerable Families at a time in England of this very Sirname differing in their Armes and no wayes related but by Marriage.

This following Pedigree is only the descent and matches of this Sussex Familie since y[e] reigne of Edward y[e] 1[st] (for with him may be said to end y[e] holy war) collected aboute 50 yeares agoe in a Methodicall Roll (now in y[e] possession of S[r] Henry Palmer of Wingham) and approved by S[r] W[m] Segar Garter King of Armes in these words.

"This Pedigree collected by y[e] care & diligence of John Philpot Somerset Herauld of Armes hath been carefully examined by mee & I find it to bee very well proved in each particular by y[e] publique Records of y[e] Kingdome the Registers of y[e] office of Armes y[e] private Evidences of this Familie & other venerable monuments of Antiquity, & therefore according to y[e] Jurisdiction incident to my place it being tendered to mee to supervise, I signifie my approbation by y[e] subscription of my name

"Mar. 12. 1626." "W[M] Segar Garter & Principal King of Armes.

The cheife Houses y[t] belong'd to y[e] severall within named Branches of this Familie were Angmering & Parham in Sussex Wingham in Kent & Dorney in Bucks y[e] two last of w[ch] are still theirs.

The Paternal Coate is Or 2 Barrs gules each charg'd w[th] 3 tresfoils of y[e] field w[ch] in Guillims Catalogue of Baronetts are falsly call'd argent. Most bore in Cheife (though others doe not)† A Grey-hound current sable in remembrance perchance of their Pilgrimage A Dog that faithfull & familar creature being a Pilgrims usuall Companion.

The Crest is a demy Panther (or as some call it) a demy Leopard argent spotted azure‡ fire (denoteing his feirceness) issuing out of mouth & eares & holding in his paws a Holley bough w[th] leaves & berries proper.

The Supporters are 2 Lions gardant argent and y[e] Motto Palma Virtuti: all w[ch] are express'd in y[o] following Coat belonging to the right hon[ble] Roger Earle of Castlemaine.

* The original pedigree is in the possession of Charles J. Palmer, Esq., of Dorney Court.

† (Though others doe not) on the other side means only the Dorney Branch the Greyhound being left out by S[r] James Palmer of Dorney Knt. Chancellor of the Garter (Great Grandfather of S[r] Charles Paimer the present Baronet of this Family) as a Difference only, but on S[r] Charles coming to the Title by failure of the Wingham Line it was thought proper (by the advice of John Anstis Esq[r] Garter Principal King at Arms) for him to reassume it the reason ceasing why it was at first omitted by S[r] James.

In the Pedigrees at Wingham & at Dorney there were blanks left for the wife of Adam Palmer as vnknowne, who doubtlesse was an Heiresse or at least Coheiresse to John Sedinghouse & Mistresse of the Armes empal'd in the said Adams escutcheon viz. sable a Fesse or between 3 Lyons Rampant argent. M^r^ Philpot sayes that these armes belong to the Palmers as Quarterings of the Stophams, one of whose heirs general Robert the son of this Adam married; but this is not likely, since the 8 S^r Edward Palmer, of Angmering.‡ Arms, Palmer, impaling argent two bends wavy sable on a chief gules three leopards' faces or. C = Aliee,† coheiresse of William Clement, of whose family see more.

Anne, Elizabeth, Alice, were married.

Katherine Palmer, dyed unmarried.

Palmers have at all times borne these Armes before the Very Paternal Coat of the Stophams, & in this order M^r Philpot himself has marshall'd them; Besides if the Stophams have formerly quartered these Armes (as the said M^r Philpot might perchance have somewhere seen) it may very well be that John Stopham & Adam Palmer married coheiresses, Daughters to John Sedinghouse of East Preston for wee finde by a Deed of the 48 of Edward the 3^d* that the said John Stopham & Adam Palmer joyned in the sale of some lands of John Sedinghouse to their neighbour Adam Bartlet & what farther probably confirms that the wives of these two were coheiresses is that Robert Palmer the son of the said Adam was to be one of the heires of a great part of the lands of William Stopham son of this John, had his 3 Daughters & Coheires died issuelesse; one of which the said Robert afterwards married viz. 11° Rich. 2.

These are reasons why tis conceived that the wife of Adam Palmer was an heiresse of the Sedinghouse family; but though it should not be so, yet it is evident these Armes (by their being marshall'd before the Stophams paternal Coat) come not to the Palmers by y^e Stophams but by an heiresse of their own marrying. And if so who is more probable to be that Heiresse than Adams wife who is unknowne and Mother even to Robert Palmer that married one of the aforesaid heires general of the Stophams in whose Right M^r Philpot (as is before hinted) would have this controverted coat borne.

* The Stophams of Stopham were an antient Saxon Family in Sussex, where there is still a Towne & a Bridge of their name. They had very large possessions here, and John Stopham who is menc'oned on the other side in the Stophams Rundle married Joan the Daughter of William Foord of Foordhouse by whom he had this William the last of the Family, who left only 3 Coheiresses Margaret the youngest died a maid but the other 2 were married as is expressed on the following side.

tioned in their Rundles on the other side which sons were all of one Conception and borne 3 Sundayes successively Whitsunday being the first. This happened about Anno Domini 1487 in the 3d yeare of Henry 7ths Raigne & they all lived to be men of great age & note as may be seen by the following particulars.

John the eldest of these 3 sons so strangely borne was heire of this great estate & maried the Daughter of William the famous Lord Sands & Knight of the Garter in the reign of Henry 8. He was twice high Sheriffe of Sussex & Surrey viz. In the 25 & 35 of King H. 8.

Henry the 2d son was a Souldier & had 1500li per ann. (by the gift I suppose of his Uncle Sr Thomas de Calis aforesaid) about that Towne and Guisnes where he was Master of the Ordnance. Grafton mentions him at the surrendry of the sd place which made great resistance even after Calis itselfe was lost. Here he was shot in the arme of which wounde afterwards he died Anno 1555 & in the 70th yeare of his age as appeares by his Picture still at Wingham He was also buried there of which place Philpot in his Villare Cantianum says thus The Colledge of Wingham was founded by John de Peckham Arch Bp of Cantr. Anno 1278 to be a Seminary of secular Priests the head of wch Fraternity was call'd Præpositus. This upon the suppression of Abbeys being wth the whole Revenue invested in the Crown Kg Hen. 8 granted the College to Sr Henry Palmer descended from an antient Family of that surname in Sussex ancestor to Sr Henry P. now Proprietor of it.

Sr Thomas the youngest of the said 3 sons was a souldier also & did many brave exploits against the French as may be seen in Grafton and others. Henry VIII. made him Gentleman of the Privy Chamber, a place then equall to the Bed-Chamber now. This King much esteemed him & knowing him bold & couragious sent him with private orders (contrary to those agreed upon in Councel) to my Lord Grey at Bulloigne to destroy Chattillons Garden. The particulars of which may be seen in Baker. He got a vast estate under this liberal Prince & built in the reign of Edward VI. most past of that house in the Strand now called Exceter House, as appeares by several monumentes of this Family: but joyning with the Duke of Northumberland in behalf of Jane Gray was (as may be seen in our Historians) beheaded with him on the same scaffold by Queen Mary, anno 1553 being the 66th yeare of his age.

* Sr Henry Palmer of Wingham second of those 3 sons of Sr Edward of Angmering so strangely borne had besides his Estate in England £1500 per an. (by the gift of his Uncle Sr Thomas de Calis) about that towne and Guisne, where he was Master of the Ordnance. Grafton mentions him att the Surrendry of the said place which made great resistance even after Calis itselfe was lost. He was here shot in the arme of which wound he afterwards died vizt Anno 1555 being the 70th yeare of his age as appeares by his Picture at Wingham the original of this that follows, & there he was also buried.

† Sr Thomas Palmer of Wingham in East Kent (eldest son of Sr Henry was borne 1540. His Father left him a Ward of about 17 yeares old (as may be seene in the Rolles of that Court) & in the 4th of Elizab. he came of age. He was high Sheriffe of Kent in the 37th of the said Queene. King James made him Gentleman of His Privy Chamber and in the 19 yeare of his Reyne Baronett vizt imediatly following Sr Lewis Watson (afterwards Lord Rockingham) & just before Sr Richard Roberts since Lord Roberts which is the 151st or as tis in Bakers Catalogue the 141st in number. He was eminent for his hospitality having kept 60 open Christmasses with his Lady without ever breaking up House. He died the 7th of Jan. 1625 in the 85th yeare of his age and was buried in his own Church where there is a very faire marble monument erected to his memory mentioning most of these Particulars.

‡ Margaret wife to Sr Thomas Palmer aforesaid was Daughter of John Poley of Badley Esqr Head of that very excellent & antient Family in Suffolke. Her mother was daughter to the Lord Wentworth Treasurer or Comptroler of the Household to Hen. 8, so that she was descended from, & makes her Posterity allied to many noble families, as to the Nevils, Chenyes, Barcleys, Lovelaces, Benetts &c. She was borne 1543 & having lived with much repute in her Countrey & happinesse with her Husband for 62 yeares, she soon followed him & is buried with him at Wingham She died in Augt 1626 in the 83 yeare of her age.

* Sr Roger Palmer 2d son of Sr Thomas of Wingham was borne 1577 my Lord Bacon being acquainted with him at Greyes Inne (a famous academy then, & full of accomplish'd young Gentlemen) brought him to Court, where his good qualities soon got him friends: for he could vault & ride the great Horse extremely well. He was a Master in vocal & instrumental Music. He vnderstood Spanish & Italian accurately but in Dancing He was so excellent that few (if any) in his time came near him especially in Galliards & high dancing, which was then most in request. He was presented in 1600 by my Lord Effingham to the Queen who presently entertained him as a servant; but she dying soon after he was made Cup bearer to Prince Henry & in the later office he was to Charles the 1st whilst Prince. About the year 1617 at a Ball before the King He broke the great tendon of his right leg in capering. When Charles the 1st came to the Crown, he made him Knight of the Bath then Master of the Household and lastly Cofferer. He got a great estate in these employments & had it not been for the war by which he was a mighty looser, he had been as rich a younger Brother as any in his time. He married Katherine Daughter to Sr Thomas Porter of Glocestershire, and Relict of Sr Richard Welsh but had no children by her. He lived long a widdower & died the 8th of Octob. 1657 in the 80th yeare of his age & is buried in Dorney vault.

† Sr James Palmer of Dorney 3d son of Sir Thomas Palmer of Wingham was born 1584. He was well versed in the Belle Littere & in all things befitting a Courtier. He was of the Bed chamber to King James & being sick of an ague with his Majesty made trial of the same plaister prescribed by the Duke & Countesse of Buckingham wch cured him (as he thought) though the King thereupon died. Charles the 1st having his Bed Chamber full continued to him neverthelesse £500 per an. the usual Pension & Knighting him made him Gentleman Usher of the Privy Chamber He understood Pictures admirably & therefore his Majesty (who was a great Admirer of Painting) made him Keeper of his Privy-Closet & after the death of Sir Thomas Roe Chancellour of the noble order of the Garter. He followed his Royal Master all the war & having been plund'red of all his Plate, Jewells, Pictures & furniture returned home upon the Articles of Oxford which admitted him to compound, but hind'red not his Decimation afterwards. He died Mar. 15. 1657 in the 73 yeare of his age & was buried in his owne vault at Dorney.

‡ Katherine Herbert Daughter to William Ld Powis by Ellenour Daughter to Henry the 8th Earle of Northumberland was borne 1600 & married to Sir James Palmer Anno 1625 whilest the late civil war continued. She lived with her children in Wales & when Oxford was surrend'red came up to her Husband after whose death She went to London, but the air not agreeing with her retir'd to Windsor where she died in 1666 being the 66th yeare of her age & is buried by her Father at Hendon in Middlesex a mannor which still belongs to the Lord Powis.

Some Descents of the Family of the Clements,

FROM WHOSE HEIRES GENERALL ARE DESCENDED THE PALMERS OF ANGMERING, WINGHAM AND DORNEY.

This family of Clements was originally of Wales and allied to the great S^{r} Rice ap Thomas there They were greatly preferr^{d} by Henry the 7th who bestowed on them the goodly seate in Kent called Moat with the mannour of Chaltons which lyeth in the Parish of Eightham as may be seen in Villare Cantianum. Sir Richard Clement was of this Kings Privy Chamber but leaving no lawfull issue his sisters became his Coheires who were married to the Palmers &c. as is expressed in this Pedigree on the other side.

Jenkin Clement, of South Wales. ═ Alice, heiresse, descended from the Prince of South Wales.
Argent two bends wavy sable on a chief gules three leopards' heads or, impaling gules a lion rampant or, a bordure indented of the last.

Alice aforesaid was Daughter and Heire of Kynan, sonne of Meredith, son of Griffith, w^{ch} Griffith was son and heire of Rice, son of Griffith, Lord of Cardigan, son of Rice ap Tewder Mawre, Prince of South Wales in the time of William Rufus.

W^{m} Clement. ═ Philippa, daughter & heire to Philip Camburgh.
Arms, Clement, impaling paly of six or and azure on a fess gules three mullets or.

John Clement, son of William.

Memorandum That in the Windowes of Angmering the Clements Armes have their bends nebule but at Wingham & Dorney they are wave as is here expressed.

The Welch Pedigree of the Clements makes them originally Englishmen of the Peak, and their names to be Baker, for they call the first that came among them about the Reigne of Henry 1st Clement Baker of the Peak (in Derbyshire as I suppose) & therefore after the Welsh manner they call'd all the rest Clements. They make also Sir William the son of this John to marry the Daughter of Griffith ap Nicholas, Aunt to the famous S^{r} Rice ap Thomas, which must be a mistake ; for I finde that the said William married a Daughter of John Goring of Sussex as is expressed in the follow^{g} Rundle. And that is more probable since the said S^{r} William comeing with S^{r} Rice ap Thomas to the aid of Henry the 7 was much prefer^{d} by the said King (as is before mentioned) who gave him Possessions in Kent where he fixt himselfe & therefore the Welsh might be easily mistaken in his Matches & in the Matches of his Daughters, when once he & his family left their Country. Now because all agree that the said S^{r} William was a near kinsman to S^{r} Rice ap Thomas. I believe that the Daughter of the aforementioned Griffith ap Nicholas was not wife but Mother of the said S^{r} William & then the Alliance of the Clements to this Renowned Champion is as follows.

Griffith ap Nicholas.

Thomas ap Griffith, son of Griffith ap Nicholas.

N. N., daughter to Griffith ap Nicholas, married to John Clement.

S^{r} Rice ap Thomas, called the Great, of Newtowne, in Carmarthenshire, & Knight of the Garter.

Sir W^{m} Clement, married, as is expressed on other side.

W^m Clement, of Moat, in Kent. =Daughter of John Goring, of Sussex, Esq^r.

- Elizabeth, married to Henry Richers; afterwards to Thomas Topp, of Gloucestershire. Argent three annulets azure two and one, impaling Clement.

This S^r Richard had only 3 base daughters married as is expressed on the other side. These 3 base daughters of Sir Richard Clement on the Other side were married the one to Lovelace of Kent the other to Boswell of the said County and the 3^d to one M^r Edwards of London which is here noted that the border Gobony may be rightly apply'd.

Notes and Queries.

Gorges (page 78).—In reply to the query concerning Dame Dorothy Gorges, allow me to state the following particulars:—

In Hutchins's Hist. Co. Dorset, there is a pedigree of the Mellor family, in which it is given that Sir Robert Mellor, born 1564, died 1624, had by his first wife, Margaret (daughter of Robert Freke and sister to Sir Thomas Freke, Kt.), two children, Wolley Mellor and Dorothy, who married Sir Charles Vaughan, Kt., of Fugglestone, Wilts.

There is also the following, Yetminster, Dorset:—"Dame Dorothy Gorges, who died about the middle of the seventeenth century, gave her brother, Wolley Mellor, Esq., a sum of money, with which he purchased lands, now let at £40 per annum, the rent to be applied to the relief of poor persons, and decayed tradesmen, inhabitants of Yetminster."

In Bristol Cathedral there is a monument to Sir Charles Vaughan, who died February 16, 1630. He married, first, Frances, daughter of Sir Robert Knolles, Kt., who died 1614, aged 24; and secondly, Dorothy, daughter of Sir Robert Mellor,—she erected this monument to the memory of her husband.

She must then have married Sir Robert Gorges, of Wraxall, eldest son of Sir Edward Gorges (whose first wife, Mary Dayrell, of Fulmer, Bucks, died before 1630).

Lady Dorothy Gorges died 1645 and was buried at Wraxall. Her will is dated January 25, 1642, but not proved till 1650,—perhaps on account of the political troubles of these times. She must have had a good deal of independent property, received from her first husband, as she leaves £500 to the poor "as her executors may approve." This will account for the charitable foundations at Yetminster. She mentions in her will, her brothers, Sir John Mellor (by Sir Robert Mellor's second wife) and Wolley Mellor, and her goddaughter, "Meg. Freke" (her mother was a Freke).

Amongst the administrations in Doctors' Commons is one to the goods, etc., of Sir Robert Gorges, miles,—the commission, granted January, 1636, to Samuel Gorges, legitimate brother of Sir Robert Gorges, because Domina Dorothy Gorges, the relict of Sir Robert Gorges, for good and proper reasons, renounced the administration, as sworn before Ezekiel Pownall, Rector of Wraxall.

Then who was the Lady Dorothy Gorge, who, according to the Registers at Kensington, married, November 23, 1641, Lord Charles Stanhope? F. Brown.

Nailsea Rectory.

Calvert.—I should feel obliged if any of your readers in Swaledale or Wensleydale, Yorkshire, would inform me where I can meet with particulars as to a family of the name of Calvert, who resided in that neighbourhood in the last century, and especially as to the ncestry of a Mr. Solomon Calvert, who was born about from 1700 to 1735, and as to where he was baptized. September the 22. 1680

Mr John Watkins and Mrs Anne Yeend were married by Mr Doyley in the parish Church of Holly Cross in Pershore upon thursday the thirteenth day of Aprill Anno D'ni 1710.

Wentworth.—Who was the father of William Wentworth, who emigrated from Yorkshire to Boston, A.D. 1628, and whose grandson, John Wentworth, was Lieutenant-Governor of New Hampshire? Do the American Wentworths, his descendants, derive from the Bretton or the Wentworth Woodhouse families, and what arms do they bear? The special grant to Sir John Wentworth would, of course, affect his descendants only.

Z., South Africa.

Reynolds.—"Miss Anna Maria, of Waltham Abbey, married to William Thornton, of Wormesley, Esq." (Gent.'s Mag. 1757, page 338). Will any reader oblige by supplying the names of her parents and their residence, if not such Abbey?

Glwysig.

Llanfoist, Abergavenny.

Gorges Family.—In the Diary of Dr. Worthington, published in the thirteenth volume of the 'Chetham Miscellanies,' is the following entry:—"April 5th 1639 Mr Gorges Mr Hall's pupil died of the Small Pox."

At that time Dr. Worthington was writing from Cambridge, and Mr. Gorges was evidently an undergraduate there. Where can I obtain further information about him?

Coggeshall, Kelvedon. T. B. Allen.

Palmer.—In the will of Lawrence Palmer, of Stansted, Mont Fichet, Essex, dated the 16th of May, 1598, and the 40th of Elizabeth, is mentioned Richard Palmer, his father, Mary, his wife, Richard and Dionysius, his brothers, Jeffrey, Lawrence, and Mathias, his sons, and Susan, Katherine, and Mary, his daughters. Further particulars respecting either the ancestors or descendants of the above Lawrence Palmer is requested, as well as a description of his arms. A family of the name of Palmer, contemporaneous with the above, resided at Dews-hall, Lambourn, and another at Waltham Abbey, but whether related to the Stansted family is not known. J. N. C. P.

Fretwell, Co. Oxon.—In 1272, William le Brun and Robert de Fretwell held of the King of Almaign seven knights' fees in the village of Horton, Oxon. Among the witnesses to a charter of John Fitz Silvester, of Salthorne (Oxon), granting land to his son, is Phillip de Fretewell, of the manor of Fritwell: date of charter between the years 1243 and 1272.

I should be glad of further information of this family of Fretwell, of Oxfordshire, also to know if any pedigree of it is extant and where it may be found, and what were their armorial bearings. F. H.

Hoyville.—In 1326, William de Hoyville was lord of the township of Funtley, co. Southampton. One of the same name was also summoned to meet the King at Newcastle-on-Tyne, in the wars against the Scots. In the next century the same name is found at Fyfield, co. Oxon. Can any of your readers inform me where I can meet with any pedigree, also arms, to this name? F. H.

Marshall of Gray's Inn.—I should be glad of genealogical or biographical particulars relating to any of the following persons, who were admitted Members of Gray's Inn:—John Marshall, 1523; William, 1524; John, 1525; William, 1592; Richard, 1593; Cuthbert, 1611; Ma (? Mathew), 1616; Thomas, of Newarke, 24 November, 1648. Admitted to degree of Ancient:—Robert Marshall, 18 May, 1667; Richard Marshall, 17 April, 1676. Called to the Bar:—Robert Marshall, 26 October, 1602; Robert, 24 June, 1653; Richard, 25 November, 1661.

The above names are extracted from Harl. MS. 1912, p. 98; where it is also noted that Henry Cromwell, son of Oliver, Lord Protector, was admitted 26 February, 1653,—a fact which I have not before seen noticed. G. W. M.

Paddy.—Can any reader of the 'Miscellanea' give me any information relating to the descendants of — Paddy, to whom a grant of Arms was made in 1591? C. B.

Rayney.—Gilbert Rayney was appointed Incumbent of Saint Mary Stoke in 1626, on the patronage of John Acton, Gent.; in 1662, W. Isaacson was appointed by the Dean and Chapter of Ely. The living had formerly and since been in the patronage of the Dean and Chapter of Ely. C. L. R.

Paddington.

Lawrence or Lawrance, of Colchester.—In Cromwell's 'History of Colchester,' under the list of Mayors, Nathaniel Lawrance appears to have filled that office in 1672, 1679, and again in 1683, when he is styled senr. In 1696 and 1704, N. L. jun. was Mayor; in 1708, N. L. sen. was elected to fill a sudden vacancy; in 1710, N. L. jun. was Mayor; and in 1719 a N. L. again appears as Mayor, in consequence of the death of the then Mayor. I wish to know if all these various N. Lawrances (so spelt by Cromwell) were only father and son, or father, son, and grandson; also, if a J. Lawrence, who was Mayor in 1706, 1711, and 1713, was of the same family, and if there are any of their descendants still living in Colchester. J. S. S.

Notes and Queries.

Legh of Stockwell.—In a MS. book containing abuttals of lands and extracts from the court rolls of the manor of Buckenham's, in West Newton, co. Norfolk, etc. (written, it would appear, in the latter part of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, about 1596), is entered, in the same handwriting, the subjoined note of Legh monuments. The manor of Buckenham came to the Pastons in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. G. H. D.

Stow Bardolph.

In Lambeth Church over against Westminster there are to be seene in tombs of marble and other grave stones covered with pictures & writinges in brasse theese Antiquities followinge of the Lighes of Stockwell, whereof Edward Paston Esquier on his mothers syde is linyally descended.

Inprimis, in a grave stone there is written in brasse, Hic jacet Johannes Lighe armiger quond'm serviens ad Arma cu' Domino Rege: qui obijt decimo quinto Aprilis, Anno Dom: 1445.

There is written in an other grave stone, Hic jacet Rodulphus Leghe generosus serviens et consanguineus Joh'is Leghe de Surrey Armigero qui obijt 1490.

There is also written in an other grave stone, Here lyeth Raufe Legh, the son of Raufe Leghe of Stockwell Esquier, and brother to S^{r} John Legh of Stockwell Knight w^{ch} Raufe Legh deceased the Sixt of November Anno Dom: 1509.

There is also in the said church a very fayre tombe of marble, and there is written upon it: Here lyeth S^{r} John Leghe Knight of the bathe, sonne of Raufe Legh Esquier Lord of the Mannors of Stockwell and Levehurst: and Isabell his wyffe daughter of Otivell Wurseley w^{ch} S^{r} John dyed the xxviij day of August 1523: in the glasse window over the tombe there are theese coats followinge, Langley and Walden matched togither, then Walden & Legh; and after them Legh and Culpeper.

There is in the said church another very faire tombe of marble and there is written on it: Here lyeth Elizabeth late wyffe of Raufe Legh Esquier some tyme Lord of the Mannors of Stockwell & Levehurst, w^{ch} Elizabeth was daughter of Henry Langley of Richinge in the Countie of Essex Esquier, & the said Elizabeth deceased the second day of August Anno Dom. 1479. And the said Raufe was sonne of John Legh of the Rigge Esquier in the shyre of Chester w^{ch} Raufe deceased the towe & twentie of August: the yeare of our Lord 1470, and is buryed in the church of the Abbey of St. Maries at Winchester. Upon the same tombe it doth appeare by pictures in brasse that this Raufe Legh had foure sonnes and nyne Daughters.

Jenney, of Norfolk.—Information required respecting the ancestry of John Jenney, of Norwich, brewer, who went to Holland in his youth. He was, undoubtedly, one of the members of John Robinson's church at Leyden, as his name appears on the records as having been married to Sarah Carey, of Monksoon (sic), England, 1 Nov. 1614. He lived in Leyden for many years, engaged in his occupation as a brewer, but came to America with the third company of pilgrims, in the ship 'Little James,' of which he was part owner, landing at New Plymouth, Massachusetts, 24 July, 1623. From 1636 to 1641 he was one of the Governor's Assistants, and a Representative in 1641.

His character is briefly sketched by Nathaniel Morton, in 'New England Memorial,' p. 66, ed. 1855, where he is said to have been "always a leading man in promoting the general interest of this Colony. He lived many years in New England and fell asleep in the Lord, Anno 1644." D. Judson Jenne.

Shield on Church Bells.—I am wishing to obtain—in common, I believe, with some other inquirers—an explanation of a shield which occurs on some mediæval bells. The bearing is an arrow in pale, point downwards, between three crowns. Was it a coat of arms belonging to some family or place, or is it simply an ornament? I understand that it is not mentioned in Papworth's work. T. P. Wadley.

Phelps Genealogy.—The following is my particular branch of the great Phelps genealogical tree, which I am most anxious to perfect. Any information will be most acceptable to Oliver Seymour Phelps.

No. 2, Phelps Street, St. Catherine's, Lincoln, Canada West, January 25, 1867.

William Phelps was born at Exeter, Old England, about the year 1590; he married there, but whom we know not. He had several children, viz. William, Samuel, Nathaniel, Joseph, and Sarah. He embarked from Plymouth, with his family and brothers George and Richard, on board the 'Mary and John,' on 20th March, and landed at Nantasket (now Hull), Massachusetts, on 30th May, 1630. He pitched his tent temporarily at Dorchester (now South Boston), in the same State, where he lived five years, and, in 1636, removed to Windsor, Connecticut, being one of the first magistrates there. He married at Windsor, for his second wife, Mary Dover, an Englishwoman, in 1638, by whom he had Timothy, born at Windsor, 1 Sept. 1639, and Mary, born 2 March, 1644. William Phelps died at Windsor, 14 July, 1672. His widow died there also on 27 Nov. 1675.

Lieut. Timothy Phelps (the youngest son) married, 19 May, 1661, Mary, daughter of Edward Griswold, by whom he had twelve children, all born at Windsor, viz. Timothy, born Nov. 1, 1663; Joseph, born Sept. 27, 1666; William, born Feb. 4, 1668; Cornelius, born April 26, 1671; Mary, born Aug. 14, 1673, and died March 23, 1690; Samuel, born Jan. 29, 1675; Nathaniel, born Jan. 7, 1677; Sarah, born Dec. 27, 1679, died June 18, 1736; Abigail, born June 5, 1682; Hannah, born Aug. 4, 1684; Ann, born Oct. 2, 1686; Martha, born Nov. 12, 1688. Lieut. Phelps made his will in 1717 and died at Windsor in 1719.

Timothy Phelps, his eldest son, married Martha Crow, Nov. 4, 1686; removed about 1690, with his younger brother Nathaniel, to Hebron, Connecticut. His children, all born at Hebron, were Martha, born Oct. 29, 1690; Timothy, born June 29, 1692; Noah, born Jan. 23, 1694; Cornelius, born March 5, 1698; Charles, born July 26, 1702, and perhaps others.

Noah Phelps, of Hebron, third child of Timothy Phelps, married Oct. 1, 1719, Anne Dyer, by whom he had Noah, born Nov. 21, 1720; Barrett, born Sept. 20, 1722; Elijah, born July 31, 1724; Mary, born May 1, 1726; Hannah, born February 28, 1727; Anne, born Feb. 19, 1730, and others (all born at Hebron).

Noah Phelps, his eldest son, married in 1742, Mary Tillotson. Their children, all born in Hebron, were—Lazarus, born Feb. 17, 1743; Jonah, born Oct. 11, 1744; Peleg, born June 22, 1746, and died Aug. 6, 1761; Mary, born May 7, 1748, died Dec. 22, 1748; Levi, born Nov. 24, 1749; David, born July 11, 1752; Noah, born Aug. 1, 1754; Mary, born Feb. 9, 1757; Rebecca, born Jan. 12, 1759; Sarah, born Dec. 11, 1761.

Noah Phelps removed with his family to the upper end of old Simsbury, Connecticut, since divided and now called Granby, about 1746; thence to Green River, now Austerlitz or Hillsdale, Columbia County, where he died at his son's residence (Jonah Phelps) about the year 1790, aged 75, and his widow died there Oct. 31, 1794, aged 67.

Noah Phelps, seventh child of above, married Jan. 12, 1775, Sarah, eldest daughter of Ephraim Adams, and had issue,—Sarah, born at Granby, Oct. 2, 1775; Noah, born at Granby, Feb. 19, 1778; Oliver, born at Granby, Dec. 12, 1779; Louvisa and Levi, twins, born at Granby, March 10, 1782, the latter of whom died Nov. 8, 1782; Lydia, born at Granby, Aug. 20, 1784; Warren, born at Granby, March 24, 1787; Daniel, born at Granby, July 27, 1791; Anna, born at Austerlitz, New York, Jan. 20, 1794.

Noah Phelps (the father) removed from Granby to Austerlitz in 1792, where he died, June 10, 1795, aged 40. His widow afterwards married Deacon John Topping; she died Dec. 5, 1834, aged 80.

Oliver Phelps, his third child, married Jan. 16, 1800, Abigail, youngest daughter of Lieut. Samuel and Lois (Hamilton) St. John. His seventeen children are as follows:—Amelia, born at Austerlitz, Aug. 6, 1800, died same day; Cornelia, born at Cazenovia, July 25, 1801, died same day; Cynthia, born at Cazenovia, N. Y., July 7, 1802; Orson, born at Fabius, N. Y., Dec. 17, 1805; Almira, born at Fabius, Jan. 8, 1808; Orrinstone, born at Fabius, July 3, 1809, died July 21, 1809; Charlotte, born at Fabius, N. W., March 8, 1837; Oliver Seymour, born at Ludlowville, Jan. 12, 1816; Calvin, born at Ludlowville, March 12, 1818; Mary Ann, born at Ludlowville, May 24, 1820; Samuel, born at Ludlowville, Oct. 20, 1822, died same day; Maria Louisa, born May 3, 1825, died at St. Catherine's, Feb. 1, 1832; Elijah Hollister, born at Centreville, C. W., April 3, 1827, died at Buffalo, N. Y., July 9, 1846.

Oliver Phelps died May 4, 1851, aged 71.

Oliver Seymour Phelps, twelfth child of Oliver, married, firstly, May 16, 1838 (at Lockport, N. Y.), Hester Ann, second daughter of Arnold and Elizabeth Dexter, by whom no issue; she died at Lewiston, N. Y., Jan. 26, 1849. He married secondly, July 31, 1850, Eliza Rebecca (youngest daughter of Job Mount and Lucina) Layton, by whom he has Frank, born at Prospect Place, St. Catherine's, Dec. 1, 1860.

Paddy (page 128).—It may interest "C. B." to know that the name of Paddy occurs for a generation or two, 1671–1765, in the registers of the parish of Weston-under-Lyziard, though I can tell nothing more of the family than the conjecture that they were of a respectable class of tenant-farmers. John R. O. Bridgeman.

Weston-under-Lyziard, Shiffnal.

Palmer of Essex (page 128).—The following extract (translated) from Dugard's 'Admission Register of Merchant Taylors' School, London,' may interest "J. N. C. P.":—"Baldwin Palmer, eldest son of Andrew Palmer, of Royden, co. Essex, Esquire, born 21 May, 1635, admitted 1644." C. J. R.

Calvert (page 127).—I presume "F. G. H. S," is aware that the Calverts who enjoyed the Earldom of Baltimore were a North Riding family. The wills relating to that part of the county were formerly deposited at Richmond, but are now, I believe, either at Somerset House or at Doctors' Commons, London. A volume of extracts from them has been published by the Surtees Society. C. J. R.

Rayney (pages 78 and 128).—"C. J." desires to thank "C. L. R." for his obliging information, which has enabled him to identify Gilbert Rayney and to refer to his will. This will is dated 6 July, 1637, and was proved at Norwich, 11 October following. The testator was buried at St. Mary Stoke, on the 11th July, 1637.

Rayney, Henry, M.D.—Any information respecting Henry Rayney, who took the degree of M.D. at Cambridge in 1725, will be acceptable to C. J.

Fuller of Kerry.—This family claims to derive from Thomas Fuller, the celebrated author of 'The Church History of Britian,' 'Worthies of England,' etc. etc., Rector of Cranford in Middlesex, D.D., and Chaplain to the King (see pedigree of Fuller in 'Gentleman's Magazine' for September and October, 1866) thus:—James Franklin Fuller is the only son of Thomas Harnett Fuller (by his wife, Fanny Diana, daughter of F. C. Bland, D.L., of Derriquin Castle, co. Kerry), who is son of Captain Edward Fuller (by his wife, Elizabeth Blennerhassett), who was the son of Thomas Fuller, of Lee Mount, sometime Treasurer of Cork (by his wife, Ann Purcell, of Gurtenard), who was the son of William Fuller (by his wife, Jane Harnett, of Ballyhenry), who was the son of Thomas Fuller (by his wife, believed to have been a daughter of the Hon. Charles Herbert, of Montgomeryshire), who was the son of Thomas Fuller, Rector of Cranford and Chaplain to the King (by his second wife, the Hon. Mary Roper, daughter of Lord Baltinglass and sister of Lady Denny), who was the son of Thomas Fuller, Rector of Aldwinkle St. Peter's, by his wife, Judith Davenant, sister of John Davenant, Bishop of Salisbury, and daughter of John Davenant (by Margaret Clerke, daughter of John Clerke, of Farnham, Surrey), who was son of William Davenant (by his wife, Joan, daughter of John Tryer, of Clare, Suffolk).

It is stated by Nichols and others that William Fuller, Bishop of Limerick and of Lincoln, was brother of Thomas Fuller, Rector of Aldwincle St. Peter's. The father of the Bishop was—on the authority of Wood's Ath. Oxon—Thomas Fuller, merchant, of London. Of this last Thomas, any information would be welcome. Facts tending to prove or disprove the marriage of a daughter of Hon. Charles Herbert with one of the family would also be acceptable. Catherine Fuller, sister of the Bishop, married — Bligh, merchant, of Plymouth, and became, thus, ancestress of the Earls of Darnley. J. F. Fuller.

Rowe Family.—If the enclosed pedigree and evidences suit the pages of your 'Miscellanea,' they are much at your service. Their interest derives from the fact that John Rowe, who may be called the founder of the family, was an antiquary of some eminence, to whom all historians of the county of Sussex are much indebted.

* The pedigree entered at the Visitation of Sussex in 1634 begins with this William Rowe, who was probably related to the Rowes of Penshurst. Robert Rowe, of Charcott, in that parish, had issue by his wife, Anne Ford, two sons, viz. Sir Thomas Rowe, Knt., sometime Lord Mayor of London, and John Rowe, who was living in 1538, the date of his mother's will. It is possible that this John Rowe was identical with the person of the same name described in the pedigree as of Tunbridge.

† The Tunbridge Registers record the baptism of "Alis, dau. of John Rowe, 4 Feb. 1555," and the burials of John Rowe, 5 Feb. 1560, and "Alis Rowe, Aug. 13, 1562."

‡ The occurrence of the unusual Christian name "Sydney" in the baptismal entry of a daughter of Humphry Rowe (2 Jan. 1585) at Blatchington is noteworthy.

§ Memoirs of John Rowe are to be found in Dunvan and Horsfield's 'History of Lewes,' and also in Mr. M. A. Lower's 'Worthies of Sussex,' p. 315.

‖ The Rev. John Acheson married, 4 Feb. 1604, Elizabeth Milward, a member of one of the most ancient Cinque Port Families.

 I have not been able to obtain positive proof of this marriage, but have strong presumptive evidence in favour of the assertion made in the pedigree.

†† My sole authority for this statement is a MS. pedigree in the Heralds' College (in most other particulars correct), labelled E D N 15 Sussex.

Notes and Queries.

Duncombe.—John Duncombe, the civil engineer associated with Telford in the construction of the Bridgewater Canal, in laying out the Highland roads, etc., is reputed to be descended from the old family of Barley End, Bucks. Can any of your readers furnish me with information on the subject, as I do not find his name in any of the pedigrees at the British Museum? He must have been born about 1740. He was the inventor of an instrument called "Dendrometer," for measuring trees, which is mentioned in the 'Encyclopædia Britannica:' and the author of various treatises and works, viz. 'On the Dendrometer,' London, 8vo, 1769; again, 8vo, 1771; 'New Arithmetical Dictionary,' 8vo, 1774, etc. etc. G. F. D.

Martin, Harley Place.—I wish for information concerning the armorial bearings and descent of Thomas Martin, Esq., who resided in Harley Place, Marylebone, at least as far back as George I.'s reign. He was a Catholic, and several of his family intermarried with the Youngs of Kingerby, co. Lincoln, also a Catholic family. The Martins were allied with the Jenkinses, too, of the same (?) county. Are they descendants of the Martins whose pedigree was given in Part II. of the 'Miscellanea Genealogica'?

(The records of the Bavarian Ambassador's Chapel, Warwick Street, were destroyed, I believe, in the Gordon riots. The family always attended this chapel.)

W. L. Martin.

Cary of Long Melford, Co. Suffolk.—Information is greatly needed respecting a branch of the Carys of Devon which settled at Long Melford in the seventeenth century. John Cary, of Dudley, co. Stafford (a son of Thomas Cary, of Cockington, co. Devon, and younger brother of Sir George Cary, sometime Lord Deputy of Ireland), married a daughter of . . . Norton, and had issue Thomas, of Moushall, co. Stafford, died 1644; Sir Edward Cary, of Stanton, co. Devon, died 1654; George, of Cockington; Dudley (of whom nothing is known); and John Cary, of Long Melford. The last-named, in his will, dated 14 May, 1639, styles himself "of Long Melford, gent.," and mentions his wife, his sons John, Thomas, Ignatius, and another, and his daughters Frances, Margaret, Jone, Magdalene, and Lucy. Margaret married, in 1649, Henry, fifth son of Sir Roger Martin, Knt., of Long Melford, and died in 1712, aged 99; of the other members of the family nothing is known. C. J. R.

Family of Beresford.—I wish to obtain information relative to a family of Beresford, of which I give a pedigree from the Visitation of London, 1634, and to connect them if possible with persons of the same name, whom I shall mention as residing at Little Munden, in Herts, and of whom there are some notices in Clutterbuck's History of that county.

George Beresford, of London, Leatherseller. = Ursula.

Rowland, 1.	Richard, of London, Merchant, 2.	George, 3.	Martin, s. p., 4.	Mitchell, 5.	John, of London, Grocer, living 1633, 7th son of Rowland. =	Mary, daughter of Thomas Stocke, of . . . in com. Essex.	Mary, uxor Ric. Kempton.	Thomas, of London, Haberdasher, 1633. Married 1st Clemence, dau. of Thos Willoughbie, of Bore Place, co. Kent, Esq., 6. =	Mary, d. of George Bostock, of Cheston, in com. Cheshire, 2nd wife.

Rowland, eldest son & heir, æt. 7 yrs.	John.	Elizabeth.	Agnes.	Sarah.

Visitation of London, 1634. Harl. MSS. 1476.

The Beresfords mentioned by Clutterbuck apparently belonged to the Derbyshire family of that name. Glover ('History of Derbyshire,' vol. ii. pt. i. p. 46) says that John Beresford, of Broadlow Ash, married Margaret the daughter of ——, of North Mimms, by whom he had issue one son, Thomas, who died young, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Mary, the latter married — Roper, of Kent, Esq.,—see his monumental inscription at North Mimms, Clutterbuck, vol. i. p. 463. Richard Beresford, who died 14 June, 1643, aged 59, was of London, merchant; by his first wife, Ann, he left issue,—see Clutterbuck, vol. ii. pp. 409, 410; his second wife's name was Bennet. I wish to know if she was the daughter of John Green, of Navestock, in Essex. Richard had a brother John: was he of Rickmansworth, Sheriff of Herts 1657? I have put the above query in as short a form as possible, not wishing to trespass more than necessary on your valuable space. George W. Marshall.

Shuttleworth of Preston.—In Baines's 'History of County of Lancashire' there is the following entry:—"January, 1716. Richard Shuttleworth, of Preston, Hanged on the Gallows Hill, Preston, Lan. October 2nd, 1716. Thomas Shuttleworth, Hanged at Lancaster."

Were these Shuttleworths brothers, and, if married, what were the maiden names of their wives? Lady Cowper, in her 'Diary,' also mentions the execution of a Shuttleworth of Preston. Were these sufferers in 1716 members of the old Lancashire family of the same name? I shall feel obliged by any information on this subject. M. L.

Legh, or Leigh of Stockwell (p. 163).—I am much interested in the extracts given by "G. H. D.," and shall feel particularly obliged if he can let me know the name and family of the wife of Sir John Leigh, father of Lady Paston. I have searched Manning and Bray's 'Surrey,' Harl. MSS. 1433, 1561, 1045, and 2187, and Add. MSS. 14311, but in vain. Perhaps the Inq. Post Mortem might disclose the name. I wish also to discover the name of Sir John's great-grandmother, the wife of John Leigh. The following is a sketch of the pedigree :—

John Leigh, of Ridge, Cheshire, d. 1453. = Alice, dau. and heir of John Alcock.

John Leigh, 3d son. = Dau. of . . . ?

Ralph Leigh, of Stockwell. = Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Langley.

Sir John Leigh, K.B., d. 1523, s. p. = Isabel, dau. of Ottwell Worseley. Ralph Leigh. = Jocosa, dau. of Richard Colepeper.

Sir John Leigh, æt. 21, a° 1523; Inq. P. M. 20 August, 7 Elizabeth, at Guilford. = Dau. of . . .

Sir Thos. Paston, Kt, 1st husband. = Agnes, only child and heir. = 2dly Edward Fitzgerald, Esq.

H. Loftus Tottenham.

Scott Family.—Richard Scott, of the county of Suffolk, landed in Boston, New England, A.D. 1634. There is strong circumstantial evidence, that he was either the son of Edward Scott, of Glemsford, who married Sarah Carter, in 1599, or Richard Scott (a brother of Edward), who married Margaret Harvey, in 1601; both had a son Richard, the former baptized in 1605 and the latter in 1607 (see Glemsford Registers). The Scotts of Glemsford were an offshoot of the Scotts of Scott's Hall, Kent.

Five pounds will be paid any person who will furnish positive proof to the satisfaction of Benjamin Scott, Esq., Chamberlain of London, Guildhall, of the parentage of the first-named Richard Scott. M. B. Scott.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 17, 1867.

Fuller Family.—Any additions to the enclosed pedigree of the Fuller family will be most acceptable. I claim to derive from the quaint old author of 'The British Worthies,' 'Church History,' etc. English writers of his life and editors of his works have never done more in the genealogical way than record the fact that he had a second son, Thomas, who survived him. Of his first son, John, nothing is, I believe known beyond the facts that he also survived his father, was the son by first wife, and edited his father's unfinished work, 'The Worthies.' A letter written to a relative of mine (now living) by the late Archdeacon Rowan, who was for many years engaged in collecting materials for a Genealogical History of Kerry, stating that our family was descended from the author of the 'Church History,' was the first hint I got. I set to work to investigate the matter, and published in the 'Gentleman's Magazine,' for September and October, 1866, the result of these investigations; I shall not, therefore, take up your space by going over the ground again. William Fuller, Bishop of Limerick and of Lincoln, is given as the uncle of the historian, on the authority of Nichols and others. Catherine Fuller, sister of the Bishop, became ancestress of the Earls of Darnley. I have only the authority of the present Rector of Aldwincle for the marriage of Thomas Fuller with the daughter of the Hon. Chas. Herbert, and he cannot—as he states in a letter to me—give me, from memory, his authority. I should like this point cleared up. This Thomas, whoever he may have married, was left, by the death of his father, comparatively poor. His father died intestate and was never rich. He suffered much under Cromwell, and dying the first year of the Restoration, had not time to make a fortune. His son, so our family maintains, went to Kerry and settled there; the reasons why he did so being the strongest, viz. his uncle was Bishop of the diocese; the Governor of Munster, Sir Peter Courthope, was nearly related (see Gentleman's Mag.) to the Fullers; and Lady Denny, of Tralee, was Fuller's aunt. We find his son William actually holding a lease of lands for ever (195 plantation acres, West Kerries) from Colonel Denny. His name appears on the Grand Jury List of the time, and there is on record in the Crown Office, Tralee, an assault case, William Fuller against Sir Edward Denny, from which it would appear that the two families did not very long agree. From this William down to your correspondent there is not the shadow of a doubt as to the correctness of the pedigree. The Rector of Aldwincle, in a letter to me some time ago, stated that he might have been William Fuller the Informer mentioned by Macaulay; but this is disproved by the fact that the Informer's father was a Papist in religion and (I believe) a butcher by trade, and could scarcely at the same time have been the son of Dr. Thos. Fuller and the Hon. Mary Roper. Dr. Fuller had a brother John, and sisters

Elizabeth, Mary, Judith, Margaret, and Ann. Any information about any or all of these will be most welcome. The name of his first wife I also want. Dr. Adam Clarke states that John Wesley's grandfather married a niece of Dr. Fuller,—is this proved? A niece certainly married . . . Boice, merchant, of London,—whose daughter was she? The Rev. A. T. Russell, author of "Memorials of Thomas Fuller, D.D." (1844, Pickering), and who in his work entered more into genealogical detail than previous writers, informs me that he has been unable to discover anything relative to Fuller's brother and sisters and first wife, beyond the mere facts which I give you above.

Challons.—In Westcote's 'Devonshire' it is stated that "The great Earl of Challons had three sons: of the first came the Earl of Spencer; of the second, the Prince of Orange; of the third, Sir Hardwyn Challons, Knight, who married Florence, Lady of Leche and Chaddlewood, and had issue Sir Pierce, Knight, who married Isabel, sister and heir to Hardy de Helion, of Ashworthy, and had issue Sir Ralph, Knight, who married Joan, Lady of Newton Ferrers, issue Sir Pierce, Knight, who married Katharine, sister and heir of Sir John de Cantelupe, Knight, issue Sir Robert, Knight, who married Lucy, sister and heir of Sir Robert Nivet, Knight, issue Sir John, Knight, who married Margaret, daughter of Sir Robert Langford, Knight, issue Sir John Challons, Knight, who married Isabel, daughter of Richard Chuselden, issue Robert, Esq., who married Joan, daughter and heir of Sir John Beauchamp, Knight, issue Sir Robert and Katharine; Sir Robert Challons, Knight, married Blanch, daughter and heir of Sir Hugh Waterton, Knight, and had issue John, who died sans issue; Katharine, aunt and coheir to John, married John St. Aubyn, Lord of Comb Raleigh."

Would any of your readers kindly inform me where I can gather any further particulars relating to the Earl of Challons? Also where I can meet with a more detailed pedigree of the Challons family, with dates and arms affixed? Any information whatever as to them I shall be very thankful for. Heatherglen.

Paddy (page 128).—The Paddy pedigree was entered at the Visitation of London, 1633–4, and is as follows:—

... Paddy.=

Charles Bourchier, M.P.—Can any correspondent of the 'Miscellanea' give the writer information as to the parentage and place of birth, etc., of Charles Bourchier, Esq., M.P. for Armagh, and Agent of the Regiment of Horse commanded by Lord Windsor?

He was buried at Clontarf, near Dublin. The inscription on his monument in the old church there states that he was "of Northamptonshire, died 18th May, 1716, in the 52nd year of his age: Barbara, his wife, eldest daughter of Richard Harrison, Esq., of Balls, in Hertfordshire, died 27th Dec. 1719, in the 51st year of her age: they came into Ireland after the Revolution, with the Hon. General Villiers, father to the present Earl of Grandison and uncle to the aforesaid Barbara; they left two sons and five daughters, viz. the Hon. Richard Bourchier, Esq., now Governor of Bombay, in the East Indies, the Rev. M'Edward Bourchier, of Hertford, and Mary, Barbara, Catharine, Anna Maria, and Arrabella. Barbara was married to Richard Prittie, Esq., of Tipperary; Catharine, to William Yarner, Esq., grandson to Sir Abraham Yarner; Anna Maria, to the Right Hon. Lord Ward of Himley, in Staffordshire; Arrabella died unmarried."

Governor B. had two sons, Charles, Governor of Madras, and James B., of Berkhampstead, High Sheriff of Essex in 1792. The Rev. Edward B. was also Rector of Bramfield, Herts, and was buried in that church in Nov. 1775; by his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Rev. Edw. Gattacre, of Newesley, Bucks, he han ten children: Edward, the eldest, succeeded him as Vicar of All Saints, Hertford, and Rector of Bramfield; Charles B., second son, a Member of Council at Bombay, was of Sandridge Lodge and of Hadley-Barnet; John B., fourth son, was a Capt. R.N. and Lieutenant-Governor of Greenwich Hospital.

Barbara Bourchier's mother was Audrey, eldest daughter of George Villiers, fourth Viscount Grandison, by his wife, the Lady Mary, daughter and coheir of Sir Francis Leigh, Bart., Lord Dunsmore and Earl of Chichester. Jas. Edwin Cole.

Easthorpe Court, Wigtoft, Spalding, 6 June, 1867.

Pye of the Mynde, Co. Hereford.—Can any of your readers inform me who were the wives of Robert Pye, of the Mynde, who died in 1680? On the monumental slab in Much Dewchurch which commemorates his death, the arms of Pye occur between two coats, viz. dexter, argent a chevron between three eagles' legs erased sable, talons gules; sinister, chequy or and azure on a chief gules three ostrich feathers in plume issuant of the first. These coats are respectively assigned to Bray and Drax, and the occurrence of the latter name in the registers confirms the correctness of this inference. Robert Pye had issue, by Meliora Drax, a daughter Elizabeth, who married Henry Gorges, of Eye, co. Hereford, and brought the Mynde estates into that family. C. J. R.

Notes and Queries.

Vavasour.—What was the connection between the Vavasours of Spaldington and John Vavasour, who was owner of property at Cottingwith and Thorganby, near Spaldington? He settled, about 1700, at Oulton, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, and was buried at Rothwell Haigh, 1740, leaving, by Ann, his wife, a large family.

Tunnadine of Ireland.—Wanted, the armorial bearings and any particulars respecting this family. John Tunnadine, of Park, near Limerick, Master in Chancery, and M.P. for Askeaton, 1768 to 1776, married Ann, daughter of Richard Maunsell, and widow of Colonel Taylor; by her first husband she had two daughters, Lady Massy and Lady Carrick. John Tunnadine's sister, and the eventual representative of the family, Ann, married Geo. Vincent, of Parteen House, Mayor of Limerick, 1761. I have seen some plate with the arms as follows, but no colours engraved:—Three crosses crosslet fitched, impaling Maunsell, a chevron between three maunches. Burke, in his 'Armory,' gives Tunnadine quite a different coat. Can the crosslets have been the arms of Colonel Taylor?

Vincent of Limerick.—Was John Vincent, Sheriff of Limerick, 1696, and Mayor, 1703 and 1727, a descendant of John Vincent, who married Katharine, daughter of Philip Brady, of Brenny? See Dugdale's Visitation of Yorkshire, 1665: Vincent of Baronbrough.

Ward.—On looking for any objects of interest in the small town of Leominster, Herefordshire, on the 19th instant, I observed in the churchyard the following inscription:—

"Here waiting for our Saviour's great assize
And hoping thro' his merits hence to rise
In glorious mode, in this dark closet lies
John Ward Gent.
who died Octr 30th 1773
Aged 60 years.
Also Sarah his wife who died
Jan. 30th 1786 aged 75 years.
They whose names are here recorded were maternal Grandfather and Grandmother to the celebrated
Mrs Siddons and Mr Kemble."

Sanderson.—In the baptismal register of Hammersmith is—"1730. September 12th, Anthony Nourse son of Anthony and Elizabeth Sanderson." This Anthony Nourse Sanderson was admitted to Winchester College in 1742, and to New College, Oxon, in 1748; he graduated as LL.B., took a Fellowship, and became Rector of Newton Longueville, Bucks. He married on the 3rd October, 1765, at Hammersmith, Mary, second daughter of Sir Christopher Hales, Bart., and died on the 18th and was buried on the 30th of January, 1795, at Newton Longueville. His widow removed to Hammersmith and lived there for many years, but ultimately resided with her son, Captain Edward Sanderson, of Rose Place, Claines, co. Worcester, where she died and was buried. Information wanted as to the father and mother, Anthony and Elizabeth, of Hammersmith.

Chalons Family (p. 216).—Westcote's genealogical particulars were probably extracted from the Herald's Visitation of Devon, 1620. It may interest your correspondent "Heatherglen" to know that in the inquisition on the death of Philip Cary, 16 Henry VI., the jurors declared that on the forfeiture of the lands of Sir John Cary, the judge, temp. Richard II., his manor of Cockington, co. Devon, was granted, by letters patent, to John, Earl of Huntingdon, after whose death it was granted to Sir Robt. Chalons, Kt. I presume that "Heatherglen" is acquainted with the references to the name of Chalons, in relation to these transactions, in 'Calendarium Rotulorum Patentium in Turri Londinensi,' pp. 238, 241, 245. The Turville (Bucks) branch I am most desirous to inquire about; but any information relating to the family will be acceptable, and may be inserted in the pages of the 'Miscellanea' or sent to myself privately. I especially wish to know the different varieties in the spelling of the name Doyley which occur in documents. T. P. Wadley.

† John Hooke, Serjeant-at-Law, to whom this book-plate belonged, was the eldest son of John Hooke, of Drogheda.

It appears from the first Admission Book of Trinity College, Dublin, that John Hooke entered the College on the 28th of June, 1672, at the age of 17,—he was therefore born in the year 1655,—and it is therein also stated that he had previously been educated at a school kept by a Mr. Edward Jones, at Kilkenny. He did not remain long at College, for by the books of Gray's Inn it appears that he was admitted on the 13th of February, 1674, and called to the English Bar on the 8th of February, 1681, then at the age of 26. He was made Serjeant in 1703,—the date of the book-plate,—and, by the Crown books, acted in that year as first Justice for the counties of Caernarvon, Merioneth, and Anglesea. The Serjeant died in 1712, at the age of 55. He was father of Nathaniel Hooke, the Roman Historian. (Communicated by Noel H. Robinson, Esq.)

‡ Senior Master in Chancery. Baptized at Dowdeswell, 14 October, 1657; died unmarried 9 and buried 13 April, 1734, aged 76, at Dowdeswell. Will dated 10 December, 1726. (See Rogers Pedigree, page 258.)

IMPALING HOPTON & QUARTERINGS.

Family of Bath or Bathe.—I shall be grateful for any information that can be given by any of the readers of the 'Miscellanea' relating to the family of Bath or Bathe, once possessed of considerable estates in the county of Devon. Of this family was Walter de Baa or de Bathe, who was Sheriff of Devon in 1217. His son, Walter de Bathe, filled the same office from 1236 to 1251. His son, Sir Walter, who founded a Chantry in the parish church of Colebrooke, died in 1276, and was succeeded by his son, Augustine de Bathe, who, at his death, left two daughters, his coheirs, Margaret, wife of Sir Andrew de Metstead, and Elinor, wife of Walter de Horton. This Augustine appears to have had a brother, Walter de Bathe, Sheriff of Devon in 1290 and again in 1324, whose son, Thomas de Bathe, in 1350 lost a suit at law respecting an estate with Elinor, wife of John Holland, daughter and heir of Sir Andrew Metstead.

Is anything known of the descendants of this Thomas de Bathe, or of any other member of the same family?

I believe a family of the name of Bath or Bathe has been long settled in Kent; information relating to their origin would oblige. C. B.

Swansea.

Stephen Boyle, of Kentish Town, Middlesex.—I should be very much obliged for any information about the ancestors or descendants of Stephen Boyle, of Kentish Town, Middlesex, son and heir of Alexander Boyle, of Yorkshire, to whom the arms, per bend crenellée gules and argent, were confirmed by Sir William Dethick, 1569, as having been borne by his ancestors. Edmund M. Boyle.

Rotherham of Essex.—Information required respecting the ancestry of John Rotherham, Vicar of Boreham and Rector of Springfield, Essex; also the date of his decease and maiden name of his wife.

He had a son, Sir John, who in July, 1688, was made one of the Barons of the Exchequer, who by . . . , his wife, had issue John Rotherham, Esq., Recorder of Maldon, who died 2 April, 1729, aged 77. A. R.

Northwood Family.—Should any of your readers be possessed of documents containing information respecting the pedigree of the Northwood family, anciently resident at Minster, in the Isle of Sheppy, and neighbouring parish of Milton, they will confer a favour by communicating the same to me. Dod, or Dodd.—Can any of your correspondents enable me to determine to what branch of the Dod, or Dodd family the following coat appertains?

Arms, quarterly of four,—1st, ermine on a fess gules between two cottises wavy sable, three crescents or; 2nd, or a cross formee throughout gules, between four eagles displayed sable, Dixon?; 3rd, argent an eagle displayed sable; 4th, per fess argent and gules, two boars' heads in pale counterchanged, Callant?: impaling quarterly, 1st and 4th, argent a cinquefoil gules, on a chief of the last a demi lion rampant issuant of the field, Weldon?; 2nd and 3rd, or a cross formee throughout gules, between four eagles displayed sable. Crest, a snake entwined and piercing through a garb, all proper.

The names of some of the quarterings I have supplied from my own researches, but am totally ignorant of any connection with those families. The only information attached is "Dodd of Shropshire"; the date I imagine to be somewhere about the year 1790.

The first quarter of the above coat is identical with that belonging to John Dodd, of Smithes Pentrey, second son of Kendrick Dod, of Edge, co. Cest.,—but whose line of descent is not brought down in the pedigree (Misc. Geneal., page 220) later than the time of Henry VII. H. G.

Marriages of the Holbeams of Holbeam, in East Ogwell, Co. Devon.—1. When did Holbeam marry the heiress of Scobahull, of Coffinswell? Lysons gives it as being temp. Hen. IV.—2. When did Holbeam marry a Gambon of Morston, in Halberton, co. Devon? Note. The Gambons were extinct temp. Edw. IV.—3. When did Holbeam marry one of a family bearing these arms: a chevron charged with two dogs (or conies) salient, between three tuns?—4. When did Holbeam marry one of a family bearing, on a bend a two-headed eagle displayed, over all a chevron charged with three mullets? (In all these cases Holbeam is dexter.) All these marriages were before 1480. W. G.

Dallaway Family.—Any additions to the enclosed pedigree of Dallaway will be most acceptable. The arms engraved on the accompanying copperplate are those of Dallaway impaling Hopton and quarterings. The same arms are represented on a large brass shield, probably from a monument in Minchinhampton Church, but now in private possession.

Vavasour.—On a recent inspection of the registers of St. George's parish, in this town, I found among the burials the following entry:—"1719. Sept. 15, Mr Richard Vavasour." Was he a member of the family of that name whose pedigree you gave in the 'Miscellanea' page 193?

Justin Simpson.

Stamford.

Fuller Family (pages 165 and 214).—I send you some additional facts about the family, which may be of interest to some one of the name.

Thomas Fulwar, Archbishop of Cashel, died March 31, 1667; Bishop of Ardfert and Aghadoe in 1641; born 1593; buried in the chancel of St. John's Church, Cashel (the tombstone, with inscription on it, is still to be seen at Cashel). The Chapter Book of Cashel records that he made large leases of See lands (Thurlesbeg, etc) to his son Thomas: one lease is dated 12 Nov. 1664; another, 31 Dec. 1666. I am indebted to my friend John Davis White, Esq. (Author of 'History of Cashel') for the above dates.

Thomas Fuller* (his name is spelled thus in Corporation books of Cashel), of Thurlesbeg, Alderman of Cashel in 1672; married 25 March, 1669.† = Ann, daughter of Revd Zachary Traverse (his will is dated Nov. 19, 1675, proved at Cork).

Zacharia Fuller,‡ of Thurlesbeg. Thomas Fuller,§ of Cashel. Ann.‖ Mary. Sarah.†† Elizabeth.‡‡

A correction is necessary in the pedigree of my family which you inserted in Part V. The name of the mother of my paternal grandmother should be Louisa Goddard (and not Margaret) as proved by her father's will:—

Captn Thomas Goddard, now lying sick and weak in ye city of Dublin. Will dated 21 Aug. 1756; proved 2 May, 1757.§§ = Mary De Molynes (or Mullins).‖‖ Interest of a sum of money settled on her by deed made by her father.

George Goddard. William Goddard. Louisa Goddard. = Revd John Blennerhassett, Rector of Tralee, co. Kerry.

Elizabeth Blennerhassett, daughter of Revd John Blennerhassett and Louisa, his wife, baptized at Tralee, on 17 May, 1772; married to Captain Edward Fuller, your correspondent's grandfather.

I shall be extremely obliged to you, or to any of your correspondents or readers who can, by reference to the 'Gentleman's Magazine' or to old army lists, give me any further information about the above Captain Goddard. I am not certain as to his being of the Queen's County, though I state so in the pedigree given in Part V.,—I took the statement at second-hand.

James Franklin Fuller.

Killeshandra, Co. Cavan.

* Will dated 4 March, 1684, proved 5 Nov. 1705, by which he left a full third part of all his real and personal estate, etc., to his wife, Anne Fulwar, and the other two full third parts to his children—Anne Fulwar, Mary Fulwar, Thomas Fulwar, Zacharia Fulwar (his eldest son), and Elizabeth Fulwar.

† Thomas Fulwar and Anne Traverse were married in ye Parish of St Johns Cashill ye 25th March 1669.—Parish Register, St. John's, Cashel.

‡ Will dated 14 July, 1716, proved 1 Sept. 1716, in which he directs that is body should be buried with his father and mother, in his grandfather's tomb, in the chancel of St. John's Church, Cashel, and constitutes his brother, Thomas Fuller, sole executor.

§ Thomas ye son of Thomas & Anne Fulwar, was christened in Thurlesbeg in ye Parish of St Patrickes Rock ye 15th day of August 1675. Will dated March, 1718; proved May, 1742.

‖ Anne ye Daughter of Thomas & Anne Fulwar was Christened in Thurlesbeg in ye parish of Saint Patrickes Rock ye 12th day of April 1670.

 Mary ye Daughter of Thomas and Anne Fulwar was christened in Thurlesbeg in ye Parish of St Patrickes Rock ye 26 day of December 1671.

†† Sarah ye Daughter of Thomas & Anne Fulwar was christened in Thurlesbeg in ye Parish of St Patrickes Rock ye 27th day of July 1673.

‡‡ Elizabeth ye daughter of Thomas and Anne Fulwar was christened in Thurlesbeg in y Parish of St Patrickes Rock ye 5th day of December 1678.

§§ Mentions his sons George and William and his daughter Louisa, and their grandfather, William Mullins (De Molynes), of Barnham, co. Kerry. Appoints the Hon. Baron Ventry, Thomas Spring (counsellor-at-law), and his wife Mary, executors and guardians of his children, who were then minors.

‡ This gentleman was son of another Powell Snell, who died in 1767. The owner of the plate was alive in 1779, when Rudder published his 'New History of Gloucestershire.' What follows is an extract from that History:—

"Guiting Power.—This manor and estate were the property of William Gardiner, Esq., at the beginning of this century, and were purchased of Mr. Gardiner about fifty years since [i. e. about 1729] by John Snell, of the city of Gloucester, Esq., who marrying Anna Maria, daughter and sole heiress of Robert Huntingdon, D.D., sometime Bishop of Raphoe, by Mary, his wife, sister to the late Sir John Powell, Knight, . . . had by that marriage several sons, of whom the late Powell Snell, was the eldest. . . . In the year 1737 he married Dorothy, one of the coheiresses of Charles Yate, of Colthrop, in this county, by whom he had issue Powell, John, Charles, and Dorothy. . . . He died in the year 1767, and is succeeded in this and other estates by his eldest and only surviving son, Powell Snell, Esq., who resides here."

The plate corresponds with these details; but it also indicates some not given by Rudder.

The escocheon of pretence—carried, according to English custom, for a wife, as heiress—is for Strong.

This Powell Snell married . . . daughter of Thomas Phillipps, Esq., of Eaton Bishop, by . . . Strong, his first wife. Miss Strong was an heiress; but after her death, at which she left this daughter, her only child, wife of Snell, Mr. Phillipps married again and had a son. Thus Miss Phillipps, Snell's wife, was heir to her mother, but not to her father. They solved the difficulty by putting the coat of Phillipps in a canton, as we see it.

Powell Snell died without issue. Sir John Powell, one of the Judges of the King's Bench, died in 1713, and was buried in the Lady Chapel in Gloucester Cathedral, where is a monument to him, presenting his likeness in a statue, extremely well executed. The Judge's sister, Maria Huntingdon, wife of the Bishop of Raphoe, lies buried close by. Her arms, impaled with her husband's, both as seen in this plate, are in a lozenge on the slab which covers her grave. Dorothy Yate, wife of the first Powell Snell, has a monument in the church of St. Mary de Crypt, Gloucester; on it is a shield shewing Snell, Powell, and Huntingdon, and over all an escocheon of Yate, with quarterings. I have a wax seal torn off one of her letters written in 1710. It shows the same Powell quarterings, and an escocheon of Yate alone.—D. P., Stuart's Lodge, Malvern Wells.

* The Maghull genealogy has been copied from an illuminated roll on vellum in the possession of Sir Henry M. Vavasour, Bart., of Spaldington, one of the representatives of the Maghulls of Maghull.

* Of Jenkins. Died between January 20, 1650, and February 3, 1651, and probably buried in the family vault at Barking. There is no entry of his burial in the Register there, which was, however, very badly kept at that time. Susan, his widow, died in 1668, buried at Barking.

† Afterwards Sir Thomas Fanshawe, of Jenkins, M.P. for Essex, 1685. Married twice: first, to Margaret, daughter of Sir Edward Heath (ob. 1674), by whom he had Susanna, his sole heir; secondly, to his cousin Elizabeth, fourth daughter of Thomas, first Viscount Fanshawe, who ob. s.p. in 1728. Sir Thomas Fanshawe died in 1705—the last male representative of the Jenkins branch of the Fanshawes. His daughter and heiress, Susanna, married Mr. Baptist Noel, son of Viscount Campden. The Barking property was sold a few years after Sir Thomas Fanshawe's death. Jenkins is now known as the Manor Farm. The old Fanshawe house was pulled down about 150 years ago: it appears roughly pictured on the large map of Barking manor, made A.D. 1653.

‡ He was fourth son of Thomas Fanshawe, of Ware Park and Jenkins (who died, as above stated, in 1600). William Fanshawe bought the manor-house and estate of Parsloes, in Dagenham, co. Essex, of Edward Osborne, Esq., in 1619. John Gaspard Fanshawe, Esq., of Parsloes (1868), is seventh in descent from William Fanshawe.

§ John Fanshawe married twice: first, Catharine, daughter of Sir Wm. Kingsmill, by whom he had William, from whom descend the Fanshawes of Dengey; second, Alice, his cousin, daughter of Thomas Fanshawe, of Jenkins, by whom, who died April, 1662, he had John, afterwards of Parsloes, ob. 1699. John Fanshawe died in April, 1689, aged 69, buried at Barking.

In the yeare 1644, hee was appointed Secretary at warr to his Ma^tie being then Prince of Wales, whom hee attended into the Westerne parts of England, and thence into Scilly and Guernsey. In the yeare 1648, he was appointed Treasurer of the Navy, under the comand of his Highnes Prince Rupert, w^ch he managed till the yeare 1650, when he was by his now Ma^tie preferred to the dignity of Baron^t and sent Envoy Extraordinary to the Crowne of Spaine. And being thence recalled into Scotland, hee there served in the qualitie of Secretary of Estate, whiche weighty and difficult employm^t hee performed in that conjuncture w^th great satisfaction of all parties, notwithstanding hee never tooke Coven^t nor engagem^t, and thence attending his Ma^tie to Worcester, was at the battaile there 1651, taken prisoner, and brought to London by the Rebells, in which condition hee remained close kept, untill hee contracted a great sicknesse; upon w^ch occasion they gave him liberty upon baile for the recovery of his health, to goe to any place hee should choose, provided hee stirred not ffive miles from the place without theire leave, dureing w^ch time & other vacant howers from busines, he translated Camoen's Lusiad out of the Portuguese; a part of Horace into English; Il Pastor fido out of the Italian; Querer por solo querer, out of the Spanish tongue into English verse; and La pastora fida into Latine verse; besides other Poems & works in that kind, whereof some are printed and some remaine in manuscript. In ffebruary, 1660, he repaired to his Ma^tie at Breda, who there knighted him, and made him Secretary of the latine tongue (in which hee did excell) and Master of requests. In the yeare 1661 hee was sworne one of the Privy Councell of Ireland, and sent Envoy to the Crowne of Portugall, with a Comission dormant to be Ambassador, which hee was to make use of as occasion should require. In the yeare 1662 hee was againe sent to that Crowne with the title of Ambassador, and at his retourne thence, in the yeare 1663, hee was sworne one of his Ma^ties most hono^ble Privy Councell, and tooke his place accordingly; and in January the same yeare was sent Ambassador to both the Crownes of Spain and Portugall; in which time the ffoundation of peace betwixt those Crownes and England was laid by him. His deportm^t during his former employments in those Courts wonne him such high value & estimation with those Princes, that his reception was most splendid and magnificent, exceeding all that were before; which those Kinges declared was done as a particular respect to the person of the Ambassador, and was not to be a president for succeeding Ambassadors.

Notes and Queries.

Vavasour (page 245).—It is not probable that there was any relationship between the family of this name who acquired property, by marriage, at Thorganby, and the Vavasours of Spaldington. John, about whom "W. C. V." inquires, was baptized in 1700, and died rather before 1740, as his will was proved in 1739. He settled at Oulton, but the family had previously resided at Kippax. The descendants are now at Ashby de la Zouch.

Hastings.—A grant of the following arms was made by Dugdale to William Hastings, of Hinton, Northamptonshire, on the 10th of July, 1685, as recorded by Berry, in his 'Encyclopædia Heraldica,' and Robson, in his 'British Herald':—Ermine three lozenges in bend between two bendlets azure; and for a crest, a demi panther guardant proper supporting a lozenge or. Was this Hastings related to the noble family of that name? and what more is known about him than that he was presented to the living of Woodford by the King, married the daughter and heir of Hugh Catesby, of Hinton, and died in 1637, as appears from Baker's 'History of Northamptonshire'? Mr. Beckford, of Fonthill Abbey, quartered the arms of Catesby through his great-grandmother, Mary Hastings (married to William Coward, M.P. for Wells), who was the granddaughter of this William Hastings.

Index.—I am making an index to a set of French heraldic plates, and shall be much obliged to any of your readers who will tell me how I should arrange—under what letter I should place (for I do not want to put the same name in twice)—such names as D'Escoubleau de Sourdis, De la Pierre de St. Hilaire, Barin de la Gallissonnière, Le Tonnelier de Breteuil, etc. etc. Are these names composed of a family name and a title? In the case of "La Beaume le Blanc de la Valliere," to which of the three names do the arms belong.
John Davidson.

Paulet Family.—When did a Paulet marry a Valletort of Clyst St. Lawrence, Devon? or, otherwise, one of a family bearing these arms,—a fesse, in chief two mullets? When did a Paulet marry a family who bore, on a chief a demi-lion rampant? These marriages were before 1490.

Fuller Family (pages 165, 214, 288).—Two corrections are necessary in the pedigree of this family which appeared in Part V., page 215. Jane, wife of William Fuller, of West Kerries, was daughter, not of John, but of William Harnett. Lucinda Herbert is given as granddaughter of the Knight of Kerry—she was great granddaughter.

Bastable Herbert, grandson of Thomas Herbert, of Muckross. = Barbara, da. of Maurice Fitzgerald, Knight of Kerry.

Arthur Bastable Herbert, of Brewsterfield. = Barbara Hutchinson.

Lucinda Herbert. = Francis Christopher Bland, of Derriquin Castle.

Fanny Diana Bland. = Thomas Harnett Fuller, your correspondent's father.

In the will of the above-named William Harnett, of Ballyhenty, co. Kerry, dated 1727, proved 1733, and now in Cork, the very uncommon name of Pellican occurs. His wife was a Miss Pellican. He mentions her and her brother, the Rev. William Pellican. I find that the latter was Rector of Dingle, in Kerry, and that the last of (I presume) his family was a shoemaker in Tralee, and died within the present century. The name, as I am informed by persons skilled in genealogy, is to be found but once on record in a printed pedigree; but I learn from a friend who is interested in the Fuller pedigree that the following was sent, some years ago, to Sir Bernard Burke by a correspondent whose name is now lost, and who asked for information, but without success.

Captain Fuller, an officer (dragoon) in Cromwell's army. =

Charity Fuller (lived to be 103). = Charles Pellican, or Pelloquin (for the names are the same without doubt).

Robert Pellican.

I find that there was a Rev. Conrad Pellican, a Swiss divine, to whom Lady Jane Grey was much attached. Is it unreasonable to suppose that the Rector of Dingle was a relative of his provided for by Queen Elizabeth? I should be extremely pleased to get reliable information about the Pellican family. In 'Notes and Queries' for January last, page 46, I find the following:—

Theobald Wolffhart. = Elizabeth, sister of Conrad Kurschner, or Pellican, as he persuaded people to call him.

Conrad Wolffhart.

I am anxious to obtain not only a clue to the ancestry of the Rev. William Pellican, but also to ascertain what his arms were.

The following dates of wills, etc., confirm the pedigree of my family given at page 215:—

"Jane wife of William Fuller of the Parish of Clogherbrien (West Kerries) was buried at Ballinahaglish y^e^ 1^st^ Aug'st 1741."—Extract from Parish Register.

The will of James Harnett, of Sunday's Well, Cork, Esq., dated 13th February, 1779, proved May 31, 1780, mentions his nephew Thomas Fuller, Mary, daughter of said nephew, and James, John, and Edward, sons of said nephew; testator's nephew George Fuller (deceased) and children of said nephew; "My good friend W^m^ Earl of Glandore." Nephew Thomas sole executor.

The will of Thomas Fuller (above mentioned) is dated 4th February, 1790, proved 12th April, 1791. He mentions his sons James, John, and Edward (your correspondent's grandfather); his daughter Mary, wife of John Falvey, Barrister-at-law. Trustees, John Day, Esq., and Nathaniel Payne (of Tralee), Esq. Testator's three sons and Richard Purcell, Esq, executors.

Edward Fuller, above mentioned, died in 1827, and was buried, as recorded in the parish register, at St. Ann's, Shandon, Cork, on the 12th of October. He was interred in the Fuller and Harnett vault in the churchyard.

In the pedigree of the Hodder family by Sir B. Burke is given a marriage of Ellen or Elinor Hodder with William Fuller, supposed to have been the son of William Fuller and Jane Harnett. I have discovered that the son married his own first cousin, a Miss Hilliard, and in the register of Ballinahaglish Church I find the burial of Jane, daughter of William Fuller and his wife Ellen, June ye 4th, 1746. As he buried his wife Jane Harnett in 1741, I conclude that it was the father, and not the son, who married Ellen Hodder, and that she was his second wife.

William Fuller, Bishop of Limerick, whose name appears in the pedigree, was for some time Rector of Ewhurst, in Kent. The date of his appointment to it was 1641. There is an entry in the parish books (to the effect that he found certain persons named holding certain parish offices there) signed "W. ffuller." On April 4th, 1643, he baptized Thomas, son of Thomas Fuller, citizen and goldsmith of London. For these facts about the Bishop I am indebted to the kindness of the present Rector of Ewhurst. He was Bishop first of Limerick, then of Lincoln. He was born in London in 1608; was educated at Westminster and Christchurch, Oxon; LL.D.; Chaplain to Lord Littleton; Keeper of Great Seal in Ireland; Dean, by Letters Patent, 3rd July, 1660; Chancellor of Dromore, and Treasurer of Christchurch, Dublin, in same year. JAMES FRANKLIN FULLER.

RESTWOLD, OR RESTWOULD, OF THE VACHE, Co. BUCKINGHAM, ANCIENTLY OF LEICESTERSHIRE.—Can any correspondent kindly give me particulars of this family? Edward Restwold of the Vache, in the parish of Chalfont St. Giles's, Bucks, temp. Elizabeth or James I., left (with perhaps more?) two daughters and coheirs, one of whom, Bridget, married Richard Bunnye, of Newland, co. York, and of the Vache, jur. ux.; and the other daughter and coheir married Thomas Waterton, of Walton Hall, co. York: they quartered the arms of Lavache, De Boyville, Murdac, and Rykeden. In 1388 Phil de la Vache was M.P. for Bucks. In 1499 Richard Restwold was Sheriff of Bucks. John de Boyville, of Stockerston, co. Leicester (whose ancestor married the heiress of Murdac (vide Nichol's 'History of Leicestershire,' ii. 916), who died 1467, left a daughter and coheir, Margaret, who married Thomas Restwould, Esq., who had with his wife the manors of Ayston and Wardley and other lands in Rutland and Leicestershire (ibid.). Arms, Per saltire gules and ermine (another coat, argent three bendlets sable).

HANBURY.—Who were the descendants of Philip Hanbury, "generosus," baptized at Elmley Lovett, 15th May, 1582; of Tredethin, co. Monmouth, before 4 December, 1609; married and had issue before 1623? (vide Visitation of Worcester). What was the parentage of Richard Hanbury, senior, "generosus," born 1610, of Panteague, co. Monmouth?

Wanted, an original Survey of the Manor of Eddlogan, dated 10th September, 1635, on which occasion Philip Hanbury, of Panteg, was one of the jury, and Richard Hanbury was returned as a freeholder in Panteg. H.

SAINTHILL.—The original grant of armorial bearings, by Christopher Barker, to Peter Sainthill, Esq., of Bradninch, Devonshire, dated 18 July, 1546, and signed "C. B., Al's Gartier," a small manuscript on vellum, which was among the manuscripts of the late George Pearse, Esq., of Bradninch House,—representative, in the female line, of the elder branch of the Sainthills of Sainthill, Devon,—cannot now be found, and is presumed may have got mixed with articles disposed of at the sale after Mr. Pearse's decease. Any person having this manuscript will be paid two guineas for it, on application to Richard Sainthill, No. 15, Nelson Place, Cork, Ireland.

Vavasour of Spaldington (page 288).—In answer to the question at page 288, whether "Mr. Richard Vavasour," who was buried at Stamford in 1719, was a member of this family, no mention is made in Lady Vavasour's manuscripts of any person of this name at Stamford; but it is not quite impossible R. Vavasour may have been related to the Vavasours of Belwood, of whom we have not any notice subsequent to the time of the Commonwealth. The following entries are taken from the manuscripts collected by Lady Vavasour of Spaldington, now in the possession of her grandson, Sir Henry Vavasour. There were also families of the same name at Bluntisham, in Huntingdonshire, and Wisbeach, in Cambridgeshire; but I give the account of that established at Belwood as it is in Lincolnshire.

Belwood is said to have been a very fine Place but is now reduced to a small Farm-House. Mr Johnston's Seat called Temple Belwood is in the Parish of Belton & formerly belonged to the Knights Templars. There is a Note affixed to the Attested Copy of the Grant of Sr John Mowbray stating that the Freeholders & Commoners had a Trial Verdict Judgment & Execution upon it at the Exchequer Bar in or about Michaelmas term 1652 in the name of Thomas Vavasour a Gentleman of Ancient Family whose Descent from Richard de Belwood is on the other side."

Bruere Family.—I seek information as to the ancestry of a George Bruere, or Bruer, of whom I can give no direct information beyond a slight notice of his name in some fragments, notes, or recollections of his own life, the original of which are said to have been written by Sir James Etheridge, Kt., who represented Great Marlow in Parliament from 1695 to 1716.

Sir James, recording the date of his second marriage (at Bedford, in Hounslow Road, 14 November, 1689), with Frediswide, relict of Sir William Goulston, Kt. (who represented New Romuly in the first Parliament, James II.), second son of Richard Goulston, of Wydial, co. Herts, Esquire, and daughter of Robert Morris, of Abingdon, co. Berks, gentleman, states that Frediswide Goulston (born 14 October, 1675), the eldest daughter of his said second wife by her former husband, Sir William, was afterwards wife of "Mr. George Bruer (also elected M.P. for Great Marlow in the years 1710–13–16), son of Mr. George Bruer, who married my father Weld's sister."

In a previous note Sir James mentions he was the son of James Etheridge and "Mary," his wife, and was baptized in the parish of St. Gregory, 23 February, 1657. He further adds, he "left London on his mother's second marriage, with Mr. Weld, and came to Widbury Hill in 1665." It is probable this entry led to the erroneous belief in the Bruere family that Sir James and the wife of George Bruere, senior, were uterine brother and sister; a supposition certainly incorrect when we consider that George Bruere, junior, the M.P., was himself a father in November, 1701. The registers of Ware, in which parish Widbury Hill is apparently included, do not appear to give any intermarriage between the families of Weld or Bruere. From extracts from the same, the most probable solution seems to be that Mary, baptized 24 February, 1651, third daughter of Alexander Weld (the II. of Widbury Hill), by Anne, his wife, was the lady who married George Bruere, senior. In the burial entries we find that of Anne, wife of Alexander Weld, junior, of Widbury Hill, Esquire, 6th July, 1664; and in the baptismal entries we find that of Jane, daughter of Mr. Alexander Weld and Mrs. Mary, 5th April, 1666: entries which tend to confirm a second marriage of Mr. Weld's in 1665, with the mother of Sir James Etheridge. The following extracts from the registers would still further strengthen the belief that the wife of George Bruere, senior, was the Mary Weld alluded to:—

1678/9. March 25, John Brewer son of Mr George & Mary of London. Bapt.
1686/7. Feb. 4, Mr Hickman Brewere son of Mr Bruere of London, Burd in ye chappel. [Several Welds are buried there.]
1687/8. March 20, Bridgett Bruere dau'r of Mr George & Mary Burd.

These anterior entries, re Brewer, appear, viz.:—

1619. July 26, John Brewer and Agnes Williams mard.
1621. Sep. 9, John Brewer son of John & Ann Bapt.
1623. Dec. 5, John Brewer (Burd).

Also re Etheridge and Goulston:—

1666. Aug. 20, William Etheridge son (query step-son) of Mr. Weld. P. (Burd).
1695. June 25, Alice, Etheridge, dau'r of John, Burd.
1681. Feb. 25, Mr Thomas Goulston Burd.

Besides his elder son George, the M.P., George Bruere, senior, is presumed to have had two younger sons, viz. John and Bartholomew. John, the name of whose wife does not appear, is said to have had a son George, who died a bachelor, and two daughters, Frediswide, wife of a Captain Bonnel, and Mary, wife of a Mr. Cole, both Norfolk or Suffolk gentlemen. No dates or any information whatever beyond these bare facts now remain of this branch. There appears to have been a John Bruere of the Excise Office in 1717. Again, a John Bruer held an office in 1731 for transfer of Bills of the Exchequer —£120 per annum. "J. Bruere" signs a receipt of the Excise Office so late as 7th March, 1750.

Of Bartholomew Bruere not much more is known. He is stated to have been married three times. First, to "a person of inferior station," by whom he is said to have had one daughter, Mary, who married a person of the name of Child. Her grandchildren were, I believe, in the year 1813, discovered in Laleham Alms Houses, near Staines. Some members of the family have surmised Mrs. Child was illegitimate; a surmise questionable, since a search for the next of kin to her half-sister of the second marriage led to the disclosure at Laleham. The second wife of Bartholomew Bruere was "Dorothy Grant (Graunt), a lady of considerable property, closely allied to the Medlicotts and of an old Oxfordshire family." An only daughter also was the issue of this marriage, viz. "Mrs. Henrietta Bruere," who died a spinster, in London, the 4th November, 1813, aged, from her burial certificate at Finchley, eighty-six years. I have seen an old silver seal and the impression of a second, both evidently connected with this lady and her maternal descent: the former bore on a lozenge the quartered coats of Graunt and Medlicott; the latter, a similar lozenge, quartering Bruere and Graunt. Bartholomew Bruere's third wife is said to have been Henrietta, widow of a Mr. Jennings; a marriage kept secret, it is added, as the lady forfeited her jointure should she contract a second. It has been imagined Mrs. Jennings was sister to John Morton, Esq., M.P., Chief Justice of Chester, and of Danesfield, co. Bucks. A very doubtful point, if another family tradition is to hold ground, that the mother of Mr. Morton was "Mary, only daughter of George Bruere, senior," consequently Bartholomew Bruere would thus stand in the relationship of uncle to Mr. Morton and Mrs. Jennings. Bartholomew Bruere is believed to have died near his ninetieth year. The death of a Bartholomew Bruer in Rathbone Place, I have been told, occurred 18th April, 1769.

To revert back to George Bruere the M.P. The Parliamentary Registers of the year 1713 record him as "George Bruere, Esquire, Apothecary, of Covent Garden, M.P. for Great Marlow." The date and place of his marriage with Frediswide Goulston does not appear. The birthplace of their first child, Frediswide, also is unknown; she is said to have been born the 17th November, 1701. Their second child, George, was born in Suffolk Street, 23rd November, 1702, and baptized in the parish of St. Martin in the Fields, the 1st December following. This is the earliest authenticated date of parish registers referring to the Bruere family at present known. The same child was buried in the Church of Great Marlow, "near the communion table," the 11th October, 1705. From the 5th March in the previous year to the 5th December, 1719, nine baptismal entries of children of George Bruere and Frediswide, his wife, are contained in the Great Marlow registers. His wife was buried there 2nd May, 1740, and himself, 1st January, 1743. From the time the family were residents (with Sir James Etheridge) at Harleyford, near Great Marlow, the line of George Breure, M.P., is clearly traceable, though the dates of registers in many instances, and in especial those of the marriages of his three surviving sons, are wanting.

The arms of the family up to the year 1803, as shown by the seals of various members, were, gules two bends wavy or, similar to those of the feudal family of Briwere, founders of Thor Abbey, in Devon. These arms, differenced by a canton vair, were also borne by the ancient family of Brewer, of West Farleigh, co. Kent. Both the Kent Brewers and the Brueres we treat of bore the same crest, viz. out of a mural coronet, a hand and arm, couped at the elbow, habited gules billettée or, holding in the hand proper a battle-axe argent. From a tracing of the arms which still exist in the parish church of Great Marlow, the sleeve apparently is of a dark blue tone, with a sable cuff and tracings across the sleeve; this may be the fault of the painter or a bad imitation of armour.

In the year 1803 the only son of the then elder representative of the family attending an installation of the Knight of the Bath, as an esquire to one of them, we find a regular grant or confirmation of arms issued from the Heralds' College, wherein it is stated that, "the arms borne by the family do not appear, on examination of the records of the College of Arms, to have been registered. These arms are vert two bends wavy ermine, on a canton or five torteaux. Crest, a mural coronet per pale argent and or, therefrom issuing a cubit arm vested gules, cuff of the first, in the hand a halbert in bend sinister." No motto is given, nor does any appear on the older seals.

In closing this query it may be observed, Richard Brewer, of West Farleigh, Esq., had by his second wife, Ann, a son George, baptized 20th November, 1632, of whom apparently there is no further notice in the registers. Also there was a family of Bruer resident in the parish of Brampton, co. Leicester, in the seventeenth century. Of the same and the first-named was John Bruer, Gent., whose will, dated 17th June, 1627, was proved at Leicester, 2nd April, 1628, on the oath of Bridget, his widow and sole executrix. He gives to "John Bruer my naturall sonne 100*l*. & all my books to be payed unto the sayd John Bruer when he comes of 21 years of age, & do give unto my sonne John all my apparel, all the rest of his goods moveables & immoveables to be given to Bridget his wife." This John Bruer was buried 3rd February, 1628, his said son John having been baptized 10th January, 1612. The will of Bridget Bruer, Gent., is dated 16 October, 1650, she being "verie sick in bodie," and is marked, sealed, and signed in the presence of William Grey, Rector, and Edw. George. She gives the remainder of her goods after her debts be paid "to my onlie sonne John Bruer & his sonne George Bruer to be divided equally between them & her desire and request is to M^{r} W^{m} Willoubie little George Bruer's Godfather that he w^{d} be pleased to see that moiety which shall fall to his godsonne to be improved to his onlie use and benefit." To her son's discretion, the church, poor, and her servants, are all left. The question arises, could the George Brewer of the West Farleigh line or the "little George Bruer" of the Branston family have one of them been the George Bruere, senior, whose ancestry is sought for? The birth of either would admit of their having been the father of George Bruere, M.P.? P. B.

Dinham.—Lord Dinham, of Hemyock Castle, co. Devon. One of these Dinhams married the heiress of Arches, or De Arcis. When was this? G.

Sir Robert Geffery, Knt.—Any particulars respecting the descent or family connections of Sir Robert Geffery will be thankfully received. But little is known beyond what is discoverable in his will, from which we may infer that he was of Cornish extraction. He mentions his cousin Rebecca Sowton, eldest daughter of his late brother William Geffery; Abigail and Catherine Geffery, two other daughters of his brother William; Mary Binny, daughter of his late sister Thomasin Randall; and his cousin William Geffery, of Trematon, in Cornwall, etc. Sir Robert received the honour of knighthood at Guildhall, during his Shrievalty in 1673. He was elected Alderman of Cordwainers' Ward, 22 June, 1676; Lord Mayor in 1686; and Master of the Ironmongers' Company in 1667, and again in 1685–6. He died 26 February, 1703, aged ninety-one, and was buried in the church of St. Dionis, Backchurch, where there is a mural monument of white and veined marble to his memory, with the following inscription:—

In the chancell is intered y^e^ Body of S^r^ Robert Geffery Kn^t^

President of y^e^ Hospitalls of Bridewell and Bethlem an excellent

After bequeathing a number of legacies to his relatives and friends, and the sum of £520 to be laid out in lands or houses and the rents applied in a weekly distribution of bread to the poor people of Landrake and St. Erny, in Cornwall, and for the payment of a schoolmaster to teach the poor children of the same parish to write and read English, and instruct them in the Catechism now used and appointed in the Church of England. Sir Robert Geffery left the residue of his estate to the Ironmongers' Company, for the purpose of erecting alms-houses for so many poor men and women as the proceeds of his property would allow and sustain. In pursuance of these directions a piece of land was obtained in Kingsland Road, whereon fourteen commodious houses and a chapel were built for the use of the alms-people, and rules and regulations for their observance were settled by the Court of Ironmongers on the 17th November, 1715.

In 1676, the year of his Shrievalty, Sir Robert obtained from Sir Edward Byshe, Clarenceux, a grant of arms, which are blazoned as follows:—Argent six billets sable, on a chief of the second a lion passant or, langued and armed gules; and for his crest, on a helmet and wreath of his colours a lion's head erased or, billette sable, mantled gules and doubled argent (vide Add. MS. Brit. Mus., No. 5533, fol. 129). It appears, however, by a conveyance of land from the Ironmongers' Company, dated 2 August, 1658, which is signed and sealed by Sir Robert Geffery on their behalf, that at that time and previous to the above grant of arms he bore . . . five billets in saltier . . . a label throughout of three points . . . impaling . . . on a chief . . . three birds, for Cropley.† Crest, out of a mural crown . . . a lion's head . . . This seal, which is represented in the margin, is still in good preservation.

John Nicholl.

* The arms on Sir Robert Geffery's monument are incorrectly blazoned, being argent ten billets sable, on a chief of the second a lion passant guardant or, armed and langued gules.

† The arms given for Cropley of Cambridgeshire, Huntingdonshire, and Clerkenwell, Middlesex, are argent on a chief gules three owls of the field.

REPORT ON THE PEDIGREE OF THE FAMILY OF THE RIGHT HONOURABLE JAMES CRAGGS, POSTMASTER-GENERAL, THE FATHER OF THE RIGHT HONOURABLE JAMES CRAGGS, SECRETARY OF STATE IN THE REIGN OF KING GEORGE THE FIRST.

The Pedigree of the Right Honorable James Craggs was registered in the College of Arms in the year 1691, commencing with Thomas Craggs of Landew in the Parish of Wolsingham in the county Palatine of Durham and of Wysel otherwise Wyserley in the said County, Gentleman, who was living in 1597 (40 Eliz.). His son John Craggs was of Wysel in 1587 (30 Eliz.) and died 31st December 1607 (6 Jac.) having first married Anne daur. and coheir of John Hutton of Hunwick in the County of Durham in 1584 (27 Eliz.) and 2ndly Barbara daur. of Thomas Bellingham of Garthorne in the County of Westmorland Gentleman. She was living in 1605 (4 Jac.) By Anne his first wife he was father of Thomas Craggs, son and heir, of the age of 15 in 1607 (6 Jac.) and was living 1628 (4 Car.) and married 6th Dec. 1630 (6 Car.), Cecilia daur. of John Garthorne of Clesby in the County of York She was buried at Wolsingham 15 December 1665.

It is stated in a note entered with the pedigree recorded as abovementioned in the College of Arms that the descent of this Thomas Craggs was "drawn out of the evidences of that family by Sir William Dugdale Knight, sometime Norroy, and afterwards Garter Principal King of Arms."

Thomas Craggs by Cecilia Garthorne his wife had 5 sons. 1 Thomas who died without issue; 2 Anthony, of whom hereafter; 3 George; 4 William, who is mentioned in a law suit in Trinity Term 1652 before the Upper Bench at Durham [Liber Nicolai Richardson] "for that Jonathan Devereux of Wolsingham Gent. was attached to answer Katherine Shelley, Spinster, because in 1650 he had by slandering her had prevented her marriage with this William Craggs, Gentleman, being a Bachelor of good and honest reputation and of great wealth and substance"; and 5 John Craggs.

Anthony Craggs the 2nd but eldest surviving son of Thomas, was of Fawlies in the Parish of Wolsingham, and was also of Hole House, in that Parish in 1657, as appears by the baptismal Register of his son James. He appears to have sold Hole House and Wiserley in 1683. He married Anne dau'r of the Revd Ferdinando Morecroft of Goswich in the County Palatine of Lancaster D.D. Rector of Stanhope in Wardall in the Bishoprick of Durham and Prebend of Durham, as appears from the Entry in the College of Arms and from a Monument erected to her Memory at Wolsingham; she having died 3 September 1672 and was buried there. On this Monument her husband is described of Holbeck in the Parish of Wolsingham Gent. He is mentioned as the Brother of William Craggs in the suit above mentioned; as also in a suit in the Chancery of Durham in which "I Fetherstonhalgh gentleman was plaintiff and A. Craggs of Hole House in the County of Durham (in which he is called Gentleman) was defendant" concerning a lease of Wolsingham Mill dated 25 Sept. 27 Car. 2 from Bishop Crewe to the plaintiff, and stating that the Defendant had erected a new Mill &c. An issue had been decreed by the Durham Chancery in 1671. He had issue by his wife Anne Morecroft, two sons, James Craggs of Westminster, Gentleman, and 2nd Ferdinando Craggs. James Craggs appears to have been Steward to the Duke of Norfolk in 1684; and from the pedigree in the College of Arms, he was 30 years of age in 1687, which agrees with the date of his baptism at Wolsingham, 10 June 1657. He married Elizabeth dau'r of Jacob Richards, son of Jacob Richards of Watford in the County of Herts, and sister of Brigadier Michael Richards, Surveyor of the Ordnance.

In the memorandum attached to the Pedigree in the College of Arms it is stated that the descent above recited from the match of Thomas Craggs with Cecilia Garthorne was taken by Thomas Holford Esqre Windsor Herald from the deeds and personal information of this James Craggs in 1687, and the pedigree continued down till 1691 when it was entered. In his Monumental Inscription at Charlton in the County of Kent he is described as one of the H. M. Postmasters General, and son of M^r^ Anthony Craggs of Holbeck Gentleman, and died 16 March 1721. He had issue 3 sons; 1 James, who was born 8^th^ and died 22^nd^ March 1684; 2 James, son and heir, who was born 9 April 1686, and became Secretary of State; and 3 Jacob, who was born 30^th^ August 1688, and died 12^th^ September following; and three daughters.

On the occasion of the Registration of the Arms to James Craggs Esq^re^ of the City of Westminster (father of M^r^ Secretary Craggs) in 1691 he produced a pedigree shewing that he was lineally descended from Thomas Cragg who in 27 Eliz. wrote himself of Landew and Wysel, alias Wyserley co. Durham Gentleman, and produced an affidavit of which the following is a copy

"Appeared Personally John Craggs of Newland in the County of Dublin, in the Kingdome of Ireland, Gent. aged Fifty seven years & upwards, And being sworne upon the Holy Evangelists deposeth, that his Nephew James Craggs of the Citty of Westminster is eldest son of his Brother Anthony Craggs of Fawlyes and Wysell al's Wiserley in the parish of Wolsingham in the County Palatine of Durham by Anne his wife the daughter of Ferdinando Morecroft of Goswich in the County of Lancaster, which said Anthony Craggs his brother, was second son & heir to his father Thomas Craggs by Cicely his wife daughter of Thomas Garthorne of Roodford in the County Palatine of Durham aforesaid, which said Thomas his Father was eldest son and heir of his Grandfather John Craggs of Wysel al's Wyserley in y^e^ County Palatine of Durham aforesaid by Anne his wife who was one of the daughters and coheirs of John Hutton of Hunwick in the County Palatine of Durham aforesaid Esq^re^ And this Deponent further sayth that they and their Descendants have allways used and borne for their Coat of Arms and Crest hereafter mentioned Upon a Fess between three Mullets, as many cross crosslets, and for their Crest, on a Wreath a Dexter and a Sinister Arme armed, holding a Sword erected; which Armes and Crest he this Deponent hath now in his possession in a Seale that was his Grandfathers John Craggs of Wysel alias Wyserley, And this Deponent farther sayth, that he hath often heard his Grandfather John say, that he had the said Seale from his Father, an impression of which Seale is hereunto affixed; And this Deponent farther saith, that he hath seen the said Armes on an Ancient Gravestone w^ch^ belonged to their family and which was destroyed and broke to pieces by the Scots in the time of the Civill Warrs: And also that all their Deeds and Principall Writings were lost and destroyed by hiding them in boxes under ground, from the Outrage of the said Scotts, which this deponent very well remembers, by which meanes, the Evidences of their Family was totally or almost all quite lost, And farther this Deponent said not."

A PEDIGREE AND GENEALOGICAL ACCOUNT OF THE FAMILY OF CRAGGS OF WYSERLEY, IN THE COUNTY PALATINE OF DURHAM, COLLECTED FROM REGISTERS, VISITATION BOOKS, AND OTHER RECORDS, BY JOHN WARBURTON, SOMERSET HERALD.*

This Family came Originaly from Craigy Hall in West Lothian in Scotland, From whence several Illustrious Men have Descended, as John Craig or Cragg, A valient Man, and Captaine of the Castle of Kildrummy For David the Second King of Scots Anno Dom. — Who being Besieged by Edward Baliols Followers, upon the advancing of the Kings Forces under the Command of Robert Lord High Steward, and John Randolph Earl of Murray, who Joined a Doubtful Battle with the Besiegers; Captain Cragg issued fourth of the Castle with his Party and gave Victory by a Notable overthrow of King Davids Enemies; amongst whom fell David Cumine Earl of Athole with many of his Friends on the Baliols side.

Neither hath this Family been less productive of Men of Letters For Doctor Cragg the King of Scots Physitien A° 1620 Author of a Manuscript, Intit. Capnuraniæ seu Comet in æthera Sublimationes refutatio Written in Quarto to the Celebrated Ticho Brahe. Also Master Thomas Cragg the Great Civilian who Published a Book Intit. De Scotorum Origine.

S^r^ Thomas Cragg of Rickerton in Mid Lothian an Eminent Lawyer and Advocate to King James VI, was of this Family, and Carried for his Arms, Ermine on a Fess sable three Crescents argent and for the Crest a Chevalier on Horse Back holding a broken Lance in Bend Proper with this Motto Vive Deo, ut Vivas.

The exact time of this Branch Being transplanted into England, doth not appear, But if conjecture may be allowed, it was in the Reigne of King Edward IV, and that John Craig a valient Comander under that Prince at the Battle of Hexham in Northumberland Anno Dom. 1462 was the Beginner thereof. And it is no less Probable, that the Crest which they, at this time use Viz. a Dexter and Sinister Armed Arm Holding a Sword Erected in Pale was then assigned, and the Estates which they have since enjoy'd in those Parts given to them by that victorious Prince.

The Lands which Anciently belonged to them, in the County of Durham are called Landew, Wyserley, Broadwood, Hole House, Small Ease, and Faisley, all lying in a Rich, and Pleasan Valley, called Wardale, in the Parish of Woolsingham, sixteen miles from the City of Durham; at Landew and Hole House there are goodly Edifices Remaining, the former of which is embattled, or Crenell'd on the Top and sufficiently shows its Antiquity, and on a Stone over one of the Doors, the following Arms are in Sculpture Viz. On a Fess between 3 Mullets as many Cross Crosslets which are the Arms they now use and Probably might Descend to them in Right, of some Heiress Inheritrix thereoff according to the Custome of Former Ages bee used instead of the Paternal Coat.

In the 27^th^ of Queen Elizabeth Thomas Craggs was Lord of Landew who left Issue John Craggs. Which John married Ann one of the Daughters and Coheirs of John Hutton of Hunwick and By her had Thomas Craggs, who married Cecelia Daughter of Thomas Garthorne of Roodford in the County Palatine of Durham which Thomas is Registered amongst the Nobility and Gentry of that County in the Visitation Book made by the Heralds Anno Dom. 1615. Which Thomas being a great Stickler in the Royal Cause during the Civil Warr suffer'd much for his Loyalty, in those Ruinous times. His House being Plundered by the Rebellious Party, and the Deeds and Principal Writings of the Family lost, and destroyed, by being hid in Boxes under Ground, to preserve them from the Outrage of the Enemy, and in the End, he was Necessitated to sell the Estate of Broadwood, which was full three Hundred Pounds p^r^ Annum to defray the great losses, and expence, he had been at in the service of his Sovereign. He left two sons, John and Anthony, John setled at Newland in the Kingdome of Ireland, where he was living A° 1688 aged about Fifty seven years.

* The original pedigree is in the possession of the Earl of St. Germans.

Anthony Craggs succeeded his Father and married Ann Daughter of Ferdinando Moorcroft D.D. and Prebendary of Durham By a Grandaughter of D^{r} James Bishop of that Diocess and By her had

James Craggs Born at Wyserley, and Baptiz'd at Woolsingham June 10th 1657. Which James had his First Rudements of Learning at the Free School in Bishop Aukland in the County of Durham. So soon as he arrived at the age of 21 Years He very Generously Join'd with his Father in Cutting off the Entaile and Selling the Whole Estate, to pay Debts which he was no wayes liable to, and raise Fortunes for the younger Children. At the age of twenty three He came to London where he passed through various Employes, untill he became Private Secretary to the Lord Churchill, since Duke of Marlborough. In the year — He was chosen a Member of the House of Commons for the Borough of Tregony in Cornwall, w^{ch} he continued Representative for untill the Year —. In the year 1695 Being One of the Contractors with the Government for Clothing the Army, and Refusing to give the Parliament satisfaction in Relation to some matters, A Bill was passed to Imprisson him, and he was Comitted to the Tower, together with S^{r} Thomas Cooke, S^{r} Bazil Firebrass, and M^{r} Bates.

In the year — He, and the Lord Cornwalles, were made Joint General Postmasters of England, which Post he enjoy'd till his Death, which hapned after a few Dayes Sickness, Dying as it was Generaly thought Heartbroken for the loss of his Beloved Son, The Right Honourable James Craggs Esq^{r} One of his Majesties Principal Secretarys of State, who departed this Life some short time before him. He married — Daughter of — Richards Esq^{r} of the City of Westminster, A Lady much Celebrated for Beauty, Witt, and Parts, By whom He had James above mencon'd and three Daughters which will be spoake of in their Proper Place.

His character. He was a Person of Comely Appearance, very affable, and of a Cheerful and wining Behaviour. He was Remarkable for his Tallent in Reading Men, and by a Peculiar Way gaining on the Minds of those he Dealt with. He was a Person of great Discerning Wisdome and Industry, and his long Experience and Observations in Buissness had compleatly Qualify'd him for the Governments Service. He was an excellent Economist and Manisher of his Family Affairs, and tho naturally Bountifull, and a Lover of Hospitality, yet alwayes avoided Profuceness, and unecessary Expence and to conclude, He was a Generouse Friend, and Indulgent Parent, A true Patriot of his Country, and a hearty Lover of our happy Constitution.

James Craggs His Only son was born in the City of Westminster Anno Dom. — and educated at the Free School in Chelsea. From whence he was sent to Travel, & having visited most of the Courts in Europe, and for a considerable time Resided at Hanover he Returned to England A^{o} — being then — years of age. Soon after his Return from Travel, He was chosen a Representative in Parliament for the Borough of Tregony in the County of Cornwall, which his Father had Formerly served for, And had not sate long in that August Assembly before his Manly tho easy Eloquence, distinguished him, which with the Gracefullness of his Person, and Deacent Behaviour soon made him Acceptable to the Prime English Nobility of both Sexes. What ever subject he undertook to Speake to He never fail'd to come of with applause, & upon whatever Occasion he employed his Pen, He shew'd a compass of thought, a sweet & uncomon expression, & a Perspecuity scarce to be met with. Which great Qualifications soon advanced him to the Favour of his Majesty (an excellent Judge of Men) who made him Paymaster of the Spanish Troops, and his Resident at the Court of Spaine ; and on his being called home anno 1717, He was declared Secretary at Warr, w^{ch} Post, he fill'd with Dignity, and applause, and during his continuance therein, He Successively acquitted himself in many difficult and Important Affaires, For which he was Quallify'd both by natural and acquired abilities. The year following viz. March 16th 1718 He was sworn One of his Majesties most Honourable Privy Councell and one of his Principal Secretaries of State, and in that Nice, Difficult, and Important Post, shew'd all the Prudence, Dexterity, and Sagaciousness, of a most consummate and Able Statesman. And it may be Justly said, He honoured the Post, as much as he was distinguished by it. On the — of February 1721 He was taken ill in the House of Comons, and his Distemper proving the small Pox with Incurable Symptoms, so that the most exquesite care availed nothing; He departed this Life upon the 16th Leaving his Royal Master, his Relations, and Friends, under the deepest and most sensible Sorrow. On the first of March at Night He was Privately Interred in Westminster Abby; The Procession was from the Jerusalem Chamber, The Pall being supported by the Right Honourable Spencer Compton Esqr Speaker of the House of Comons, The Right Honourable Paul Methuen Esqr, Comptroller of his Majesties Household, The Honourable Henry Pelham Esqr Treasurer of the Chamber, The Honourable George Treby Esqr Secretary of War, John Knight Esqr and Walter Plumer Esqr Members of the House of Comons. The Body was Preceded by the Choir of Westminster. From the West Door of the Abby, and being carried up to King Henry the Seventhes Chapell, was there Interred, The Lord Bishop of Rochester Performing the Funeral Service. The Body was laid in the same Vault, where lye those of General Monk, Duke of Albemarle, George Savile Marquis of Hallifax, Charles Montague Earl of Hallifax and the late Mr Secretary Addison.

His Character. He was of a most Graceful size, His Shape, and Mein, excellent; His Features Manly, Yet Beautiful, His looks Open and Gracious, and his Constitution Healthful. In his Conversation, he was Affable, Witty, and Facetious, Very acute, and Penitrating, and of so Even, and Winning a Behaviour, that no Court could have added to the Complisance of his Temper. His Voice was exceeding sweet, tho Masculine, His elocution admirable, which with the strength, and Energy of his Reasoning, made every subject he discoursed upon Harmonious. He was a good Scholer, and Linguist, and not only a Lover of Learning, but Learned men, And tho' his Particular Inclinations was for Poetry, and the Classicks, he was a good Judge, and Bountiful incourager of all the Branches of Literature. He was Brave yet Compassionate in his Nature, and never seemed better pleased then when he had an Opportunity of doing good, and but barely to menc'on His Acts of Charity and Benevolence, would fill a Volume. He was a strict Observer of his Word, and Promise, never disapointing any Person, he undertook to serve, and rather than keep his Suitors in Suspence or disemble with those he could not Gratify, He would soften his Denyals with a Frankness that was no less Obliging. He managed variety of Busness either single, or in consert, with great Dexterity, Ease, and Sufficiency, His Penitration was Deep, his Judgment solid, his Courage undaunted, and by Nature he was formed for a States man, and a Favourite, And to compleat his Character He was a Dutiful Son, a Kind and Bountiful Master, a sincere Friend, A Noble Patron of Men of Merit, and a true Assertor of English Liberty.

He Dyed at the Age of — Years, some Few Dayes before his Father, Leaving three Sisters Viz. Anne Married to John Newsham Esqr of Chadshunt in the County of Warwick, — married to — Trefusis Esq. of — in the County of Cornwall, and — married to — Elliot Esqr of — in the same County.

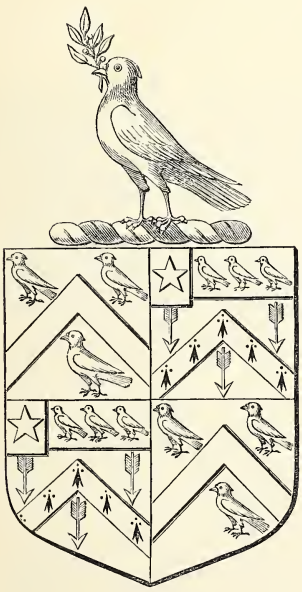
CONFIRMATION OF ARMS, BY SIR JOHN BERNARD BURKE, ULSTER, TO THE REVEREND MATTHEW DAWSON DUFFIELD, CANON OF MIDDLEHAM, VICAR OF STEBBING, CO. ESSEX, 1858.*



To All and Singular to whom these Presents shall come I Sir John Bernard Burke, Ulster King of Arms and Principal Herald of all Ireland, Knight Attendant on the Most Illustrious Order of S^{t} Patrick send Greeting.

Whereas the Reverend Matthew Dawson Duffield† Canon of Middleham, Vicar of Stebbing in Essex and formerly Chaplain to His Royal Highness the late Duke of Cambridge, designated in the official Records of my Office as of Carlton in the Parish of Coverham in the County of York, second and youngest son of the late Richard Duffield Esquire of Theakston in the said County of York, by Anne his wife, third and youngest daughter of Matthew Dawson, and last surviving sister & heir of Roger Dawson of Carlton aforesaid Esquire, hath made it appear to me that the Arms of Duffield originally entered in the Records of Ulster's Office marked "Arms A" page 51. were confirmed to the descendants of his grandfather Thomas Duffield of Ripon in the County York by the late Ulster King of Arms on the 12th January 1848, and hath now applied to me that I would perfect that registration by confirming to him and his descendants the Arms of Dawson to be borne as a quartering with the Coat of Duffield, in right of his mother Anne Dawson, eventually heiress of her brother Roger Dawson of Carlton aforesaid Esquire. Know ye therefore that I the said Ulster King of Arms having taken the request of the said applicant into consideration am pleased to comply with the same, and by virtue of the power to me given by

* The confirmation is in the possession of the Reverend the Count Dawson-Duffield, LL.D., Rector of Sephton, Lancashire.

† The Rev. Matthew Dawson Duffield, F.S.A., died on the 24th of June, 1866, and was buried with his mother's ancestors at Coverham. The Duffields were for a long period owners of land at Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent under the Great Seal of Ireland and by authority of the same have given and granted and by these Presents do ratify exemplify and confirm unto the said Reverend Matthew Dawson Duffield and his descendants the Arms following Viz. Quarterly 1st and 4th Sable a Chevron Argent between three Doves of the last, beaked and Membered Gules, for Duffield. 2nd and 3rd Azure a Chevron Ermine between three Arrows Or, feathered and barbed Argent; on a Chief of the last three Daws sable, beaked and membered Gules: a Canton also Gules, charged with a Mullet of the third, for Dawson. For Crest, A Dove, in its beak an Olive branch, all proper. And for Motto, Esto semper fidelis, the whole as is above more clearly depicted to be borne and used for ever hereafter by him the said Reverend Matthew Dawson Duffield and his descendants according to the laws of Arms without the let hindrance molestation or interruption of any person or persons whatsoever. In witness whereof I have subscribed these Presents and affixed hereto my Official Seal this Twenty first day of December in the Twenty second year of the Reign of Our Sovereign Lady Victoria by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland Queen Defender of the Faith and so forth, and in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.

Kirkby Malzeard, Grantley, and Burton Leonard, near Ripon. A member of the family, who resided at Grantley, is registered in the Herald's Visitation of the co. of York made in 1666 as having married Mary, daughter of James Favell, of Keireby, in the parish of Kirby Overblows. A branch of the Ripon Duffields settled in Ireland. One of the family married Mary, daughter of Charles Willington, of Ballymoney, King's County, Esquire, and it was to his descendants—as well as those of Thomas Duffield, of Ripon—that the arms of Duffield were confirmed in 1848, by Sir William Betham. Besides the marriage of Richard Duffield to Anne Dawson mentioned in the Patent of Arms printed herewith, there were other intermarriages between the Duffields and Dawsons. Thomas Duffield, of Ripon (father of the Richard Duffield just mentioned), married Mary, daughter of Matthew Dawson, of Ilton, and his brother Richard Duffield married—at Kirkby Malzeard, on the 19th of May, 1730—Beatrice Dawson, and left issue Elizabeth Duffield, who married Thomas Walker, Mayor of Ripon 1775 and 1787, by whom she was mother of Elizabeth Walker, who married Thomas Harrison, M.D., of Bishopton, near Ripon, whose brother William Harrison had a daughter Anne, married to William Dawson, of Azerley Hall, who died in 1828. An emblazoned pedigree on vellum, signed by George Harrison, Windsor Herald, and in the possession of the Rev. the Count Dawson-Duffield, LL.D., Rector of Sephton, near Liverpool,—who, by her Majesty's Royal Licence, bears the name of Dawson before that of Duffield,—shows that Roger Dawson, of Carlton in the time of Queen Elizabeth, was brother to Gilbert Dawson, from whom the Dawsons of Azerley Hall, in the parish of Kirkby Malzeard, descended. The ancient arms of Dawson which were allowed to the Coverdale and Azerley Dawsons, under the signature of Lancaster Herald, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, were sometimes borne quarterly with a more modern shield (ermine on a canton azure a stag lodged or), by the Azerley Dawsons. We find on the monumental brass of Anthony Dawson, who died in 1735, the ancient arms quartered with the more modern coat, whereas on the monumental brass of William Dawson, of Azerley, who died in 1640, the modern coat only appears. The modern coat was also sometimes borne by the Coverdale Dawsons, as appears from a seal which belonged to Roger Dawson, of Coverdale, and which is herewith engraved. Another branch of the Dawsons which was of Spaldingholme bore the same ancient arms as those which belonged to the Dawsons of Coverdale and Azerley, but used a different crest, as shown by the engraving which appears with their pedigree. It is singular that the Coverdale branch of the Dawsons became extinct in the male line in the early part of the present century by the death of Roger Dawson, of Middlehim House, co. of York, attorney-at-law; and the branch of the Dawsons long seated at Azerley Hall recently became extinct in the male line by the death of the only son of William Dawson, who was the last of the family connected with Azerley.

Copied from the original Roll in the possession of Thomas Helsby, Esq. The Latinity of the original has been strictly adhered to.

Chaloner, or Challiner, the engrosser and emblazoner of this pedigree, was one of a family long resident in Chester, chiefly employed as herald painters. The design, however, of the pedigree is believed to have been that of Randolph Helsby, who was something of an antiquarian, and, judging from some rough sketches from his pencil, a vigorous and accomplished draughtsman. Below each descent from Jocelyne de Hellesby to Wm. Hellesby and Mabel Vernon is appended the miniature of the descendant and his wife; the husbands are in armour and the wives in the attire of the respective ages in which they lived. Some few of these miniatures are supposed to have been copies of effigies taken from ancient altar-tombs; but the remaining miniatures, from Hugh Hellesby, temp. Hen. VII. and VIII., to Geo. III., are copies of portraits, and, in some cases, of the originals themselves. All are, however, more or less faded. Below each miniature is impaled the shield of arms, and below this again is appended the half-copied charter relating to the particular person under whose name it is written. The charters themselves are sketched as half-rolled up scrolls, and there is a tradition that they were originally copied by Randolph Helsby, whose handwriting at that period it certainly resembles. At the head of the pedigree and immediately below the grand shield of quarterings is the figure of a knight in armour, mounted on a black charger, represented as attired in a surcoat or, sprinkled with sable saltires, with a red cross down the centre of the breast. He bears on his left arm a shield or, charged with a saltire sable. Many representations of banners also adorn this long vellum manuscript, which measures upwards of twenty feet. Although the present pedigree appears to have been engrossed and emblazoned for Randolph, his father, Thomas Helsby, was then alive. It is not known by whom the subsequent additions to the pedigree were made. From the time of Car. I. this document has descended, with other archives, to its present possessor, Thomas Helsby, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn.

Mauleberer Pedigree.

My Pettiegree Collected and Contrived out of myne Ancient & Newe Evidences by me Will'm Mauleu'er Esq^r^* An' R' R'ne Elizab. &c. Quadragesimo Tertio 1601 Ætatis mee Quadragesimo Quinto Aug. xi.

Robert Mauleuerer.

This Rob't is the most Ancient Ancesto^r^ that I finde anie meneon of in myne Evidence, to whose sonne Will'm & Mariott his wife, Will'm sonne of Richard Attwood gaue certaine Landes in Allerton Gleedowe by deed withoute date Witnesses Thom's Chamberlaine of Potter Newton Thom's Wayte and others, So it appeareth y^t^ he had Issue

Will'm Mauleuerer. who maried Mariott the wid. of Ric. Attwood & the mother of Will'm Attwood.

For Thom's y^e^ sonne of Alexander of Allerton released y^e^ mariage of W^m^ Attwood her sonne to her, by his deed bearing date y^e^ sondaie after Martinmas daie An. 6 R. Ed. w^ch^ Will'm Attwood theirfore made the deed last aboue menconed, So it seemeth y^t^ this Will'm Mauleu'er was a younger brother of his father Rob't, And that by this mariage of a wealthie widowe was first advanced. The same Will'm Mauleu'er made a deed of Eight Acres of Land to Agnes y^e^ widowe of Roger Caldcotes dated An. 1336, w^ch^ was about y^e^ tenth yeare of Edw. y^e^ third. To another a lease for ten yeares, to y^e^ Abbott of Christall dated An. 1344 he gave also to W^m^ y^e^ sonne of Ric. Attwood one oxgang of land in Allerton Gleedowe by a deed w^th^out date, which & all other W^m^ Sowter of Scoles & Agnes his wife sister & heire to Raphe Attwood releassed to Rob^t^ Mauleu'er by a deed dated y^e^ Sondaie after S^t^ Andrewes daie An. Ric. 2, 15 he had Issue, Also ther was Will'm Mauleuerer of Potternewton a witnesse to a dede dated a^o^ 1348.

Robert Mauleuerer who maried one Ma'grett. Will'm Mauleuerer.

For it appeareth y^t^ W^m^ sonne of W^m^ Mauleu'er of Potter Newton released to his brother Rob't all y^e^ moveable goods except &c. w^ch^ his mother Mariott gaue hym by a deed dated 35 of Edw. 3 & in y^e^ same 35 of Edw. 3, by deed then dated did Henrie Clesbie, W^m^ Brandon & Ric. Bantree Chaplaine giue to Rob't Mauleu'er & Margrett his wife & y^e^ heires males of their bodies & for default of such his heir one tenem^t^ in Potternewton, And their is one deed from Rob^t^ Mauleu'er to John Amyns th'elder & John yonger Raphe Browne Chaplaine & Ric' Swallowe of all his Landes in Stubboris Moore,

* Born in 1537, and his Inquisition post mortem dated 1609.

Allerton Gleedowe, Allerton & Potter Newton dated An. 43 Edw. 3. whereby yt is playne he had lands in all these townes at that tyme, he had Issue.

Robert, his wife Elizabeth. John of Cussewoorth. & Isabell.

For John Franke & Margrett his wife Entayled certaine Landes to Rob't ye sonne of Rob't Mauleuerer of Newton & for default of heires of his bodie to John his brother & for default of heires of his bodie to Isabell his sister and for default of such Issue to ye heire of Rob't, dated An. Edw. 3. 51. It appearcth yt he liued all K. Ric. 2 daies, for Wm Breareley & his wife Emma made a deed to him of Landes in Moor Allerton dated 22 Ric. 2. And Rob't Harrison of Thorner & Agnes his wife daughter of Henrie Cartwright of Shadwell gaue him & his wife Elizabeth by deed all their Land in Shadwell & elsewhere dated An. 20 R. 2, & Rob't Mauleu'er made a deed to John Amyas John Mauleu'er & others dated An. 1 Henr. 4, And Wm Brearley & Agnes wife of Tho. Brearley his father made a deed to ye sd Rob't & John his brother bearing date An. Hen. 4. 4o, so both Rob't and John were then alyve, And K. Henr. 4 gaue him for his good service done against henrie Pearcie Earle of Northumberland & Tho. Bardolphe & other Rebels ye milnes at Yorke for his life, by his L'res Patentes, dated 11 Maij An. R'ni ejus 9. And his accompt taken of ye Rent. 13 Novembr An. R'ni eius 11. So he was lyving so long, In ye viijth yeare of Henr. 4 John Boswell of Ardesley to whom Tho. Brearley (heire thereof by Ancient Charters to his Ancestors from Mowbray Moorvill, Stutevill & others which I haue) gaue ye same by deed dated at Wothersome Januar. 7 An. 2 Ric. 2. made a deed of Wothersome to ye vse as maie seeme of ye sd Rob't Mauleu'er to certaine feoffees, one whereof was John Mauleu'er ye forenamed brother of Robt, & to his heires dated An. 8 Hen. 4, which John called John of Cusseworth did release all his right & entrest theirin to his brother Rob't Mauleu'er by his deed dated An. 4 Hen. 5, So it appeareth they were both ye brethren lyving so long, And in ye 10 yeare of Hen. 5 did Galfride Tailer & his wife Beatrix heire to John Browne of Moor Allerton make a deede to Rob't Mauleu'er of Wothersome of certaine Land in Moor Allerton, So it seemeth he liued so long, And began to be Mauleu'er of Wothersome, whereas before they were of Potter Newton, And Wm Drighton of Newton made a deed to him & John of Cusseworth of Landes in Chappell Allerton An. 2 Hen. 6 & Wm Killingbeck to him An. 3 Hen. 6, Naie it appeareth plainelie he was living in ye 20 yeare of Hen. 6 for he made a deed to his brother John & others to ye intent they should Enfeoffe his wife Elizab. of Wothersome for her life, Remainder to Sr Wm Mauleu'er his sonne (ye first Knight) & his heires males & for default of such Issue to John & his heire males, Eltofte, Thorner, Shadwell & Brittbie to Rob't ye sonne & heire of Sr Wm afores'd & his heir males & so to John & his heire males & for default of Issue to Sr Wm his sonne & his heire Dated Written at Wothersome ffridaie next after the ascension, An. 20 Hen. 6. wch he made in maner of a will with all, They made ye ffeoffement according ye 22 Hen. 6 to dame Elizabeth, the said Rob't had Issue

Notes to Fanshawe Pedigree,

Communicated by E. J. Sage Esq.

A Katherine, daughter of Thomas, first Viscount Fanshawe, born 1640, died 1726.

[1] Robert Fanshawe.

[2] John Fanshawe was buried at Dronfield, 23rd February, 1578. He was eldest son and heir of Robert Fanshawe, and married Margaret, daughter of Rowland Eyre.

[3] Henry Fanshawe was second son of Robert, though his name is placed first in this pedigree. He first married Thomasine Hopkins, by whom he had no surviving issue. It is doubtful whether the father of his second wife was a knight. See Funeral Certificate of Henry Fanshawe, vol. i. p. 314.

[4] Anne Fanshawe died unmarried,—of this there cannot be the least doubt. On the 2nd of April, 1584, she made her will, in which she describes herself as an unmarried woman, and five days afterwards she was buried in Barking Church. The will was proved by her sister, Susanna Lucy, and by her brother-in-law, Timothy Lucy, in the month of June following her death. The statement that she was married to William Fuller, repeated in the family pedigree and in Lady Fanshawe's Memoir of Sir R. Fanshawe, is therefore altogether wrong.

[5] Timothy Lucy, son of William Lucy, of Charlcote, was of Valence, in Dagenham, co. Essex, and of Hugford Middleton, co. Salop. He died January 21, 1616, and was buried at Bitterley, co. Salop.

[6] Of Ware Park, co. Herts, and Jenkins, co. Essex. See his Funeral Certificate, vol. i. p. 315.

[7] Died in May, 1622.

[8] His first wife was Diana, daughter of . . . Eyre, of Bredway, co. Derby. In the family pedigree it is stated that the whole of his large family were the children of the first wife.

[9] See notes to Extracts from Parish Registers. It may be sufficient to refer to the notes to Registers generally for information of most or all of the persons mentioned in this pedigree.

[10] And of Brittons, in Hornchurch, co. Essex.

[11] Sir H. Fanshawe died in 1616; Elizabeth, his widow, in 1631.

[12] See his Funeral Certificate, vol. i. p. 316.

[13] See Funeral Certificate, vol. i. p. 317. All the existing families of Fanshawe descend from this William Fanshawe.

[14] Died in 1615 or 1616, buried at Rivenhall.

[15] Sir Simon Fanshawe, ob. 1680. See notes to Ware Registers.

[16] Ob. 1665. For particulars of Viscount Fanshawe and his two wives, see notes to Ware Registers.

[17] See his Funeral Certificate, vol. i. p. 318.

[18] Sir Thomas Cambell was of Clay Hall, in Barking, co. Essex.

[19] Catherine died unmarried in 1726. Elizabeth became the second wife of her cousin, the last Sir Thomas Fanshawe of Jenkins, and died in 1728.

[20] Died in 1660, s. p.

[21] Father of Evelyn, third Viscount, and died 1674.

[22] Sir John Evelyn was of West Dean.

[23] Henry Fanshawe was of Dengey Hall, co. Essex, and died, unmarried, in 1685. Charles succeeded his nephew Evelyn as fourth Viscount in in 1687, and died, unmarried, in 1710. Simon Fanshawe succeeded his brother as fifth Viscount, and died, unmarried, in 1716, when the title became extinct.

[24] Died unmarried, at Clerkenwell, in 1694.

COPY OF A MARRIAGE ALLEGATION IN THE FACULTY OFFICE OF THE ARCHBISHOPRIC OF CANTERBURY.

(Subdate of 11 February, 1662–3.)

W^ch^ day p'sonally appeared John Milton of y^e^ parish of St. Giles Cripplegate London gent. aged about 50 yeares and a widdower and alledged that he intendeth to marry with Elizabeth Minshull of y^e^ parish of St. Andrew Holborne in y^e^ County of Midd' mayden aged about 25 years and att her owne disposing and that he knoweth of noe lawfull lett or impedim^t^ by reason of any p'contract consanguinity affinity or otherwise to hinder the s^d^ intended marriage and of y^e^ truth hereof he offered to make oath & prayed Licence to be marryed in y^e^ parish church of St. George in y^e^ Burrough of Southwark or St. Mary Aldermary in London.

* The allegations were discovered by Colonel Chester during a patient examination of the records of the Registries mentioned, and after they had escaped the observation of all other gleaners in the same field.

"Milton had been totally blind for about ten years before his third marriage; and I do not know that any authentic specimen of his handwriting has been found of later date than about 1652. Hence that slanting, blotched signature, with the bad scraping pen, has a peculiar value. I have looked at it with reverent curiosity." (Professor Masson to Colonel Chester.)

Parsons Family.—I shall be much obliged to any of your correspondents who will furnish me with information relative to the family of Sir John Parsons, Lord Mayor of London. I subjoin such particulars as I have already met with.

From Le Neve's Pedigrees of Knight's, Harleian MS. 5802, fo. 26 b :—

"London. Sir John Parsons Sherriffe Elect Knighted at Windsor Castle 15 Aug^{t} 1687. Lord Mayor of London 1703, chosen then and served till October 1704. See if he had not a grt of arms by S^{r} E. Bysh, see my MSS. of Grants & Docketts Segar etc. fol. 100 B.*

"Sir John Parsons of London Sheriff Lord Mayor 170—. Alderman of — Ward, a brewer by S^{t} Katherines his bear famous, called S^{r} John Parsons beer, dyed — day of — 1716 bur. at —. = — daur of Milward a Merchant & had about 6000 with her.

Humphrey Parsons Esq. Alderman of London for — Ward chosen 1720."

By the kindness of Mr. Hart, of Reigate, I am enabled to add the following account from Glover's MS. account of Reigate Priory :—

"Charles Viscount Mordaunt & Avelon in 1681 before he succeeded to the title of Earl of Peterborough, sold the Priory Estate (at Reigate) to John Parsons Esq. Alderman of London who was afterwards Knighted. Sir John Parsons by his will devised this Estate to his second son, Humphrey Parsons, Esq., afterwards Alderman of London. Humphrey settled these estates upon himself and M^{rs} Sarah Parsons his wife for life with remainder to their heirs male, with the Reversion to himself & his heirs; and by his will he gave the same Reversion to his eldest son John. Humphrey Parsons died in 17—, and his son some time afterwards becoming bankrupt, the Commissioners under the Commission of Bankruptcy assigned the Reversion of this Estate, according to the interest John Parsons had therein at the time of his bankruptcy, to William Belchier of London Esquire, John Ingram of Bewdley in Worcestershire Esq^{r}; and M^{rs} Parsons, the mother of John, purchased the Reversion and the same was conveyed to her absolutely by the Assignees & her son.

"M^{rs} Parsons resided in the Priory House till her death; and by her Will dated 10th December 1749 gave it to Sir John Hynde Cotton Baronet and Thomas Towers Esquire In trust to pay an Annuity of £200 to her Son John for life, and an Annuity of £100 to Sarah Dunn for life, and she gave all the Residue of the Rents of the Estates unto her Daughter Ann, the Lady of Sir John Hynde Cotton for Life, and after Lady Cotton's Death she gave the Fee Simple of the Estate to Lady Cotton's Children. But M^{rs} Parsons in 1752, by a Codicil to her Will revoked the Gift of the Annuity to her Son she having settled upon him another Annuity of the same value.

"In 1766 Sir John Hynde Cotton obtained an Act of Parliament 'For Sale of the Manor, Capital Messuage and late dissolved priory of Reigate in the County of Surrey; and also of several Freehold and Copyhold Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments in the Counties of Surrey & Sussex late the Estate of Sarah Parsons Widow deceased for raising money to discharge Incumbrances affecting the same.' And by this Act all the above Estates were vested in Jacob Houblon of Hallingbury in Essex, Esquire, & John Wogan of Gandy Hall in Norfolk, Esquire, and their Heirs, upon Trust to sell and discharge the Incumbrances upon the Estates, and to purchase other Estates which were to be settled to the same Uses as were mentioned in M^{rs} Parsons's Will.

"The Incumbrances upon the Estate were Mortgages to Samuel Vanderwall, Esquire for sixteen thousand pounds, and William Wilson, Esquire, for ten thousand pounds; but more upon this head may be seen by referring to the Act of Parliament in the Appendix.

"All the Estates mentioned in the Act of Parliament were sold by Auction in July 1766, and M^{r} Richard Ireland became the purchaser of the Priory House with about Seventy six Acres of Land at four thousand pounds." G. W. M.

* Where is this MS. now deposited?

Buckingham Family.—Information wanted respecting Thomas Buckingham, who emigrated to Boston, U.S., June 26, 1637, with Davenport, Eaton, Peter Prudden, and others. He went to New Haven in April, 1638, and to Milford, U. S., where he settled, in 1639. It has been stated that he came from Wales, but it seems more probable that he was from Buckinghamshire. The arms, which have been long in the possession of the American family, supposed to have been brought by the first settler, are—or an eagle displayed proper; crest, a stag's head erased. F. W. Chapman, M.A.

Philip Hawkins.—To a conveyance of a tenement in the borough of Tregony, dated 23rd December, 1673, from Edward Cary, of Tregony, son and heir apparent of Nathaniel Cary, of the said borough, deceased, to Charles Trevanion, of Carihayes, Esq., is appended the signature of Philip Hawkins, attorney to Edward Cary (so constituted in this deed). The signature of Edward Cary occurs on the fold. He has, however, used the seal on which are represented the arms of Hawkins,—on a saltire five fleurs de lis,—in all probability belonging to Philip Hawkins. I am anxious to ascertain some particulars respecting the pedigree of this gentleman, who, according to Gilbert, resided at Pennance, in the parish of Creed, and died in the early part of last century, and is said by Tonkin to have been the most wealthy attorney which Cornwall ever produced. Gilbert, in his 'History of Cornwall,' vol. ii. p. 860, states that Pennance was erected by Philip Hawkins, an eminent attorney, the descendant of a respectable family in Devon. He married a Miss Scobell, and had issue two sons and five daughters. John, the eldest son, was sometime Master of Pembroke College, Cambridge; he died 30th July, 1736, and was buried at Creed. Philip, the second son, was a barrister, and M.P. for Grampound; he died, s. p., August 30, 1738, and was also buried at Creed. Should there be inscriptions commemorating these gentlemen in Creed Church, I should feel much obliged for copies.

Vavasour of Spaldington.—The pedigree of this family (vol. i. pp. 193–4) does not correct an important error,—an old one, too, as occurring in Tong's Visitation of Yorkshire, 1530, repeated in Glover's, 1584, and thence into all Baronetages, etc. The founder of this family, John Vavasour, who married Isabel, granddaughter and coheir of Peter del Hay, of Spaldington, is wrongly described as a son of William Vavasour, of Haselwood (Tong's Visitation). This William was inserted in the Haselwood pedigree in Glover's Visitation as husband of Joan, daughter of Sir John Langton, whose real name was Henry, not William: he died 1452 (M. I. Haselwood Chapel), leaving two sons, Henry and William (will. Test. Ebor.).

John Vavasour, of Spaldington, was the younger son of Sir Henry Vavasour, of Haselwood, and Margaret, daughter of Sir William Skipwith, and brother of the above Henry. He is mentioned in his mother's will (Test. Ebor.), and identified by a deed, dated 1 Henry V., entailing the manor of Halton-super-Humber on him and his heirs after his mother's death, remainder to his elder brother Henry, etc. (Lansd. MS. 207 C, p. 628). This manor descended to the Justice Sir John Vavasour, of Spaldington, who died s. p. (Inq. p. m., 22 Henry VII.),—Peter Vavasour, æt. 22 et ampl., nephew and heir, son of his deceased brother William.

To show that implicit reliance is not to be placed on the statements in Tong's Visitation,—Sir Peter Vavasour (then living) is made the judge's grandson, instead of nephew.

The early part of the Vavasour pedigree requires revision throughout the branch of Dennaby descended from Robert Vavasour, who married the sister and heiress of Roger le Breton; and dates will not allow the brother, Mauger, mentioned in the will of Sir Henry Vavasour, of Haselwood, 1311 (Durham Wills, publ. by Surtees Soc.), to be the ancestor of the Vavasours of Denton and Askwith and of Weston. It is very improbable that Maud (ux. 1 Theobald Walter, 2 Fulk Fitzwarin) was even half-sister of John, if explained by the circumstances of the late Earl of Leicester's family. The heir (probably this John, and, perhaps, grandson) of Robert Vavasour was a minor in the custody of Robert de Cockfield, 1231 (Rot. Fin.). A. S. Ellis.

De la Vache, Restwold, and Cheyney.—I have compiled the following pedigree from Lipscomb's 'History of Bucks,' vol. viii. pp. 607, 609; Langley's 'History of Desborough;' Nichol's 'History of Leicestershire,' vol. ii. part 2, p. 916; Dugdale's Warwick, p. 691; Harl. MSS., 1139, 1151, 1391, 1429, 1533, 4630, 5832; 'Calend[m] Inquis. p. Mortem'; 'Memorials of the Order of the Garter,' by G. F. Beltz (Lond. 1841), etc.; and I should be glad to receive any additions or corrections.

Hart of Witney, Oxfordshire.—When William Penn contemplated founding his colony of Pennsylvania under the grant of territory from Charles II., John Hart, of Witney, yeoman (son of Christopher and Mary Hart), resolved to accompany him. At this time he was nearly thirty-two years of age, having been born 16th November, 1651.

In view of his emigration, he, in conjunction with others, entered into a sealed agreement with Penn, on the 11th July, 1681, to purchase one thousand acres of lands lying in the province of Pennsylvania. John Hart was accompanied to America by his sister Mary, who was born at Witney, 1st April, 1658; she died unmarried. Any additional information relating to the Hart family will be greatly esteemed by

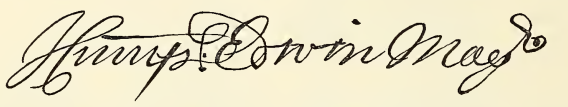
Edwin Family.—Sir Humphrey Edwin, Knt., a facsimile of whose autograph is here given, was son of William Edwin, or Edwyn, Alderman and Mayor of Hereford in 1663,



by his wife, "Anne, descended of the family of Mansfield of repute and antiquity," and grandson of William Edwyn, of the Field, near Hereford, who is said to have been of the family of Edwin of Holmer, which was a younger branch of the ancient lords of the manor of Wistaston, in Marden. He was born about 1642, and having settled in London, became one of the most eminent merchants of that city; served as Master of the Guild of Barbers and Surgeons in 1688; was admitted free of the worshipful Company of Skynners; elected Alderman of the Ward of Tower, Sheriff in 1687–8, and Lord Mayor in 1698–9; married Elizabeth, sister of Sir Jeremy Sambrooke, Knt., and daughter of Samuel Sambrooke, of Londc merchant (descended of the family of Sambrooke of Sambrooke, co. Salop), and by this dame, who survived him till November, 1714 (he himself having died in December, 1707), he had issue—Edith, wife of William Coney, Esq., of Walpole, co. Norfolk,—Anne, who died unmarried and was buried in St. Margaret's Church, Ipswich, in 1761, and a daughter ——, who died unmarried, 15 October, 1736,—and five sons, viz.:—

I. Samuel Edwin, of Llanmihangel Place, co. Glamorgan, who, by his wife, the Lady Katherine, daughter of Robert, third Earl of Manchester, had a son, Charles Edwin, M.P. for Westminster and Glamorganshire, and a daughter, Anne, who became sole heiress to her brother and the second wife of Thomas Wyndham, of Cromer, Norfolk, and Clearwell Court, co. Gloucester, by whom she had John Wyndham, a younger son, and Charles Wyndham, heir to his uncle's large estates in Glamorganshire, Sussex, and Surrey, who took the name of Edwin, was for many years M.P. for Glamorganshire, and left an only son and heir, Thomas Wyndham, of Dunraven Castle, the father of Caroline, Countess of Dunraven.

II. Thomas Edwin, who married, 1719, Margaret, daughter of Sir Francis Rolle, of Tetherley, co. Hants, and relict of Sigismund Stydolph, of Headley, co. Surrey, but died s. p. in May, 1735.

III. Charles Edwin, of Lincoln's Inn, barrister-at-law, who died April, 1724, left a widow, Abigail, relict of Edward Lockey, of the Middle Temple, and daughter of Sir Roger Hill, Knt., of Denham Place, Bucks, M.P. for Amersham, 1679. And by a former wife he had a daughter, Martha, married to Charles Dalrymple, brother to Sir Hugh Dalrymple, Bart.; and a son and heir, Humphrey Edwin, of Lincoln's Inn, barrister-at-law, and of St. Albans, where he died 7 October, 1775, leaving—by his wife, Mary, only child of William Thompson—an only daughter and heiress, Elizabeth, who was married 6 June, 1754, to Thomas Corbett, of Darnhall, Cheshire, and of Lincoln's Inn, barrister-at-law, who had issue, inter alios, William, who took the name of Thompson before that of Corbett, and a daughter, Charlotte, wife of Captain John Bourchier, R.N., whose daughter, Susannah, was married to John Cole, of Easthorpe Court, in Wigtoft.

IV. Humphrey Edwin, of Savile Row, Westminster, and of Berkshire, died s. p., 8 December, 1747, aged 77.

V. John Edwin, of Headley, Surrey, married, 1731, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Roger Bradshaigh, of Bradshaigh, Bart., and died 4 May, 1753, aged 72, leaving an only daughter and heiress, Elizabeth.

As the writer is preparing a memoir of the Edwins, he would be glad if any genealogist could supply him with the connecting links between Sir Humphrey's grandfather and the Edwins of Holmer. Also with the name of his daughter, who died in 1736; of the name and parentage of Charles Edwin's first wife; and the same particulars as to the husband of John Edwin's only daughter, Elizabeth. * The names marked with an asterisk show the commencement of the modern part of the roll, but by whom these subsequent additions were made is not known; they are in a plain modern hand, written some seventy or eighty years ago.

† The names thus marked show the addition of the three last generations in another hand, of a few years later date than the last.

The old part of this pedigree appears to have been engrossed and illuminated in the lifetime of Robert Heskaith, the husband of Mary Stanley and Blanch Twyford, about the year 1594, but by whom there is no record. It is elaborate and beautiful in design and execution. Through the whole length runs an oak-branch, with leaves and acorns, for the male line, and rose and laurel branches for the lines of the heiresses. Behind the roundle of each descent, from Sir William Heskayth (4 Ed. I.) to Robert Hesketh and Mary Stanley (temp. Elizabeth) is a kit-cat portrait, or large miniature painting, of the descendant and his wife or wives, the knights being clad in armour and the rest in the gay and picturesque civilian costumes of the periods in which they respectively lived. Some of these portraits are, doubtless, from old altar-tombs, long since destroyed; but the later paintings—from about Edward IV.'s time or a little later—appear to have been copied from authentic portraits of the several persons represented. These pedigree miniatures are all in excellent preservation, the colours being perfectly bright and fresh. Beneath each descent is a somewhat large square shield, containing the quarterings and impalements throughout,—the grand shield of quarterings, splendidly emblazoned, being at the foot of the pedigree.

This roll is on the finest vellum and of unusual breadth (one foot nine), measuring upwards of eighteen feet in length.

The notes scattered up and down the MS. are valuable additions, particularly that relating to the Harrington family, the information it contains having been looked for in vain by experienced antiquaries. But besides the marriages here mentioned, Katherine married, firstly, Roger Hulton, of Hulton, Esq., and Margaret, another sister and coheir, married, firstly, Christopher Hulton, of Farnworth, Esq. A very rare letter, descended from the Torbocks of Torbock to Thomas Helsby, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn,—the only Lancashire letter of its age that has been published or perhaps discovered may here be given, relating as it does to the families mentioned in the Harington notes, and corroborating the correctness of a portion of them in a remarkable manner:—

"To my Cosyn Rauf Torbok esquier be ths deliue'ed.

"Cosyn I com'ande me vnto you & c[t] And where[s] I am informed by ths bairer William Walmurley that ȝe intend to take for from hym c't'en londs of yours wiche "hath lyne tyme owte of mynde to hs holdyng I hertily pray you to be gudde mayst' to hym in the same so that hee may occupy as hee hath done afortyme: Also I am "informed by ths said bayrer that on' Ienken haurokes of the folds claymeth a way trothe ths bayrer holdyng wiche as hee sauoth ys co'trary to ryght & gude consyons: "cosyn I pray you to speke w[t] the said haurokes so y[t] the mat' myght reste vnto som resonabull day & I schalbe redy to me you on the said grounde & y[t] at oghe to be "downe of ryght schalbe hadde. W[t] loue and fau' cosyn ths bayrer schalbe aftur the de'sses of my lady* haryngton ten . . . my cosyn tressam & his Wyf who hath made "me thayr stuard of all th . . . in ths contr' & therfor I pray you to be gude mayst[r] to ths bayrer . . . for my sake & yf yt lyueth in me to do you Any pleseur I schalbe "as glade . . . owr lorde Whom kepe you.

"Alex' Radcliff."

* Lady Haryngton was the widow of Sir James, and being the daughter of Sir Alexander Radcliffe, would probably be the brother of the writer of this letter. The Tressams were a Northamptonshire family, which facts, together with the appearance, style, and caligraphy of the letter, fix its age pretty accurately at about four hundred years.

The Copie of the restitution of the Armes of Mildmay.

To all and singuler aswell nobles and others to whome these presentes shall come Robert Cooke Esquire alias Clarencieulx principall herold and kinge of armes of the est west and South partes of the realme of England from y^e Ryver of Trent southwardes Salutem. As it is dayly seene that tyme (Destroyer and consumer of all thinges) throwes downe and extinguishes many auntient & honorable families, or by alteringe & translatinge their houses & habitations obscures their worthy races and extractions, that thereby Gods iustic may be felt and mans patience tryed. So comes it to passe as often that the same tyme (mother of truthe) bringeth to light & discovereth to be gentlemen of Longe and Auncient contynuance dyvers whose auncestors (Sondry yeares beffore) were not reputed of such Antiquitic, that therby the same Gods mercy may be sene & his bou'tie praysed. And this to be so I fynd p'ntly manifested in the stocke or Linage whereof S^r Walter Mildmay Knight Chauncelor of the Exchequer and one of the Queenes Ma^ties most honorable privy Counsell is Descended. For proof wherof this day hath his sonne and heire apparant Anthony Mildmay an Esquire of her Ma^ties stable shewed vnto me (in the presence of dyvers other Heralds) such auntient credible and authenticall deedes, Charters, Recordes, wrytinges, evidences, and letters, some Sealed with Seales of Armes aswell of their Auncestors, as of dyvers noble Erles Barons & other great p'son'ges of this Land (namely of Symon S^t lize Erle of Huntingdon & Northampton, of Gilbert Marshall Erle of Penbroke, of Tho^s Hollande Erle of Kent & Duke of Surrey, of Edmond and Humfrey Erles of Stafford, of Ric Nevill Erle of Warwike, of Anne Nevill Duchess of Buckingham, and of John Abbott of Evesham,) As notwithstandinge any doubt that might grow thorough lenght of tyme or ignorance of Evidence, it appeers cleerly that y^e said S^r Walter is by fourtene discentes (from father to sonne) Lineally & Lawfully extracted of the body of a very auncient gentleman of this land called Hugh de Mildmay, whoe (witnesse a deede of the said Erle Symons) lyved about King Stephens tyme, now foure hundreth and thirtie yeares past, and had yssue one S^r Robert Mildmay

* Harleian MSS. No. 245.

Knight, & this Knight one Roger, and this anoth^{r} Roger a Knight, & he S^{r} Henry de Mildemay senior, then he one Raphe de Mildemay, & he another Raphe, and this Raphe one Henry de Mildemay iunior, & he one Robert de Mildemay, & he another Rob^{t}, who had yssue Tho^{s} Mildemay father to Walter Mildemay, who was y^{e} 1 of that surname, being an officer, in the said Anne Duchess of Buckinghams house at Writle in Essex, that came out of the west & dwelt in that Countie: where he left yssue Tho^{e} Mildemay of Chelmsford in Essex father to Tho^{s} of Mulsham, to W^{m} of Barns in Springfeld in y^{e} same countie, to John of Cretingham in Suffolk, and to this S^{r} Walter of Apthorpe in y^{e} Countie of Northampton Knight. And as the continuance of this said gentlemans house hath ben longe, & the discent therof (witnesse the Evidences & Charters aforesaid) most direct & true (being very probable to haue ben a family of Gentlemen longe beffore the farthest tyme aforesaid recyted) So is it as manifest, by y^{e} severall Seales of y^{e} abouenamed Henry de Mildmay senior & Henry de Mildmay iunior now remayning in the Custody of y^{e} said S^{r} Walter fayre & whole at their deedes emongest the evidences aforesaid y^{t} an auncient cote of Armes p'tayneth p'perly to y^{e} same house & family. ffor these 2 being great grandfather on to another, beares therein their Scoutchions circumscript wth their p'per names & surnames 3 lyons Rampynge w^{ch} be azure in a feild siluer, for none els in this land gyves the same: as by most diligent searche made in y^{e} oldest & newest Recordes & Registers of myne office is to be seene & prooved. And therfore (being therunto requested) here I haue delyuered vnd^{r} my hand & Seall of myne office, y^{e} said Armes, as in y^{e} margent herof depicted more playnly is shewed. ffurther for y^{e} better contynewance therof in memory I haue subscribed a pedegree (bearing this date) wherein orderly & verbatin be inrolled all y^{e} said deedes, Charters Wrytings & minimentes in y^{e} custody (as is aforesaid) of the said S^{r} Walter. Vnto whome & his heires & to y^{e} heires of his father, by power & authority to me comytted by l'res patentes vnd^{r} y^{e} great Seale of England, & by vertue of myne office aforesaid, I do by these p'ntes restore, ratify & confirme y^{e} said Armes, y^{t} is to say y^{e} feild argent 3 lyons Rampynge asure, y^{t} he & they y^{e} same may beare vse & shewe foorth in Sheild, Cote armour or otherwise with their due Diffrence, at his or their pleasures according to their auncient & true right, & wth out impediment, lette, contradiction, Challenge, or interruption of any p'son or p'sons what soeuer. Dated at London the 20 of August Anno D'ni 1583. And in y^{e} 25 yere of the reigne of our Sou'aigne Lady Elizabeth by y^{e} grace of god of England france and Ireland Queene defendor of the faith &c.

And I Robert Cooke Esquire alias Clarencieulx Harrold and Principall Kinge at Armes do heere certifye vnto all men, that there is no more cause of scruple or doubte to be conceyved in this sirname of Mildemay for the Alteringe augmentinge or leavinge foorthe of some one letter or other in menns wrytinge therof now at this present tyme, of late yeares or before in any evidences or other wrytings, then in a multitude of other gent' Sirnames of the Lande that length of tyme & errours of writers haue & dayly bringe into y^e^ same case.

And for example almost all those Sirnames that in Auncient tyme ended in Leigh, be now written (for the most part) in Ley; as Audeley for Audeleigh, Stewkley for Stewkleigh, Cholmeley for Cholmeleigh, Chorley or Chorleigh and Rawley or Rawleigh, But which is a greater alteracion then yet came to this Sirname of Mildemay Scrope was aunciently written Scroube, Cecill Cisell and Sitsilte, Dawtrye Daltripe, Davenporte Damporte, Harrington Haverington, Lile Lisley, Lassells Laterells, Peyton Peton, and Turvile Turberuile, And of my certayne knowledge and experience had in my visitacions dyvers yeeres heertofore, there be none of this Sirname of Mildemay Mildmey Mildmay or Mildemey in England, but on this syde trente where beinge a very rare name I fynd them only in Essex, North' and Glouc' & these be all extracted of one family, and be of one self and Same Sirname in pronunciacion & speache. And therfore with their orderley differences may laufully beare (as their auncestors did beare) Argent 3 lions Rampinge asure, As more playnly is specifyed in the restitution of Armes made to S^r^ Walter Mildemay & to S^r^ Thomas Mildemay his nephewe this yeare of our Lord God 1583.

Notes and Queries.

Ripley.—I shall feel much obliged for any genealogical notes relating to the Ripley family. I have compiled a genealogy of the New England Ripleys, but am quite unacquainted with the English ancestry of the race. H. W. Ripley.

Richard Smith, titular Bishop of Chalcedon, is said to have been born in Lincolnshire, A.D. 1566. He died in Paris, A.D. 1655. Where shall I find any account of his family? What arms did he bear? Edward Peacock.

Bottesford Manor, Brigg.

Mauleverer Pedigree (vol. ii. p. 83).—In the parish registers of St. Michael's Church, Stamford, I find the following entry:—"1746. Jan. 8. Jane Withum, daughter of James & Elizabeth Maleverer, bapt." Justin Simpson.

Stamford.

Williams of Aberystwith.—I shall feel obliged if any of your correspondents can furnish me with information relating to the family of Williams, who formerly lived at Aberystwith, in Monmouthshire. The arms of the family are, sable a chevron between three spears' heads argent, embrued proper, on a chief of the second a griffin's head erased vert, holding in the mouth a sinister hand gules. Crest, a demi lion rampant, holding between his paws a shield charged with a griffin's head as in the arms. Motto, Cywir im Gwlad. A. W.

Abbot.—I should be glad of some information respecting the family of Samuel Abbot, whose will, dated 1650, I subjoin. He is described in the Calendar as Samuel Abbot of Surrey. A.

at St. Giles in the Fields September 25 1626, and succeeded his uncle Sir Gawen Hervey at Marks the year following. He was Colonel of a regiment in the Parliamentary army at the memorable siege of Colchester; and appears to have taken an active part against the King during the civil war. Besides the children mentioned in the Visitation, he had by Dorothy his wife, Carew Hervey, baptized at Romford 14 July 1629 and buried there 27 February 1632—William, bapt. 18 September 1634 at Romford; buried there 16 April 1638—Thomas, bapt. 6 December 1635 at Romford; buried there April 20 1639—and Gerard, baptized at Romford September 26 1637 and buried there March 28 1642. Colonel Carew Hervey Mildmay was buried at Romford, August 8 1676. He left no will, and seems to have settled part of his landed property on his son Francis, some years before his death.

‖ Buried at Romford, in the family vault in the chancel, May 16 1667.

 No entry either of the baptism or burial of Gawen Mildmay appears in the Romford Register.

†† Francis Hervey als. Mildmay succeeded his father at Marks in 1676. His elder brother Gawen was probably dead. Mary, first wife of Francis Mildmay was buried at Romford May 16 1655. Her daughter Ann, baptized at Romford in March 1655, was buried there August 14 following. Francis Hervey Mildmay married secondly Mathew, only child and heir of Matthew Honeywood Esq., and had by her a very large family. He was buried at Romford December 7 1703. His widow died at the age of 78 in 1717, and was buried at Romford. Francis Mildmay was succeeded by Carew Hervey Mildmay, his eldest son—born 1658, died 1743—whose son Carew Hervey Mildmay—born 1691, died 1784—was the last heir male of the Essex Mildmays. Jane Mildmay, great-niece and eventual heir of the last Carew Hervey Mildmay, married Sir Henry S^t^ John of Dogmersfield Park Co. Hants, who assumed the name and arms of Mildmay by Royal Licence in December 1790. Marks—so long the seat of the family—was pulled down in 1808. (Several views of it remain.) The estate was sold to the Crown in 1854. Lady Mildmay—the last of that name—died in May 1857, aged 93.

‡‡ Alive in 1701.

§§ Died October 20, and buried October 22 1664, in the vault at Romford.

Family of Butcher.—In a standard biographical work on the officers of the British navy, it is stated that Rear-Admiral Butcher was of mean extraction. This is not true. His direct ancestor, Robert Butcher, was lord of the manor of Ravensden, in co. Bedford, and High Sheriff of that county in 1761. He bore arms, vert an elephant argent. Crest, a branch of a cotton-tree. Motto, "Be steady." His only son was Samuel, who married a Miss Atkinson, of Bengal. The issue of this marriage was, I presume, the Admiral, who married Elizabeth Herbert, and was the father of the present learned and pious Samuel Butcher, Lord Bishop of Meath. Robert Butcher of Ravensden was also of Ickleford, in Herts. Perhaps some of your English correspondents would give some further information about the family, and oblige, yours, etc., Q.

Davies and Heffernan.—Lieut.-Colonel George Lenox Davies, C.B., 9th Regiment, Superintendent Liverpool Recruiting District, fought in the Peninsula, Afghanistan, Sobraon; died at Galway, 1852. A tablet to his memory erected in St. Nicholas' Church by his brother officers, on it a crest; over an antique regal crown, surmounted by plumes, a "Pelican in her piety." No colours given. What were his arms and motto, and what the colours of the crest?

Sarah Davies, born 1708, at Fahy, co. Galway, married James Heffernan, of Glenamaddy, said county. What was his mother's family name? What was his father's Christian name? Were the Heffernans originally from the co. Limerick and their residence Kilbreedy? Francis Robert Davies.

Hawthorn, Black Rock, co. Dublin.

Newman.—Was there a grant of arms to a Newman belonging to Fotheringhay, Oundle, Castor, Tansor, Folkesworth, or any other place in the immediate neighbourhood of Peterborough about the year 1567?

Gaius Newman (son of Gabriel Newman, of London, son of Thomas Newman, of Norfolk) married Anne, daughter of Nicholas Cullum, of London,—had issue seven sons and five daughters, Gabriel, Gaius, Robert, Nicholas, Francis, Thomas, and Hugh, Elizabeth, Mary, Anne, Jane, and Judith, as per monument at St. Matthew's, Friday Street, in the north wall of the chancel. Born 1547, died 1613. What was the occasion of a grant of arms and crest to him on 12th November, 1610?

Sir George Newman, LL.D., of Kent, born in 1562, died 1627. There is a monument to his memory in St. Margaret's Church, Canterbury. How came he with a grant of arms in 1611, for services? What is the motto, and how does the connection with the family of Sir Edward Leeds, Croxton Park, co. Cambridge, arise?

Mrs. Mary Newman, daughter of Edward Newman, of Folkesworth, married to Sir John Conyers, Bart., end of 1675 or beginning of 1676. What is the precise date of the marriage?

Any information of this family of Newman would be very acceptable. F. N.

Cromwell Family and Cornish Arms.—In the beautiful pedigree of the Cromwells given in Camden's Visitation of Hunts, 1613, Sir Henry Cromwell, of Hinchingbrooke (ob. 24 January, 1603), is said to have married Joanna, daughter of Sir Ralph Warren, Knt., Alderman of London, and of Joanna, his wife, daughter and heir of John Trelake, of Cornwall, alias Davy, of London. A shield is introduced by this match, the four quarterings of which I should like to assign to their respective owners:—1, or a chevron engrailed between three griffins' heads erased sable; 2, or a bend ermine between six annulets sable; 3, gules a fess argent charged with three billets gules between three martlets—two and one—argent; 4, argent a chevron engrailed gules between three martlets sable, a mullet for difference. The last are the arms of Croker, but how was that family connected with Warren or Trelake? C. J. R.

Lascelles.—Of which branch of the Lascelles family was John Lascells, an attorney at Horncastle? In 1713 he was elected one of the Governors of the Grammar School, and died in 1724. His widow, Susannah, gave a very handsome chandelier to the church, and two silver flagons. George Lascells, his son, was patron of the living of Fulletley, in this county. In the pedigree of Rythers given in Whittaker's edition of 'Thoresby's Leeds,' it is stated that Susannah, seventh daughter of Robert Ryther, of Belton, Esq., baptized in 1668 and sole executrix of her father's will in 1693, married "— Lascells, of Crowle, co. Lincoln." This, I conclude, is the John Lascells, of Horncastle. Who were his parents?

Thimbleby. R. E. H.

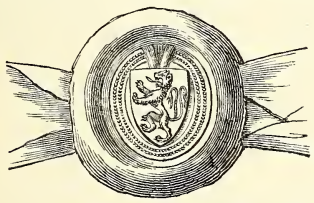
Family of Fuller of Kerry.—In a note at foot of pedigree, vol. ii. p. 130, it states that Catherine Fuller, sister of William, Bishop of Limerick, married William Bligh, ancestor of the Earls of Darnley: his name was John, not William (see 'Burke's Peerage'). The following is an abstract of the will of Thomas Fuller, who married Lucy and not Mary Cannon. This will was proved August 23, 1623, and was dated the 15th of same month: "To my daughters Elizabeth and Katherine, to my sonnes Edward and Thomas, to my brother (in law) Edward Cooke, to the Cordwainers' Company, to my father (in law) Mr Simon Cannon, and to my brother (in law) Edward Cannon" certain sums of money; the "residue of my goods &c. &c. to my deere wife Lucie and my son William, whom I make executors of this my last will and testament." Overseers of said will, John Waterhouse and Abrahame Dunne.

Dr. Thomas Fuller, present Archdeacon of Toronto, mentioned also in note, vol. ii. p. 130, is of the Bandon branch of our family.—His father was Thomas Richard Fuller, who died (being then Brevet-Major in the 41st regiment) in Canada; and his mother was Mary England, daughter of Captain England, of the 59th regiment, and first cousin of Sir Richard England, K.C.B. The Archdeacon married, in 1835, Cynthia, daughter of Samuel Street, Esq., of Niagara, and has issue a numerous family, of whom two sons are married, and two daughters,—Margaret to Rev. D. F. M'Leod, and Elizabeth to J. M'Murray, Esq., of Toronto, barrister-at-law. The Archdeacon was ordained in 1833.

It is stated by William Fuller, the Jacobite impostor, that he derives from Dr. Thomas Fuller (author of the 'Church History,' etc. etc.) through Robert, his son; but there is no evidence to support this statement, nor does the name Robert occur in any of the documents or pedigrees of this branch of the family. All the published lives and memoirs of Dr. Fuller give him but two sons,—John, by his first wife (whose name has never been discovered), and Thomas, by his second wife, the Hon. Mary Roper, from whom derives

James Franklin Fuller.

Mosley of the Houghe, Co. Lanc.—Anne Mosley, of the Houghe, in the county of Lancaster, widow, late wife of Rowland Mosley, late of the Houghe, Esquire, by deed, dated 20 September, 1619, grants to her brother-in-law, Humfray Davenporte, of Sutton, co. Chester, in consideration of the sum of £100, all those closes and parcels of land in Sutton, late or heretofore in the tenures of John Brodhurst of the Mylne, and of



Wm. Brodhurst, his son, both deceased. On the fold of the deed is the signature of Anne Mosley; the seal used by her is also appended. It bears the double-queued lion or, her own family coat, she being one of the daughters and coheirs of Sutton.

The Mosley pedigree occurs in St. George's Visitation of Lancashire, 1613.

Sheers Family.—One of the Sheers family was created Baronet by King Charles II., October 16, 1684. The title, however, became extinct before 1727. The family seat was at Slyfield House, Surrey. C. G.

Evershed.—I shall be grateful for any notices of Eversheds, either of present or past times. The first record hitherto met with is of William de Evereshevd, in Wodetone, Okklee, Surrey (see No. 1004 Additional Charters, British Museum). The family resided for many generations in Ockley, becoming extinct (?) in that line in 1721. They appear in the adjoining parish of Warnham, in Sussex, before 1600, and the existing families, I suppose, have all descended from the Warnham Eversheds; this, however, is disputed by some branches of the family. Samuel Evershed.

Eastbourne, Sussex.

Rainsborough, or Rainborowe.—Thomas Rainborowe, a Lieut.-Colonel in the Parliamentary army, was killed at Doncaster, October, 1648. His wife's Christian name was Margaret. They had a son William, and other issue. I am anxious to know who Margaret Rainborowe was, what children he had, and who they married, if they arrived at maturity. Edward Peacock.

Family of Milborne of Herefordshire.—In the Harleian MS. 6596, folio 72, is the following curious statement:—

"The Milbornes came out of Lincolnshire. King Edward V. and Sir Piers Milborne descended of two sisters. The Milbornes came of one Isett, and Sir Piers was one of Lord Beauchamp's heirs and Chancellor to the King of England, which Sir Piers married the d. and h. of Sir John Alesford, or Ausanne, K^t^, Lord of Tillington, in the parish of Burghill, co. Hereford. The said Sir John received the King into his house, and kept him certain days at his own cost and charges. Sir Piers had a son of the aforesaid daughter, which hight Sir John Milborne. He married the d. of Sir Walter Devereux, of Weobley; This doth appeare on a faire tombe in the parish church of Burghill in this inscription. 'Here lieth the bodies of Sir John Milborne and Elizabeth, his wife, daughter of the most honorable knight of England, Sir Walter Devereux, who was slain at the great battle of Pilleth.'

"Of the said Sir John and Elizabeth came Sir Simon Milborne. Sir John Baskerville, Lord of Erdesley, and Sir Ralph Baskerville are brothers: the mother of them was the daughter of the Lord Audeleigh [note in the margin, "not soe in the pedigree of the Baskervilles"], whose mother was one of the daughters of the Earl of Arundel. Ralph married the d. & h. of Sir John Blackett, in Cotswold, at a place called Icombe, whose d. & h. Jane, Simon Milborne married, and one son and 13 daughters. The son and 2 daughters died without issue. Simon Milborne knowing the goodness of his title and pedigree, went to law with King Henry VIII. and recovered an advowson of £50, and against the king,—the king to give it on one vacancy, and Sir Simon on another. Sir Edward Milborne inherited the lands of Sir John Alesford, Sir John Oldcastle, and Sir John Blackett, Knights."

The above paper has already been the subject of a brief inquiry in 'Notes and Queries,' but has received no elucidation. As the thirteen coheiresses all married into good Herefordshire families (two single ones excepted), it might be interesting to verify, if possible, some of the above remarkable statements.

Can any of your readers elucidate the connection with Edward V.,—the heirship of Lord Beauchamp,—which of the Kings of England Sir John Alesford entertained,—and when and where is any account to be found of the Lincolnshire ancestors of the Milbornes?

W. G. B.

Milborne of Herefordshire.—On the evidence of Harl. MS. 1995, fo. 165, it would appear that this family is descended, by a female, from the Berkeleys of Dursley. The pedigree is as follows:—

Sir John Blackett, Knight.=Margaret, d. of Sir John Berkeley, Knight.

Margaret d. & h.=Ralph Baskerville, of Erdesley, Kt.

Jane, d. & sole heir of Ralph.=Sir Simon Milborne, Kt.

The above receives a degree of confirmation from the following inq. p. mortem of 8 Henry V.:—"Margaret quæ fuit uxor Johannis Blackett, Chevalier." Then, after enumerating four separate manors and messuages in Somersetshire, the inquisition adds, "Dodemarton or Dedmarton Maner' ut de honore Glocester."

From Rudder's 'History of Gloucester,' "Doddington Manor," it appears, was held by Robert de Berkeley and his descendants of the honour of Gloucester, according to the records of 47 H. III., 21 Ed. III., and 4 Henry IV. It was held by William de Berkeley, 5 Ed. III.; by John de Berkeley, 19 & 22 Ed. III.; by Sir Nicholas Berkeley, his son, together with one messuage and two yard lands, 6 Rich. II.; Maud, widow of Robert de Cantelupe and daughter and surviving heir of Sir John Berkeley, was served of this manor, 4 Henry IV.; as was Margaret, the widow of Sir John Blackett, 8 Henry V.

Perhaps some of your readers may be acquainted with some other evidences which might confirm, what appears to be probable, that Margaret was daughter and coheiress of Sir John Berkeley and sister of Maud.

Gorge and Newton Families (vol. i. p. 78).—Sir Thomas Newton married Margaret Gorge, daughter of Sir Edmond Gorge, of Wraxhall, Somerset. Sir John Newton married Margaret Pointz. Sir Henry Newton married Catherine Paston. Sir Theodore Newton married Penelope Rodney. This Sir Theodore was Lord of Bitten, in Gloucestershire, in 1608. The Newton family, 22 Ed. IV., became possessed of the manor of Bitten, in Gloucestershire.

Know all men by these presents that I Abigail Dikes Wife of Tho. Dikes Esq., and the only surviving daughter and heir of Albanaugh Fetherston of Fetherston Haugh in Northumberland Esq^r^ do hereby certifie and declare that I do acknowledge and owne the Family of Fetherston's of Packwood in the county of Warwick to be a branch of our Family of Fetherstonhaugh. I having been told by my Father M^r^ Albanaugh Fetherston that there was a tradition which came to him from his Ancestors that there were three brothers which removed from our Family as Souldiers and did settle their abodes, the one in Lincolnshire, one in Warwickshire and one in Surrey, which tradition hath alwaies been believed by our Family as an undoubted truth. And for the better satisfaction of that King of Armes in whose province the County of Warwick doth belong, I do give full power and authority to John Fetherston of Packwood in the county of Warwick Esq^r^ to shew the Coat of Armes of my Family as it hath been anciently used, with such proper distinctions as the King of Armes or his im'ediate deputy shall think fit In testimony whereof I have sett to my hand and seal.

Laughton Family.—In the year 1858 there was placed in the south-west chapel of the parish church of St. Botolph, Boston, co. Lincoln, a large stained glass memorial-window (executed by Ballantyne, of Edinburgh, and designed by J. H. Thomas, the eminent sculptor and architect), erected, as an inscription at the base testifies,—

> "In grateful memory of John Laughton, who founded a school "in this borough for the education of the sons of poor freemen, A.D. "mdcevii. This window was contributed by freemen & freemen's "sons mdccclviii. He is buried (as is supposed) within the walls of "this chapel."

I am desirous of further information than given in the preceding brief description of this John Laughton, as well as of his ancestors and descendants. So far as I have been able to make research, there is no Lincolnshire family of any importance of this name. It is possible he may have been a grandson of Charles Laughton (lineally descended from the elder branch of the Laughton family, which had been settled at Thropum, in par. of Laughton-en-le-Morthing, co. York, in and previously to time of Henry VIII.), of Howorth Grange, nr. Rotherham, co. York, Esq., and Rosamund, his wife, dau. of Anthony Hatfield, of Laughton-en-le-Morthing, Esq.; he died Sept. 12, 1686, having issue—John, of Howorth, his eldest son and heir, married April, 1685, to Dorcas, dau. of George Westby (grandson of George Westby, of Ravenfield, co. York, Esq., descended in a direct line from Ralph Westby, of Ravenfield, Esq., temp. Henry III.), of Gilthwaite, Esq., but (his only issue, John, having predeceased him) ob. s. p. 1687, æt. 34; and five other sons, Jonathan, William, Joseph (ob. 1672 and bur. at Rotherham), Joshua (whose eldest son, Charles, by Anne, his wife, ob. 1718, æt. 26, and bur. at Rotherham), and Benjamin; he also had a dau. Ruth, who ob. cæl. 1675. Most of his younger sons married and had issue; perhaps, therefore, that as at the death of their brother John all the paternal estates passed to the family of the Westbys of Gilthwaite, the brothers might have been scattered,—one perchance may have settled in the adjoining county of Lincoln and had a son, the John Laughton of whom I make inquiry (the name John had been perpetuated in the elder branch of the Laughtons for three generations), thus leading to the connection of the Laughton family with the town of Boston, and the accruing benefit of those freemen and freemen's sons who, having profited so greatly by the munificence of John Laughton, presented this testimonial of their well-merited gratitude to their mother-church.

Laughton impaling Westby of Gilthwaite.

While on the subject of the Laughton family I add two other queries. The first, for knowledge of the descendants of the last known male representative of the Laughtons of Thropum and Eastfield, Edmund Laughton, of Lindrick House, co. York, Esq. The latter, in reference to the descendants of the Rev. Mainwaring Laughton, of Lidington, co. Rutland, vicar of one of the churches in Stamford; he was twice married, and was a younger son of John Laughton (nat. 1689, ob. May, 1751), of Eastfield, Esq.

SODERINI FAMILY.—Niccolo Machiavelli, in his 'History of Florence' (so justly eulogized by Lord Macaulay in his 'Critical and Historical Essays'), frequently mentions members of that celebrated and ancient family which flourished so luxuriously during the palmy days of the Florentine Republic, the Soderini. He speaks in particular of—Niccolo Soderini, drawn as Gonfalonier of Justice for Florence, A.D. 1466; Tommaso Soderini, brother to Niccolo, who played a subordinate, but by no means an useless part during his brother's magistracy; and Pagolantonio Soderini, relative of Niccolo and Tommaso, deputed, A.D. 1486, by the Republic as their Ambassador on a most delicate mission to Venice, then in the full zenith of her lustre and magnitude.

Francis Soderini, Cardinal Bishop of Volterra, another member of the family, is often mentioned in "Letters and Papers, Foreign and Domestic, Henry VIII., 1519-23."

I wish to know in what works, either Italian or otherwise, I can obtain the best detailed account of the genealogies and armorial bearings of the Soderini and other principal Italian families, such as the Medici, Cenci, Savelli, Colonna, Orsini, etc.?

PHILLIPS OF WITSTON.—'Burke's Landed Gentry,' usually most voluminous in the genealogical department, gives but a very meagre description of the lineage of "Phillips of Witston," it only mentioning William Phillips, of Witston House, co. Monmouth, Esq., the present representative, who is a Magistrate and Deputy-Lieutenant for co. Monmouth, for which he served as High Sheriff in 1845, and his father, the late William Phillips, of Witston, Esq., J.P.

Phillips of Witston.

I am anxious to learn more fully the history of this family, which I have always understood had a good right to be placed in the annals of Cambrian genealogy. I may state that a Miss Phillips of Witston married, in the latter part of last century, a Mr. Charles Price, of the Legacy Office, Somerset House.

Arms of Phillips of Witston: Quarterly 1 and 4 gules three boars' heads or, 2 and 3 azure a cross between four pheons or. Crest: A boar's head sable, langued gules, ringed or. Motto: "Spero Meliora." CHARLES SOTHERAN.

MACMANUS FAMILY.—I am wishful to ascertain further particulars than given in the following account of the "Macmanus" family, stated to be "of ancient Irish descent, and formerly to have possessed extensive property in the cos. Antrim, Fermanagh, and Londonderry, and the co. of the town of Carrickfergus"; but especially of the junior branch, settled for more than a century in the co. Fermanagh:—

Henry Macmanus at the latter end of the 17th century was an Alderman of Londonderry, and possessed a handsome fortune, which he bequeathed to his grandson, one of the Macnaghtens of Benvarden, co. Antrim.

Bryan Macmanus, of Ballybeg, par. Ahogill, co. Antrim, Esq., twice m. and ob. 1705; by his first wife, Esme Macnaghten, of Beardiville, co. Antrim, he had several children, the eldest of whom,—

Alexander Macmanus, of Tullygowan, co. Antrim, Esq., m. 1708, a dau. of M'Ginness of Cabra, co. Down, a descendant of the lords of Iveagh, and had issue—Bryan, John, Elizabeth, Ann, and another dau. The elder son,—

Bryan Macmanus, of Cardonaghey (alias Mount Davys), co. Antrim, Esq., High Sheriff co. Antrim 1769, m. 1757 a dau. of Adam Stothard, of Drumbane, co. Down, Esq., and had issue—Alexander, of whom after; Honoria, m. to Oliver O'Hara, Esq.; Helen, m. to David Babington, Esq.

Alexander Macmanus, of Mount Davys, Esq., High Sheriff co. Antrim 1782, a magistrate and Deputy-Governor of that county, m. 1780 Hester-Henrietta, second dau. of Mark Kerr-O'Neill of Flowerfield, co. Londonderry, Esq., and had issue—Alexander, of whom after; Eliza-Honoria, m. 1809 John Rowan, Esq., and ob. 1810; Hester, m. Rev. Robert Alexander, of Portglenone House, co. Antrim; Helen, m. Molyneux S. Shuldham, of Moigh House, co. Longford, Esq.

Alexander Macmanus, of Mount Davys, Esq., a magistrate and Deputy-Lieutenant for co. Antrim and its High Sheriff in 1826, m. Helen, dau. of Thomas Morris-Jones, of Money-Glass, Esq., and ob. s. p. 1838.

James Macmanus (kinsman of Bryan Macmanus, of Ballybeg, Esq.), of Bellisle Castle, co. Fermanagh, Esq., Member in the National Irish Parliament for Athy, ob. 1761, and left, among other issue,—

Connor Macmanus, eldest son, of Bellisle Castle, Esq., m. and had issue—Hugh and Leonora, who both ob. cæl., and—

Charles Macmanus, of Drumbarghy, par. Cleanich, co. Fermanagh, Esq., bur. at Mullinaman; m. Mary, dau. of Thomas Kelly, of Cleanich, gent., and had issue—John, James, Mary, and Margaret.

John Macmanus, of Drumbroughas, par. Cleanich, gent., nat. 1812, m. at Mullinaman 1838, Elizabeth, dau. of Phillip MacDermot (by his wife, Helen, dau. of Francis MacDermot [son of Hugh MacDermot, of Rockfield, Esq., descended from the ancient princes of Moylurg, in the barony of Boyle, of which race Murryach Mullathan, King of Connaught in the 7th century was the patriarch], of Rockfield, Esq., who m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Irvine, of Castle Irvine, co. Fermanagh, Esq., by . . . his wife, sister to Lowther Kirkwood, of Belserry, co. Tyrone, Esq., the possessor of large estates in cos. GROVE OF WOODFORD, Co. ESSEX; GROVE OF FERNE, Co. WILTS.—Silvanus Grove, of Woodford, born 1710, died 1799, married, in 1766, Louisa, daughter (and eventual heiress) of Edward Hillersdon and of Louisa Sophia Charlotte, his wife, third daughter of Henry Harcourt (eldest son of Simon Harcourt, Clerk of the Crown, by Elizabeth, his wife, daughter and heiress of Sir Richard Anderson, Baronet, of Pendley) and of Sara Frances, his wife, daughter and heiress of Nathaniel Bard, by Persiana, his wife, daughter and heiress of Henry Bard, Viscount Bellamont.

Silvanus Grove bore, Ermine on a chevron gules three escallops or. Crest: A dog argent, collared or. Motto: Suivez la raison.

The Grove family of Ferne, co. Wilts, bears, Ermine on a chevron engrailed gules three escallops or. Crest: A talbot collared or. Motto: Ni dessous ni dessus.

Information is sought as to the ancestry of Silvanus Grove, and as to any connection between the two families of Grove. C. J. B.

LAWRENCE OF COLERAINE.—Is anything known to those interested in the Lawrence pedigrees of a family settled for many generations near Coleraine, whose arms are—Ermine a cross ragulé gules, on a chief of the second a lion of England? Is it known when this chief charged with a lion was first borne as an augmentation? It was borne (see Misc. Genealog. Vol. I. p. 202) by the Lorance family of St. Ives. Also, according to 'Burke's Extinct Baronetage,' by Sir John Lawrence, of Iver, Bucks, made a Baronet by Charles I., 1628, who, there, is made to descend from Sir Robert Lawrence and Margaret Holden of Lancashire, through the Prior's Court branch. Is there any evidence of any of that family settling in Ireland? Edmund Lawrence was summoned, 35 Ed. III. (1362), by the Sheriff of Nottingham to a council at Westminster, as one of the heirs of Camville, holding lands in Ireland: who was he? Was he Sir Robert's father? If 1454 was date of death of the latter? C. H. C.

ABBOT FAMILY.—William Abbot was Senior Wrangler and Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, 1754. Can any person throw any light upon his ancestry? Most probably a Suffolk man. Any particulars will much oblige. Also any information about John Abbot, Esq., of Suffolk, A.D. 1454, whose heiress married "Cotton of Landwade." Arms quartered in several churches in East Anglia. J. T. ABBOTT.

A true copy from the Register marked Norfolk V. fol. 181, 182, remaining in the College of Arms, London.

Geo. Harrison,
Windsor Herald.

[1] Entered at the College of Arms in 1823, by Robert Westley Hall Dare, Esq.

[2] Married at Romford, June 11 (not July 11, as stated in the notes to Visitation pedigree of Mildmay of Marks), 1590. The name of his daughter Frances, born in 1593 or 1594, does not appear in the pedigree. She married, in 1618, William Nutbrowne, gent., of Romford.

[3] By Frances, daughter and coheir of Sir Leonard Beckwith. Sir George Hervey died in the Tower, August 10, 1605, and was buried the next day at Romford. There are singular discrepancies in the several records of his burial. The parish register states that he was buried August 11: the inscription on his sumptuous monument at Romford informs us that he died August 10 and was buried September 4; while the Funeral Certificate at the College of Arms records his interment on the 5th of September. These conflicting dates may be reconciled thus:—Sir George Hervey died at the hottest season of the year, possibly of some pestilential disease, and it was doubtless thought necessary to remove the corpse at once and deposit it in the family vault at Romford. His obsequies were celebrated with heraldic honours in the night between the 4th and 5th of September, nearly a month after his death. It would seem that this simple explanation accounts satisfactorily for these curious variations of date.

[4] As stated in notes to Visitation pedigree, she was buried at Romford, February 21, 1605.

[5] Baptized at Romford, December 14 1592; buried there September 15, 1657. His line terminated, in 1771, with Sir William Mildmay, Bart., of Moulsham Hall.

[6] See notes to Visitation pedigree. It need only be repeated that he was born at Marks (then the seat of his grandfather), February 2, 1595; married at St. Giles in the Fields, September 25, 1626: buried at Romford, August 8, 1676. Letters of Administration were granted, in P. C. Canterbury, to his son Francis, August 18 following.

[7] Sir Gawen Hervey succeeded his father, Sir George Hervey, at Marks in 1605. On the death of his only surviving child, Mary Hervey, in 1622, he made his nephew Carew Mildmay his heir. Sir Gawen Hervey was buried at Romford, February 22, $162\frac{3}{4}$.

[8] Buried at Romford, May 16, 1667.

[9] Buried at Romford from Marks, May 9, 1712, aged 80, unmarried. It is stated in the register that she was deaf and dumb. The entry was accidentally omitted in the Mildmay Registers from Romford, printed in 'Miscellanea Genealogica,' Vol. I. pp. 275, 277.

[10] Died 20th and buried October 22, 1664, at Romford.

[11] See also notes to Visitation pedigree. He was baptized at Romford, October 28, 1630; and buried there December 7, 1703.

[12] She was great-granddaughter of the celebrated Mrs. Mary Honywood. Married September 14, 1656.

[13] Baptized at Romford, November 23, 1658; buried there May 1, 1743. The statement that he died May 1 is probably incorrect. He was the last member of the Mildmay family buried in the vault at Romford.

[14] Buried January 18, 1718, at Romford.

[15] Baptized at Romford, December 23, 1662: died October 23, of small pox, buried October 26, 1679, at St. Mary Aldermary, London.

[16] Baptized at Romford, January 22, 1683.

[17] Buried in the Vicars Chancel at Dagenham, February 22, $17\frac{5}{3}0$.

[18] Also buried in the Vicar's Chancel. George Mildmay, son of George and Rebecca Mildmay, was buried at Dagenham, December 11, 1725; and Rebecca Mildmay, their daughter, was buried there October 26, 1733.

[19] Baptized at Romford, September 25, 1671.

[20] Peter Honywood was of West Hawkes, in the parish of Kingsworth, co. Kent. Ob. 1685.

[21] Vicar of Twyford: died in 1745; buried at Twyford.

[22] Baptized at Romford, May 5, 1673; born same day.

[23] Dorothy Mildmay was baptized at Romford, March 3, 1664. She married first, Robert Northfolke, Esq., of Stewards in Romford, son and heir of Sir James Northfolke of Romford. They were married at Havering Chapel (near Romford), November 7, 1682: Robert, their son, was baptized at Romford, July 19, 1687, and buried there August 25 following. Mr. Northfolke was buried at Romford from Stewards, January 19, 1688. (The house in which Robert Northfolke lived is now called Romford Hall: the smaller house near it, called Stewards, has no pretensions to the name.) Dorothy, a posthumous child, was baptized at Romford, August 8, 1688, and buried there December 15 following. Mr. Richard Blower—second husband of Dorothy Mildmay—was of Woodnorton, co. Norfolk. They were married before 1701. Mary, their only surviving child, married Christopher Higgins, Esq., of Loynton Hall, co. Stafford, of an ancient family now represented by Sambrooke T. Higgins Burne, Esq., of Loynton Hall, and Summer Hill House, co. Salop.

[24] Baptized at Romford, March 5, 1668: married there April 7, 1687; John Eldred was then of Newington, in Surrey.

[25] Philadelphia Mildmay was baptized at Romford, April 21, 1669: married there August 6, 1713, the Rev. Arthur Heron, Rector of Morton, co. Essex. He was instituted to Morton in 1698: ob. 1733.

[26] Baptized May 19, 1670, at Romford: married at Little Ilford, co. Essex, from Marks, December 17, 1706, the Rev. Dr. John Searle, Rector of Willingale and Vicar of North Weald, co. Essex. A son, John, was baptized at Romford in October, 1707. Mrs. Searle was buried at Romford, December 7, 1718; then a widow.

[27] Baptized at Romford, December 8, 1676.

[28] Baptized at Romford, June 17, 1678: married there November 27, 1705, Mr. John Wood of Cornhill. Besides the children named in the pedigree, Francis and Mathew Mildmay had Priscilla, baptized March 17 and buried March 20, 1674, at Romford, and Henry, also an infant, buried there November 4, 1680.

[29] Baptized as Humphrey Hervey Mildmay, at Romford, April 6, 1692; married (aged only fourteen) at Twyford, August 20, 1706. There is a tradition that the family having determined on the marriage of Letitia, heiress of Holiday Mildmay, with one of her cousins, Carew or Humphrey, they were brought to her while yet a child to choose one of them; the one whom they wished her to choose—Humphrey—being dressed in very fine clothes, and that she accordingly chose him. It is also stated that one or both were sent to school after the marriage. Their first child was not born for upwards of six years.

[30] Holyday or Halliday Mildmay was son and heir of Henry Mildmay, of Shawford House, in the parish of Twyford, near Winchester, who was second son of Sir Henry Mildmay, of Wanstead and Stoke Newington, (his fine Jacobean mansion is still standing on Newington Green), Master of the Jewel-house,—see Visitation pedigrees, Mildmay of Danbury, page 197. Mr. Holyday Mildmay died v. p., and was buried at Twyford, November 21, 1696: Ann, his widow, was buried there August 20, 1698. Letitia, their daughter and sole heir (wife of Humphrey Mildmay), was buried at Twyford, October 29, 1749. The Twyford estate was purchased for Dame Anne Mildmay (ob. 1657), wife of Sir Henry Mildmay, of Wanstead, by the trustees of her father, Alderman Halliday of Newington Green.

[31] Richard Mildmay was baptized at Romford, May 21 or 27, 1693.

[32] Sic in orig. It would appear that there is some confusion of dates here.

[33] Baptized at Romford, March 17, 1696; married at Havering Chapel, March 6, 172½: her husband is described as a merchant of London, and a widower. Thomas Saville was buried at St. Lawrence Jewry, October 8, 1757: Anne, his widow, January 24, 1769. Dorothy Mildmay, daughter of Carew and Anne Mildmay, baptized at Romford, February 11, 1690, and buried there January 14, 1691, is not mentioned in the pedigree.

[34] Baptized at Romford, March 6, 169⅝; died at the great age of 94; buried in Sherborne Church, January 26 following his death. The sumptuous monument erected over his grave was moved into the vestry-room in the course of the recent restoration of Sherborne Church. The estate of Haslegrove, or Hazel Grove, in the parish of Queen Camel, co. Somerset, was bequeathed in 1690 by Humphrey Mildmay, Esq., of Haslegrove (second son of Sir Humphrey Mildmay, of Danbury,—see Visitation pedigree, page 197), to his cousin Carew Hervey Mildmay, of Marks, who settled it on his eldest son, Carew Hervey Mildmay, who died, as above stated, in 1784—the last surviving male descendant of the Mildmay family. It is scarcely requisite to call attention to the rapid and remarkable extinction of the original family of Mildmay in all its branches. In the reign of James I., no less than nine families of the name (all springing from one stock) flourished in the county of Essex; not to mention the important branches seated at Apethorpe, Pishobury, Heston, etc. Yet, in the course of a century and a half, the last surviving male representative of the family died. Those who are believers in Spelman's theory, may remember that the great house of Mildmay was mainly built upon Church property, and will discern in its later history, material for another chapter of the History of Sacrilege. More sceptical minds may find a better reason for its extinction in the numerous intermarriages of the family.

[35] Married at Sherborne January 6, 1718; died January 23 and buried January 26, 174⅔, in Sherborne Church.

[36] Third daughter of Sir Edward Phelips; born in March, 1694; married May 17, 1744: buried at Queen Camel.

[37] Baptized at Sherborne December 8, 1726; died April 10 and buried at Sherborne April 24, 1789.

[38] 1, Carew, born May 8, 1720; baptized May 24, at Sherborne; died August 19 and buried August 22, 1720, in Sherborne Church. 2, Francis, baptized February 3, 1721, at Sherborne; buried there February 7 following. 3, Eastmont, died January 19 and buried next day at Sherborne. 4, Gawen, born and baptized August 27, 1724, at Sherborne; died March 27, 1725, buried March 30 following, at Sherborne.

[39] Henry Eaton was baptized at Rainham, May 26, 1706; he died at Rainham Lodge, and was buried in Rainham Church, October 4, 1792. Francis Eaton, his father, was married at Romford, May 6, 1695, and was buried at Dagenham, January 17, 173¾. Anne (wife to Francis Eaton) was baptized at Romford, March 27, 1677, and buried at Dagenham, June 6, 1747. Thomas Freckleton was of Brakes Place, near Hare Street (in parish of Romford and Hornchurch): he died February 18, 172⅔, aged 87, and was buried at Romford. Henry Eaton had by Elizabeth Mildmay,—1, Elizabeth, died an infant, August 28, 1743, buried at Rainham. 2, Henry Mildmay Eaton, baptized at Rainham, April 15, 1745; died June 2, 1793 (unmarried), buried at Rainham. 3, Elizabeth, born June 17, baptized at Rainham, June 21, 1749; married at Dagenham, June 28, 1779, to John Dare, Esq., of Bentry Heath in Dagenham, who died in 1781: she married secondly, John Marmaduke Grafton, Esq., afterwards Dare, of Romford: had issue by both husbands, and died in March, 1823; buried at Theydon Bois, co. Essex. Her only surviving child, Elizabeth Grafton Dare, married Robert Westley Hall, Esq., who took the name of Dare, and recorded the above pedigree in connection with the pedigree of Hall Dare. Anne, youngest daughter of Henry Eaton, born July 12, 1759; married Paul Pell, Esq., of Tupholme Hall, co. Linc.; died January 14, 1784, buried at Rainham.

[40] Died at Romford, July 27, 1799, aged 78; buried in Rainham Church, August 5 following.

[41] Baptized at Twyford, November 10, 1712.
[42] Baptized at Twyford, November 4, 1717; buried there July 6, 1768.
[43] This is an error; she was buried at Twyford, May 9, 1799.
[44] William Mildmay was fifth in descent from William Mildmay, of Springfield Barnes, and Margaret Hervey (see above), through Sir Thomas Mildmay, their eldest son. He succeeded to Moulsham Hall and other family estates in 1756, under the will of his kinsman Benjamin Mildmay, Earl Fitzwalter, who died in that year childless. He was created a Baronet in 1765, but died s. p. August 8, 1771, when this line also became extinct. Sir William Mildmay was buried August 17, 1771; and Dame Anne, his widow, January 5, 1796—both at Chelmsford.
[45] Buried at Dogmersfield, November 21, 1808, aged 44. M. I. The present family of St. John Mildmay of Dogmersfield, Hazel Grove, and Chelmsford, descend from Sir Henry St. John and Jane Mildmay.
[46] Married at Twyford, from Shawford House, June 22, 1786; died in Eaton Square, London, May 6, 1857, aged 93; buried at Dogmersfield.
[47] Baptized at Twyford, November 26, 1763; married there November 15, 1794; died in 1820, buried at Twyford.
[48] Married at Twyford, November 4, 1791; died March 27, 1839. Her husband died July 17, 1842.

* This is the first Fanshawe will proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury. The merely legal and less important passages of this and many of the following wills are given in abstract, within brackets. The wills so treated are invariably termed 'abstracts.'

† The first wife of Henry Fanshawe the Remembrancer, and daughter of William Hopkins, of Carswell, near Clay Hall, in the parish of Barking. She is not mentioned in the Funeral Certificate of Henry Fanshawe (Vol. I. p. 314), but such omissions are not uncommon. The Hopkins pedigrees at the College of Arms, and the wills of the Hopkins family proved about this time in P. C. C., have been carefully examined, but nothing has been found to connect William Hopkins with any of the more important families of that name; and there is reason to believe that he was nothing more than a simple husbandman, or, at most, a yeoman. The match does not appear in the Fanshawe pedigree, or in any other family memorial, and was apparently forgotten until the publication of these Notes. It should, however, be stated that the persons mentioned by Mrs. Fanshawe as her cousins were people of substance.

‡ These lands immediately adjoined the estate of Henry Fanshawe, her husband.

§ She was the second wife of Robert Lawson, alias Edmonds, of Prittlewell Priory, co. Essex, and daughter of Nicholas Cely, gent. He appears to have been Steward to Lord Rich, and was lessee of the manor of Prittlewell Priory under his Lordship. He died Febr. 7, 158$\frac{3}{4}$, aged 72, and was buried in Prittlewell Church. The Latin inscription on his tomb (no longer extant) described him as of the ancient family of the Lawsons of the north.

‖ A ring worn to preserve from cramp and epilepsy.

frende M^rs^ Alice Tego, my gowne of cloth furred with Mincks, and my Kirtle of tawney dammaske and ij of my best White Neckerchefs. Item I bequeath to mother Worte my clothe gowne furred with lambe and my olde Worsted Kirtle. And I bequeath to Jone Worte her daughter my olde Worsted cassocke. Item I bequeath to Michaill Woorte her sister my olde grograyne gown Withoute sleves. Item I giue and bequeath to Agnes Harding, my maiden servaunte, my olde cloth gowne lined and garded With Velvet. I bequeath to greate Mawde, my mayden servaunte, my petticote of cloth remayneing in Claye Hall.* And also I bequeath to littell Maude, my mayden servaunte ij of my playne White neckerchiffs and ij of my White Lynnen Aprons. * In the parish of West Ham.

† Valence is situate in the parishes of Barking and Dagenham, within a short distance of Jenkins and Parsloes, the other seats of the Fanshawe family in this neighbourhood. The old moated house of Valence still stands, and presents much the same appearance as in the days of Henry Fanshawe. In 1594 it was the residence of Mr. Timothy Lucy (brother to Justice Shallow), who married Susanna, youngest daughter of Henry Fanshawe. Valence was held on renewable lease from the Dean and Canons of Windsor, and it is still church property.

‡ Not the estate of Bedfords near Romford, but lands so called at Ripple Side, Barking.

§ Held of the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, at the yearly rent of £4: see a curious description of it in the draft will of 1566.

‖ Clay Hall is situate in the northern part of the parish of Barking, not far from Woodford, and quite away from Valence and the other estates of the Fanshawe family at Barking. It belonged at this time to Sir George Colt of Long Melford, of whom Henry Fanshawe held it on lease. The house in which Henry Fanshawe lived is roughly sketched on the map of Barking manor made in 1653,—a large gabled house. In a MS. account of the principal houses near Barking, written by Mr. Smart Lethieullier about 120 years ago, Clay Hall is described as "a Noble Seat finely Situated, & commanding a pleasant prospect. No Less than 30 Rooms were Standing within a few years past, but It is Now Entirely pull'd down, & A Small farm House built in its Stead." It is, however, probable that Clay Hall had been rebuilt about a century before the date of this MS., by Sir Thomas Cambell. In the Royal Survey of the manor of Barking made 1617, the older house is described as "one fair Capitall Messuage called Clayhall, with fair gardens, Orchards, Walks, Court yards and houses of Office thereunto belonging."

Derby, in trust to keep and maintain the said school, master and] Vssher there for the bringing vp of poore children, and of suche other as shall come theither in Learenyinge and virtue.* And after my Deceasse a true Inventorye be had and made of all my platt, beddinge, household stuff and furniture of householde, and the same to be Praysed by foure indifferent men by Indenture tryptytt, one part thereof to remayne w^t^ my wyfe, thother w^t^ my brother Maister John Stonarde, and the thyrde with my cosen Thomas ffanshawe,† whome I make my soole executo^r^ of this my last will. [My wife to have a third part of plate and furniture, and my daughters Anne and Susan to have other two parts, at their respective days of marriage, with benefit of survivorship. My wife to have the bringing up of my said daughters.] And furdre I will and devyse, and my mynde fullye is, that yf either of my said Dawghters will not be ruled in their marryadge by my said wyfe and my Executour, or do marrye without thassent or consent of my said wyfe and of my Executour, that then all the porc'on, legacies and bequeastes in this my will lymyted or given to her so marrying shal be vtterlye voide and of none effect to suche of my said Dawghters as will or shal be marryed without thassent or consent of my saide wyfe, and of my executo^r^. [In such case her portion to go to the other daughter.] And yf y^t^ shall fortune that bothe my said dawghters shall marrye withoute thassent of my sayde wyfe and of my executour (Which god forbyd) then I will and devise that my executo^r^ shall employe and bestowe a convenyent porc'on of theire legacyes and bequeastes towardes and vpon a Schole in barking in the countie of Essex at the discretion of my Executor.‡ Item I will and giue to william Wolstenholme§ my lease and tearme of Elhowse landes,‖ [charged with £10 yearly towards the bringing up of said daughters. My executor to give an account of receipts and payments once a year] to my brother M^r^ John Stonarde, Thomas Smythe of London Esquire, and to my brother ffrancis Stonarde, my Cosynn John bullock of Thynner Temple gent, whome I make oversears of this my laste will and Testament [To each £10, Debts to be paid within two years after my decease, woods and underwoods on all my lands to said executor in trust as aforesaid.] Item I give to Ales ffanshawe my lease of the landes and tenements in brymyngton in the Countie of Derbie. Item I give my Svant Xpofer Eglesfeilde, the portigue†† that was in my Truncke towardes his paynes.

* A grammar school was accordingly founded at Dronfield, which still flourishes. On a panel in the chancel of Dronfield Church (high up) is the following inscription relating to Henry Fanshawe's benefaction:—[1569] "Henry Fanshaw Esq^r^, Remembrancer of the Court of Exchequer, left y^e^ yearly rents of several parcells of land in Dronfield, Chesterfield, and Eckington, for the Erecting of a Free Grammar School in Dronfield afores'd, and for y^e^ maintaining of a Master and usher there for ever." The patronage of the school is still in the Fanshawe family.

† Thomas Fanshawe, his nephew, afterwards of Ware Park and Jenkins, ob. 1600.

‡ It has been already stated in the notes to the Funeral Certificate of Henry Fanshawe, and to the Pedigree and Registers, that Anne Fanshawe died unmarried in 1584, and that Susanna Fanshawe married Mr. Timothy Lucy. Long after this time a free school was founded at Barking by Sir James Cambell of Clay Hall.

* In the curious MS. collection called the Fanshawe Papers, at the Public Record Office (Miscell. Queen's Rem. Excheq.) are included two draft-wills of Henry Fanshawe; one made in the lifetime of his first wife; the other soon after his second marriage. They are both interesting documents, and it has been thought desirable that they should be printed with the proved will. The first draft is short, and is given in extenso; the second, though imperfect at the end, is long, and an abstract has therefore been made of it, the more interesting passages being given in full. The notes previously given may serve to explain the more obscure points in these wills, and it only seems necessary to add that Carswell (a life-interest in which Henry Fanshawe gave his father-in-law Hopkins) was situate near Clay Hall; Luckwell, Sparkswood, Hainault, Tramwell Poole, Hellows, etc., were also near Clay Hall; Dovehouse Croft, Blackhouse, the lands curiously called Cuckolds' Haven, Fulks, and others mentioned, are in or near the town of Barking; the manor of Wolves is in Tendring Hundred; Brownswood was near Highbury, in the parish of Islington. The bulting-house in the family house in Warwick Lane was the bolting-house, or place where the meal was sifted; the hotthouse was probably a forcing-house in the garden. Henry Fanshawe had lived in Bread Street before moving into Warwick Lane. Among the Fanshawe Papers in P. R. O. are several letters of a business nature, addressed to him in Bread Street.

* Eldest daughter and coheiress of Henry Fanshawe, Esq., Remembrancer of the Exchequer, by Dorothy Stonard, his second wife. She was six years old at the death of her father in 1568, and must therefore have died at the early age of 22. She was buried with her father at Barking, April 7, 1584. The erroneous statement that she was married to William Fuller has been considered elsewhere. It is curious that the first person mentioned in her will should have been a Mrs. Elizabeth Fuller. Anne Fanshawe was of the parish of Christchurch, Newgate Street, and probably lived at the family house in Warwick Lane.

† Thomas Fanshawe, of Jenkins and Ware Park. Henry and Walter, mentioned previously, were sons of Thomas Fanshawe.

‡ The silver tags or other metal sheathings of the points or ribbons used in the dress both of ladies and gentlemen, from the time of Henry VIII. until far in the seventeenth century.

§ Probably a pair of peaked cuffs, edged with pearls or precious stones. A pair of borders may also mean the upper and nether ornaments or jewels for the neck and bosom, called Abillements, set with diamonds, pearls, or rubies, and much worn in the higher ranks about this time.

‖ Son of Thomas Fanshawe, of Jenkins and Ware Park: afterwards of Parsloes. At this time he was a child.

 No executor being named in the will, application was made in due course to the Ordinary, who issued letters of administration to the sister and brother-in-law of the defunct, May 14, 1584. Administration, with will annexed, was granted as above stated, June 3 following.

* Son of John Fanshawe, of Fanshawe Gate, and younger brother of Thomas Fanshawe the Remembrancer. He was master of Ilford Hospital, and lived in the Master's house there. Godfrey Fanshawe married Grace, daughter of — Pagett, widow of Mr. Robert Robotham, of Raskill, co. York, and Warwiek Inn, London, who survived him. Among the Fanshawe Papers at P. R. O. are several receipts from Mrs. Grace Fanshawe for a quarterly annuity of 40^{s}/ (settled upon her by Godfrey Fanshawe), dated at St. Albans, where she was living with her son John Robotham. Godfrey Fanshawe died, s. p., in the parish of St. Bartholomew the Less, Smithfield, February 12, and was buried in Christchurch, Newgate Street, February 15, 158$\frac{7}{8}$. It is stated in Harl. M.S. 1541 that he married — Waldegrave; and that there was a tomb with the arms of Fanshawe, properly differenced, impaling Waldegrave, in Ilford Chapel. Mr. William Waldegrave was Steward of the manor of Barking at this time, and lived at Little Ilford, but no evidence has been found that any of his numerous daughters married Godfrey Fanshawe, nor is the match mentioned in the Waldegrave pedigree. The statement in a modern pedigree of the Fanshawes, that Godfrey F. married Anne, daughter of John Waldegrave, of Burley, co. Essex, is unsupported by proof. The following inscription in brass, on the north wall of the chancel of Ilford Chapel, is recorded on a Fanshawe pedigree of ancient date in the possession of the Rev. Charles Fanshawe, Vicar of Upham, co. Hants; and would seem to be the monument or brass mentioned in Harl. MS. 1541. It no longer exists, and has indeed disappeared for at least a hundred years.

† Of Ware Park and Jenkins. A large quantity of papers relating to Godfrey Fanshawe are preserved among Thomas Fanshawe's papers at the Record Office, (already referred to). Among them are receipts for rent, shoemakers' bills, inventories of goods sold, etc. etc. Also the parish clerk's bill for Godfrey Fanshawe's burial in Christchurch, and the tailor's bill for a mourning gown on the occasion for Thomas Fanshawe. These, being short, may be given.

† Near Barking, in Essex; for about a hundred and fifty years a principal seat of the Fanshawes. It appears on the old map of Barking manor (1653) as a large square house, with a tower or turret at the north and south corners; surrounded with stately gardens, and approached from Barking by a long avenue of trees. In the MS. account of ancient houses near Ilford and Barking already quoted, Jenkins is described as "A very Large Old Timber House, Moated round, wth Gardens, &c." This description would seem to apply to the Fanshawe house, and not to the formal red brick mansion of Queen Anne's time which succeeded it, and which was standing at the time the MS. was written. For many years it has been called simply 'the Manor,' and the name of Jenkins is quite forgotten in the neighbourhood.

* The manor house of Fulks stands in Barking town, much modernised. It was long used as the vicarage, and is now called Northbury House.

† Near Jenkins: the picturesque old farmhouse, dating back certainly as far as Thomas Fanshawe's time, was only pulled down a few years since.

‡ Westbury House stands close to the town of Barking. John Seeres, then the occupier, died a few months after the date of this will, and his burial is thus recorded in the parish register:—"1596 John Seres of Westbury gent, buried 30th November." A sketch of Westbury House appears in the fine view of the town of Barking, on the large plan of the manor made 1653.

Lady Hatton mentioned there in so questionable a character, is not and could not have been identical with Alice Fanshawe, though she is described in the Legend as—

> "A Fanshawe by family—one of a house
> Well descended, but boasting less 'nobles' than nous."

And, again, in the diabolical bond which was redeemed in so fearful a manner, as—

> "One Alice Hatton, née Fanshawe—a name
> Which you'll recognise, reader, at once as the same
> With that borne by Sir Christopher's erudite dame!"

In point of fact, the Sir Christopher Hatton of Ingoldsby's ludicrous story—the famous dancing Chancellor and favourite of Queen Elizabeth—was never married; and Sir Christopher Hatton, husband of the much maligned Alice Fanshawe, was cousin and godson of the Lord Keeper. Alice Fanshawe was only ten years old at the time of Lord Keeper Hatton's death in 1591, and her husband was never Lord Keeper; nor does it appear that he held any important position at the Court of Elizabeth. He was made K.B. at the coronation of James I., and died in September, 1619, having succeeded, some years before, to the estate of Lord Chancellor Hatton, on the failure of the issue male in Sir William Hatton, nephew and heir of the Chancellor.

* By his mark only.

† Son of Robert Fanshawe of Fanshawe Gate, and nephew to Thomas Fanshawe of Ware Park and Jenkins: born 1568; Clerk to his uncle in the Remembrancer's Office; married in 1598, Mary, daughter of Mr. Ralph Wiseman of Rivenhall, and had by her Thomas, his heir—Henry—Ralph—John—George—Richard—Mary, the wife of Thomas Hardwick—Mildred, married in 1624 to Phineas Andrews—Isabel, married in 1628 to Edward Kippax—and John, posthumous. He died soon after making his will, and was probably buried at Rivenhall. The registers of that parish have been examined, but they only commence in 1634, and have no Fanshawe entries. The statement in the family and certified pedigrees, that John Fanshawe married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Thomas Wiseman, is disproved not only by his own will and that of his widow, but by his marriage-allegation in the Registry of the Bishop of London (ex inf. Col. Chester), and the Wiseman pedigree at the College of Arms. John Fanshawe's widow died at Stratford-le-Bow in 1641.

‡ In the parish of Stow Maries, co. Essex. John Fanshawe is described of Stow in the pedigree of his wife's family at the Herald's College (I 16, fo. 398).

Abstract of the Will of Sir Henry Fanshawe of Ware Park. A.D. 1616*

In the name of God Amen. I S^r Henry ffanshaw Knight, Remembrancer to the Kings Ma^tie, being in perfect remembrance and health of bodie (thanks to God be given therefore) Doe make and Constitute this my last will and Testament in manner and forme followinge; ffirst I yeild vpp my soule into the handes of Allmightie God my Creator, Redeemer, and Comforter, most humblie beseechinge him when it shal be his pleasure that I depte out of this mortall, transitorie, and miserable life to receave it into his kingdom w^ch he hath promised by and through Christe to give to all belevers, thereto enioye an endles p'manent and blessed life accordinge to his promises, w^h he on his parte cannot breake. In Declarocon of my faith I Doe accordinge to the measure that God hath given me thereof, w^ch I Doubt not but he will Daylie encrease in me even to the moment of my Death, truely beleeve all the Articles of the Christian ffaithe, in all points of Difference between the papists and the Protestants, I beleve as the Church of England beleeveth, not implicitlie but p'ticulerlye in everie poynt accordinge to the knowledge that God hath given me. And in that principall and maine poynte of Justificacon I beleeve that I am Justified onelye by ffaith w'thout woorkes, ffaith making mine and appropriating to me the satisfaction, obedience, Justice, Innocency, holines, life and Death of Jhesus Christe, w^th all the fruites of Christes Conception, Birth, lyfe, Death, passion, Resurrection and ascension, by w^ch onelie I am freed from eternall Death and Damnacon, and by w^ch only I Claime and am assured of eternall life, and also enioye the blessings of this world; and I further beleeve that by any inherent power, Justice or meritt of my owne, or by any woorkes whatsoever I Can Doe, I Cannot either satisfie for the least sinne either Originall or Actuall of mine, or Deserve either ex Congruo or ex Condigno the least bitt of bread that God hath given me, much lesse the kingdom of heaven. Notwithstandinge I beleeve that to make my ffaith effectuall and Justifyinge I oughte to Doe good Woorkes as well to Declare my obedience to God who hath appoynted them to be the way wherein I should walke During the tyme of my Warefare in this world as to make my ffaith knowne to the Churche, and to give myselfe Assurance that my ffaith is not vaine nor Idle. And I doe further beleeve that thoughe noe Woorks of myne Can merytt or Deserve any Rewards, as being the woorks of an vnproffittable servant that is infinitelie behinde w^th that he ought in Dutie to Doe, yet such is the Riches of the mercye and lovinge Kindnesse of God that I Knowe he will Rewarde even the least Cupp of Cold water that he hath * Eldest son and heir of Thomas Fanshawe, of Ware Park and Jenkins; born in 1569; married Elizabeth, sixth daughter of Thomas Smyth, Esq., of Ostenhanger; succeeded his father at Ware Park and as Remembrancer in 1600; knighted May 7, 1603; M.P. for Westbury and Boroughbridge; died March 10, 1616; buried at Ware. His character is finely drawn in Lady Fanshawe's Memoirs. The passage is perhaps too long to be inserted here, but an extract may be given. Addressing her son, she says:—"As your Grandfather inherited Ware Parke and his office, the flower "of his fathers estate, so did he of his wisdom and parts, and both were happy in y^e favour of the "Princes of that time, for Queen Elizabeth said y^t your Great grandfather" (i.e Thomas Fanshawe, second Remembrancer, see above) "was the best officer of accounts she had, and a person of great "integrity, and your Grandfather was y^e Favourite of Prince Henry, and had y^e Prince lived to "be King, had been secretary of estate, as he would often tell him. M^r Camden speaks much in "y^e praise (as you may see) of S^r Henry Fanshawe's Garden of Ware Park, none excelling it in "flowers, phissike herbes and fruit, in which things he did greatly delight, also he was a great lover "of Musick and kept many Gentlemen that were perfectly well qualified both in y^t and y^e Italian "tongue, in which he spent some time. He likewise kept severall horses of manadge, and rid y^m "himself, which he delighted in, and y^e Prince would say none did it better; he had great honour "and generosity in his nature * * * His retinue was great, and that made him stretch his Estate, "which was neer if not full foure thousand pound a year, yet when he dyed he left no debt upon "his estate. He departed this life at ye age of forty eight years, and lyes buryed in ye chancell "in a vaulte with his father in ye Parish Church of Ware. He was as handsome and as fine a "Gentleman as England then had, a most excellent husband, father, friend, an servant to his "Prince." (Memoirs, original MS., p. 10, et seq.)

And thus havinge Declared my ffaithe in these last maine and Important poynts p'ticulerly, for all the rest I referre myself to my first generall Declaracon that I beleve all the Articles of the Christian faithe, and in all matters and poynts of faithe now excepted as the Church of England Dothe, and all other protestant Churches. My bodie I Desire should be buried in the parish Church of Ware, and there devoutlie laid vpp in hope of the Resurreccon by the body of my ffather, but w'thout the usual vnprof-fitable and vain ceremonyes and feastings, the Charges whereof will be much more profitablye bestowed vpon my Children, w^{ch} are many.* Notwithstandinge I will that there be blacks bestowed on my wyfe, Children, and servants, and Twentie Pounds in money given to the poor of Ware. And forasmuch as I have ever founde my Wife Dame Elizabeth ffanshawe to have been most true and lovinge to me, And have had Continuall experience and assurance (of) her Godlie Disposition, wisdom, Discretion, and naturall affection to her Children, and being p'swaded that she will not marry againe, in Regarde the whole well doing of my Children, being younge, in respect of worldly meanes, lyeth in the Care that she shall take of them after my Death, w^{ch} Cannot possiblie but be interrupted and hindred by a second husband, I Doe laie my whole trust and Confidence in her, And to that end I doe name and Constitute her the said Dame Elizabeth ffanshawe, S^{r} Richard Smith knight, in whose integritie he hath by his Actions given me great cause to rest, And my deare and towardlie sonne Thomas ffanshawe,† the executors of this my last will and testament. And where (as) I have by severall Deeds made grants and leases for years in trust to diverse p'sons of the Rectorye of Bengeo in the Countie of Hertford, of the Mannor of Birchall in the Countie of Essex, And of my nowe Dwelling howse in Warwick lane in London, all w^{ch} I have allsoe Conveyed in Jointure to my Wife, but yett have made further estates to the end that in Case my wife should die before my Daughters porcons should be raysed out of such means as I shall hereafter appoynt, they might be the sooner Raysed and wth the more ease to my heire ; And where I have allso Conveyed and leased in like manner the Manno^{r} of Bengo hall, the Mills of Ware, seven acres of meadowe in the pke lawne of Ware Parke, All w^{ch} landes lie in the Countie of Hertfforde, And allso the Mannor of ffering of Wistbury (sic in orig.) lying in Barkinge, and my lease of Tillingham grange, w^{ch} landes lie in the Countie of Essex; And where I have allso Conveyed the hospitall of great Illford, and allsoe Certain Copiehold lands by surrender, lying in the Isle of Hossey in the soke of Kirbye, w^{ch} things be in the Countie of Essex ; and allsoe by like surrender other Copiehold lands lying in the parish of Ware in the Countie of Hertfford, in the tenure of my Cosen Nathaniell Duckett; andallso by like surrender Certaine other Copiehold lands called ffanshawe gate in Holmesfeild in the Countie of Derbye ; all w^{ch} landes and Tenements are Conveyed in trust to vses to be Declared by my Deed under my hand and seale, or by my last will and Testament, or by other Writinge * * * Now I declare the trusts and intents of the said grants, leases, surrenders and Deeds to be the vses and purposes hereafter followinge [to my five daughters Alice, Mary, Elizabeth, Joan and Anne,‡ for their respective portions in marriage, and for their maintenance, £1000 each, to be paid at their days of marriage, being 17 years old, or otherwise when 21, with benefit of survivorship ; the said portions

* St. Mary's Hospital at Great Ilford, in the parish of Barking, originally founded for lepers by Adeliza, Abbess of Barking, in the reign of K. Stephen, was refounded as a kind of almshouse at the Dissolution, and granted by Queen Elizabeth on certain trusts to Thomas Fanshawe, father of Sir Henry. It remained in the Fanshawe family until 1668, when Thomas, Lord Fanshawe, leased it for a thousand years to a Mr. Allen. The hospital has descended through various proprietors to the Marquis of Salisbury, the present owner.

Hee was high sherife of Sussex & Surrey fiue seuerall tymes vnder King John, vid^z^ in 13, 14, 15, 16, and 17, yeeres of the sayd kings raigne. Likewise eight seuerall tymes was hee high sherife of both those countyes, vnder the raigne of king Henry third, as appeereth by his seuerall accomptes in the Recordes of the Pipe Office, kept aboue the Exchequer at Westminster, Mathew Paris who wrote the Chronicle and historie of those tymes hath recorded, that this Mathew Harbert was one of those sware In animam Regis at the deliuery of Magna Charta, that the same should be obserued, Dated at Westminster the Ninthe yeere of king Henry the third. The battayle betweene the sayd king and the Barons about the end of his raigne, happened in Sussex neere Lewis, where the kinges forces being discomfited, hee was constrayned to accepte of hard Condicons of peace. This Mathew is allway formerly named to be one of those that endeuoured to temper the differences betweene the King and y^e^ Barons: For at Running meade betwene Windesore and Stanes, hee is Recorded to be one of those Magnates by whose consent and Councell the Charter of agreement from the king to the Peeres was procured, w^ch^ Instrument beareth date at Running mead aforesayd the Sixtenth day of June in the Seauententh yeere of the raigne of King John, At which tyme also hee was highe sherife of Sussex and Surrey.

Claus. de An° 10 Ed. 4^ti indorso. Johannes Herbert alias dictus ffinch, nuper de Ikelsham in Com. Sussex, Armiger, secundo die Decembris, An° regni Regis Hen. 6^ti 36^to recognouit sese debere Dionisiæ, et Petronille ffinch, centum et quadragint' libras. Qui quidem Johannes fuit seisitus de maneriis de Netherfeild Iklesham et Marle infra libertatem Rapæ de Hastings &c.

Henry Finch of Netherfeild Esquire succeeded William Finch his father in those landes: Hee marryed Alice, the only doughter and heire of Phillip Belknap of the Moate by Canterbury, vnckle to Sir Edward Belknap: This marryage not only brought the Successors of this man to inhabite in Kent, but made them allyed to many noble familyes: And in regard the sayd Phillip Belknap was a younger brother, and thereby dispossest of the euidences that serue to warrant the bearing of all those Coates that came in with Belknap: I haue inserted some faithfull transcripts and other obseruations out of the publique records of the Kingdome to that purpose.

And first for Belknap itselfe. I finde it a florishing family in the tyme of King Edward the third: for in the 43th yeere of the sayd kings raigne Sir Robert Belknap gaue landes to the Couent at Rochester, to pray for the soule of John Belknap his father. After being vnder the raigne of Richard the second, imployed into Ireland, he retourned, fell vnfortunately into the kinges displeasure, was attaynted in the XIth yeere of Richard the second, his landes at Kennington and many parishes thereby, giuen vnto William Ellis by Charter from the sayd King, in which name they contynued till our rememberance.

But he was restored and florished againe in the beginning of Kinge Henry the 4ths raigne, and left a sonne named John Belknap, whoe deceased in the 15th of Henry 6th, and was father of Sir Haman Belknap, Treasurer of Normandy, who marryed Joane, sister and one of the heires of Sr Raph Butler lord of Sudeley and wemme, proued by this record, vidt; Inquisitio capta, anno 14to Ed. 4th post mortem Rad'i Butler de Sudeley militis Juratores dicunt, qd pred' Rad'us Butler obiit seisitus in dominico suo vt de feodo de maneriis de Derset et Greene in com. Warr.; et q'd ius reuerc'onis pred' maneriorum post mortem pred' Rad'i descendit quibusdam Joh'ni Norbury militi, et Will'mo Belknap armigero Consanguineis et heredibus pred' Rad'i, vidt eidem Joh'ni filio Henrici Norbury militis filio Elizabethæ vnivs sororum et heredum pred' et eidem Will'mo filio Johannæ, vxoris Hamonis Belknap alterius sororum et hæredum eiusdem Rad'i. Eo q'd idem Rad'us obiit sine herede de corpore suo exeunte: Et q'd dictus Joh'es est etatis 30 annor' et amplius, dictusque Will'm's est etatis 40 annor' et amplius.

This William Belknap dyed without yssue 2do Rici 3ij and Henry his brother then 50 yeeres old was found next heire, whose younger brother was Phillip Belknap of the Moate aforesayd.

Henry Belknap was father of Sir Edward Belknap that dyed without issue, and his sisters were heires, whose marryages wee must not omytt because of ye great alyance it bringes to this family.

Anne eldest sister was marryed to Sir Robert Wotton from whome the Lord Wotton now living is descended.

Mary marryed to Gerrard Donnett of the county of Leicester.

Alice marryed to William Shelley of Sussex.

Elizabeth marryed to Phillip Cooke of Giddyhall in Essex.

Touching the family of the Butlers which is next to be handled, Mr Camden in the 544 folio of his Brittania sayth, that Wemme in Shropsheire sheweth yee ruynes of a castle which was the Barony of the Botelers: This was, sayth hee, the Barony (after the first entrance of the Normans) of Will'm Pantolphe, from whose posteritie, it came at length vnto the Botelers. So much for their seate. Now for proofe of theire honors, we finde William Boteler summoned to the Parliament in the 23 of Edward the first and first yeere of Edward the second, as Baron of Wemme. Againe in the 20th yeere of King Henry the 6, Sr Raph Boteler his successor was summoned to parliament as Baron of Sudeley.

The proofe of the descent of Wemme to Butler is proued before out of Mr Camdens Brittania: The next therefore is Sudeley, of whome in Mr Camdens description of Gloucestersheire folio 165 sayth thus.

In ould tyme at Sudeley Castle, certaine noblemen dwelt, and of it had their addition de Sudelye, descended of a right auntient Englishe race, to wit, from Goda, King Etheldreds daughter, whose sonne, Raph Medantinus, Earl of Hereford, begate Herald lord of Sudeley, whose progeny florished heere a long tyme, vntill by default of issue male, the daughter and heire matched in marryage with Sir William Boteler of the family of Wemme, and brought him a sonne named Thomas, and he begate Raphe Boteler, lord Treasurer of England created by King Henry the 6 Baron of Sudeley, with a fee of 200 marks yerely who repayred the Castle, and enlarged it with buildings. His sisters and heires were marryed into the houses of Northbury and Belknap, and by their posteritie, the possessions in short tyme were dispeirsed into seuerall familyes.

And for my worldly estate wherwith it hath pleased Almighty god to blesse me, I have lately by a declaration of trust vnder my hand and seale beareing date the eight and twentith day of ffebruary last past, directed certaine of Lands, tenements and here-

* For particulars of William Fanshawe (the first of the Parsloes line) see his Funeral Certificate, Vol. I. p. 317. He was born in 1583 and died in 1634. The statement at page 118 that "all the existing families of Fanshawe descend from this William Fanshawe," must be understood to apply only to the existing branches of the family distinguished by high social position. A very large branch of the family at Dronfield, parts of Yorkshire, and even in Ireland and America, descends directly from Robert Fanshawe, of Fanshawe Gate, living temp. Queen Elizabeth. As stated in the notes to his Funeral Certificate, William Fanshawe purchased the manor and estate of Parsloes in 1619. He had acquired property in the neighbourhood some years before, and is mentioned as holding lands of the manor of Barking in the Survey made a.d. 1616. The deed of conveyance of Parsloes is dated February 16, 16th of King James I. It is made between Edward Osborne, Esq., of Keeton, co. York, and Margaret, his wife, of the one part, and William Fanshawe, Esq., of London, and Katherine, his wife, of the other part. The consideration-money is £1150: the lands, etc., conveyed are described as follows,—the manor and manor-house called Passelowes, and three acres of ground lying about the house; an arable field called Barn-field, containing 22 acres; Kitchen-field, containing 8 acres, arable; Stable-field, 5 acres, arable; Mawlands, 20 acres, arable; Shortcrofts, 8 acres, arable; Ivye lands, 6 acres; the brokes, 8 acres; one broke called Newlars broke, 1 acre; one grove adjoining, 2 acres: all lying in Dagenham and Barking. Also ground called Eylands, and Heathy-field, both in Barking; also ground parcel of Yvye lands (these are mentioned in another deed), and a cottage and 8 acres in Dagenham, in the occupation of Thomas Grigson. Edward Osborne covenants to deliver all deeds, etc. to William Fanshawe, at his dwelling-house in St. Sepulchre's, in London, and to give possession to Powl Waldegrave of Barking, gent., on behalf of William Fanshawe. Formal possession was accordingly given on the 22nd of February following, in the presence of Thomas Fanshawe of Jenkins, Thomas Fanshawe of Ware, Henry Throckmorton, Thomas Truelove and others, and is endorsed on the deed of conveyance. William Fanshawe subsequently became possessed, by purchase, of other landed property in this neighbourhood, and in particular of the site and remains of the great abbey of Barking.

† Parsloes Manor-house stands in a small park about midway between Dagenham and Barking, and is separated from the adjacent manor of Jenkins by a lane, anciently called Gale Street. The houses are but three-quarters of a mile apart.

In the latter part of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, Parsloes was the property and residence of Sir Hewit Osborne, son of the celebrated Sir Edward Osborne, Lord Mayor of London, and ancestor of the Dukes of Leeds. It was purchased, as previously stated, by William Fanshawe in 1619, and has been the residence of the family ever since.

During the two centuries and a half that it has been in the possession of the Fanshawes, it has, as might be supposed, undergone much alteration, and at three very distinctly marked periods; the latest and most extensive of these took place in the year 1814, when the mansion was somewhat ditaments, where with I trusted my wives brother S[r] John Wolstenholme the younger of London Knight,* and my nephew Thomas ffanshawe† to be disposed to the vse and for the benefitt of my Children, as by the said Declaration may appeare, (which I hereby ratifie and confirm.) And whereas S[r] John Wolstenholme the elder of London Knight,‡ by his Indenture of bargaine and sale beareing Date the twentith day of July 1622, in the twentithe yeare of the raigne of our enlarged, the walls were faced with new brick and finished throughout with battlements, and many windows of pointed form were inserted. Its plan now consists of a central hall and two transverse wings. It is approached on the west by an avenue, which formerly swept round the north end of the house, giving access also upon the east front, overlooking the gardens and park, though the principal entrance, as now, was upon the west.

Notwithstanding the successsve changes which have either destroyed or concealed the more ancient architectural features and details, both externally and internally, it is still possible to define the original plan with considerable accuracy, and to trace the most important alterations and additions. It was one of the smaller class of manor-houses erected in the reign of Elizabeth, and then comprised a hall, with a single private apartment—perhaps that usually occupied by the family—at the north end, and kitchens at the south. A short passage from the north-west corner gave access to the great staircase, projected westward beyond the line of the hall, and also to the parlour on the right hand. Usually, especially in halls of earlier date, the doorway was towards the end, and visitors entered what was called "the screens," a passage at the lower end screened off by wainscot. No trace, however, exists of such an arrangement here, and, in all probability, the entrance was in the centre, as at present, and as we find in other examples of this date. The habits of society had changed before this time, and the upper classes had gradually abandoned the custom of eating with their retainers in the hall; and in some more ancient examples the space which would usually have been allotted for the dais and the high table is parted off from the rest of the hall by a solid screen. Here, although the hall is retained, a separate room was built at the upper end contemporaneously. The upper floor contained the sleeping-rooms of the family and domestics. The hall is lighted upon the west, and panelled throughout with small square panelling. The ceiling is modern. The stone fireplace is on the east side, near the lower end; but this, as well as those in the servants' hall, kitchen, and library, were brought from the more stately Elizabethan mansion of Eastbury House. All are enriched with carving. Between the years 1619 and 1634, William Fanshawe appears to have added a large apartment at the north end of the house (now the drawing-room), also panelled with oak, and the fine Jacobian carving over the mantelpiece is, doubtless, part of the original decoration of the room; it is entered from the passage at the foot of the great staircase, which, with its massive hand-rail and spiral balusters, must be ascribed to the same period, having probably replaced one of Elizabethan date. In further proof that the drawing-room was a later addition to the fabric, Mr. J. G. Fanshawe states that on removing a portion of the panelling some years ago, nails in the brickwork behind it clearly denoted that trees had been trained against the wall. Prior to this addition, the ground-plan of the house may be described as a parallelogram, with at least one slightly advanced gable on the west front, and perhaps a second corresponding. The floors of the hall, drawing-room, and library, are of oak, and the two first were, no doubt, laid when the respective rooms were built; but that in the the library came from Eastbury House. The library was erected by the Rev. John Fanshawe, about 1814, on the site of the south gable.

The accompanying lithograph, from an original drawing of the east elevation in the possession of Mr. Fanshawe, will, however, help us to understand somewhat better the external character of the edifice as it appeared in the latter part of the sixteenth century. It obviously represents an Elizabethan structure of brick, which had been greatly altered in the early part of the 1 st century, chiefly by the insertion of modern windows. The square turrets which flank the entrance were probably very late additions; for although an external stair-turret is not altogether an unusual feature in a house of this date, yet, considering all the structural arrangements, these can hardly have formed part of the original design: that to the right still exists and contains a modern stair. Sweep away these and other incongruous insertions of the eighteenth century and substitute square-headed mullioned windows, with diamond quarries, the original character of the east front will then, in some degree, be realized, and the archæologist, with a slight effort of imagination, will restore a picturesque old manor-house of the Elizabethan age. The gable to the extreme left is probably in advance; there are the apartments of the domestics. The hall extends to the tower upon the right; the gabled portion beyond contains, on the ground floor, the parlour at the north end of the hall; opposite, on the western side, is the staircase. The gable on the extreme right is the addition by William Fanshawe, in the reign of James I.; and, if we have not entirely failed in the description, the reader will easily comprehend the original plan of the structure. It may be added that the ancestral portraits remaining in the mansion are numerous.

(The description of Parsloes house is communicated by H. W. King, Esq., Hon. Secretary of the Essex Archæological Society.—E. J. S.)

Abstract of the Will of Mary Fanshawe, of Stratford le Bow, a.d. 1641.

In the name of God Amen: April 29 1641: I Mary ffanshawe of Stratford Bow Co. Middlesex. widow:† sick and weak in body, but of perfect mind and memory: my body to be buried in the Chapel of Stratford Bow: Debts to be paid. To my son Thomas Fanshawe £10 and two silver bowls. To my son John Fanshawe £10. To my son in law Thomas Hardwick‡ £20. To Thomas Hardwick the younger £50. To my daughter Mildred Andrews £20. All to be paid within 3 years after my death. To my grandchild Mary Hardwick £100 when 21. To the other six children of my daughter Mary Hardwick now born, and to the five children of my daughter Mildred Andrews now living, and also to my grandchildren John Kippax, Edward Kippax and Egbert Kippax§ £10 each, to be paid when they are 21. To my son George Fanshawe the furniture of my now dwelling house.|| My said son George Fanshawe and my son in law Thomas Hardwick to be my executors. Residue to be divided between said George Fanshawe and said Mary Hardwick. And whereas the sum of £300, which was the portion of my son Raphe Fanshawe deceased, remains in my hands he being unfit to employ the same in respect of several infirmities, I will the same to my sons and daughters now alive, seven in number. Lastly I give to my son George Fanshawe and his heirs the messuage wherein I now live at Stratford Bow, and also the tenement in Stratford called the George, charged with the yearly payment of £8 for life to John Posthumous Fanshawe, and with the yearly payment of £6 for life to Richard Fanshawe.

Signed by Mary Fanshawe in presence of Chr Nailor Senr, Richard Baker, and James Whitehall.

Codicil dated April 30, 1641.

I give to John Fanshawe two guilt spoons. To Richard Fanshawe two silver spoons and Cloth to make him a mourning suit and Cloak. To Mildred Andrews

* There is nothing very singular in the circumstance that the will of William Fanshawe was not proved until sixteen years after his death. In cases of wills confined to the disposition of land, it frequently happened that the will was not proved at all, as it was only in respect of personal property that any probate was required; and often after the lapse of many years a will of real estate alone has been proved because a claim of representation was required to be made out. It might well happen in this case, although the testator was possessed of personal estate, that the probate of his will was postponed and forgotten, especially having regard to the troublous times. It is probable that the necessity of obtaining evidence of title to some property belonging to the family was the cause for producing and proving a will long laid by among family archives, but the necessity of proving which had only just become evident.

† Widow of John Fanshawe, of Rivenhall (see page 295), and daughter of Ralph Wiseman, of the same place. Their marriage-licence is dated February 20, 159$\frac{4}{5}$; she was then aged about 19 (ex inf. Col. Chester). She was buried at Bow a few days after the date of her will: the interment is thus quaintly recorded in the parish register,—Mrs Marie ffancher, Gentilwoman, was buried in the Chancell, vnderneath the Commion table, fowre foote of Mrs Cottons pew, the 8 of Maie 1641.

‡ Of Stapleford Tawney, co. Essex. Will dated February 2, 1648; proved January 10, 1649-50, in P. C. C. The family pedigree says that Thomas Hardwick, of Leeds, married Mary, daughter of Thomas Fanshawe, of Ware Park. It is clear that this statement is wrong, and that Mary Hardwick was daughter of John Fanshawe of Rivenhall. She survived her husband.

§ Children of her daughter Isabel, who was married to Edward Kippax, of St. Olave's, Hart Street, in April, 1628.

|| George Fanshawe was buried at Bow, in September, 1643. His burial is thus recorded in the Register,—Mr George ffanshaw, Lond. gent. was buried 29 Septemb. 1643; (ex inform. Mrs Walter Crouch, jun., who states that there are no Fanshawe entries at Bow, excepting the burial of Mary and George Fanshawe).

the wife of Phineas Andrews* one guilt spoon. To George Fanshawe two gilt spoons and the guilt bowl which was given the day of his baptism. To John Posthumous Fanshawe one trunk, one great Bible, and Cloth for a mourning suit. To Mary Hardwick the parcel of linen which is at her own house. To my grandchild Mary Hardwick one dozen of layd work Napkins.

(Same witnesses.)

Proved in P. C. C. May 1641, by Thomas Hardwick; leave reserved to George Fanshawe to prove hereafter.

* Phineas Andrews, merchant of London, was a younger son of William Andrew, or Andrews, of Evesham, gent., by Mary, daughter of William Phinces, or Fyneux. He seems to have occupied Parsloes about 1646 (Royalist Comp. Papers, Sec. Ser., xvi. 342), and afterwards to have lived in Hertfordshire; but in 1658 he bought Denton Court, near Canterbury, and lived there. He was M.P. for Hythe. By Mildred Fanshawe he had John, of the Inner Temple, ob. 1667; Thomas, who sold Denton Court in 1679; Mary; and Elizabeth, who married Sir Thomas Wolstenholme, Bart. Phineas Andrews died in 1661, and was buried in Denton Church.

† Eldest son and heir of Sir Thomas Fanshawe of Jenkins, whom he succeeded in 1631. Born 1607: married February 16, 1626, Susan, younger daughter of Matthias Otten of Putney and Walthamstow, by whom he had Thomas, who succeeded him, and others. He held the office of Clerk of the Crown in the Court of King's Bench. See also notes to Funeral Certificates and Parish Registers. Lady Fanshawe describes him (Memoirs, MS., fo. 14) as "a worthy honest Gentleman and a great sufferer for y^e^ Crown, wholly ingaging his estate for y^e^ maintennance thereoff."

* This picture is still in the possession of the family. There are several other portraits of Sir Richard in existence, two of which remain at the family seat of Parsloes. One is of remarkable merit, and has been attributed variously to Vandyke and to Velasquez. It is not likely to have been painted by Vandyke, who died when Sir Richard was only thirty-three years old; whereas the picture shows a man quite in middle age. If it is by Velasquez, it must have been painted in 1650, when Sir Richard was in Spain as Envoy Extraordinary.

† Sic in Register. Teniers the younger is probably meant. Lady Fanshawe was many times painted, and the family have several portraits of her. One, a very characteristic picture, was engraved for the Memoirs from the original, now at Parsloes. It had been etched before, for private circulation, by Miss Catherine Fanshawe.

§ The MS. of the Memoirs. This valuable MS., most of which is in the handwriting of Lady Fanshawe, is now in the possession of J. G. Fanshawe, Esq., of Parsloes. Any future edition of the Memoirs should be published from this MS., as the published edition is thoroughly untrustworthy. It is incorrect in every page and almost in every line. Not only words, but entire passages are omitted; sentences are jumbled together; Lady Fanshawe's quaint diction is modernized and spoiled, and the book altogether is little better than a paraphrase of the original. It should however be stated in justice to the editor, Sir Harris Nicolas, that he used a copy only of Lady Fanshawe's MS. made in 1766, by Charlotte Colman. It is probable that he did not even know that the original MS. was in existence and accessible. Sir Richard Fanshawe, the "Most Dear and only son" to whom the Memoirs are addressed, died at Clerkenwell in July 1694, unmarried, having it is stated lost his speech and hearing from disease, some time before his death.

* The editor of the Memoirs changes this word to turning. It is trimming in the will, and means simply Sir Richard Fanshawe's razors, tweezers, scissors, brushes, and other necessary articles for keeping his hair and beard in order. Lady Fanshawe had doubtless carefully preserved everything, however trifling, that had belonged to Sir Richard, and would consider even his shaving-tackle as a gift to be specifically devised in her will.

† From the original MS. of the Memoirs.

‡ Sir Edmond Turnor of Stoke Rochford, the celebrated Royalist, brother-in-law to Lady Fanshawe, having married her sister, Margaret Harrison.

§ A younger son of Sir Henry Fanshawe of Ware Park; born in 1604; married Catherine, daughter and coheiress of Sir William Walter of Wimbledon, widow of Knighton Ferrers, and had a son Thomas, born in 1641, who died v. p.; knighted in 1640; was a Colonel of Horse and took an active part on the Kings side in the Civil War; died in March, 1680, buried at Ware. Sir Simon is mentioned in Lady Fanshawe's Memoirs as "a gallant gentleman, but more a libertin yn any one of his family: he married a very fine and good woman and of a great estate." The family pedigree states that Sir Simon Fanshawe's lady died in the year 1684, but this statement is evidently wrong, as she is called his late wife in the proceedings of the Committee for Sequestrations, February, 1647. As Sir Simon is described in those proceedings as of Bayford, co. Herts, recourse was had to the Registers of that parish for the date of his wife's burial. The Register was examined between the years 1630 and 1650 to no purpose; but as two or three pages are so defaced by damp as to be quite illegible, it is still possible she may be buried at Bayford. From the above entry in the Royalist Composition Papers, and from the fact that there is not the slightest allusion to her in her husband's will, it may be concluded that she died before Sir Simon, and that the statement in the family pedigree is incorrect. A fine portrait of Sir Simon Fanshawe, showing him to have been a strikingly handsome man, remains at Parsloes.

If I dye in the Parish of Ware, I desire my Body may be interred in the Monument of my Ancestors, by the leave of Sir Thomas Byde,* whose consent I desire my Executrix would Ask, and I doubt not but he will grant it. And it being reasonable that every one while they are in this World, should give an Accompt of the ffaith they doe profess, I doe hereby profess before God that I have ever lived in the doctrine and ffaith here professed in the Church of England; And by the blessing of Almighty God I doubt not but I shall dye in it, for I doe resolve so to doe if God shall continue his favour to me. ffor that small Estate which God hath given me and the Rebells have taken from me,† what is left of it I doe fully and freely give as followeth, namely all that my Estate in Warwickshire, which being sold will pay all my Debts, I give and Devise the same to my Executrix, to be sold for the payment of my Debts, and the surplusage I give to my Executrix togeather with all Debts owing to me, which at this time is one hundred and fifty pounds at the least, from my Nephew Simon ffanshaw,‡ which M^r^ Spranger of Ware can best give an Accompt of. And I doe make and appoint my deare and loving Kinswoman, Dame Mary Leventhorpe, Widdow,§ Relict of Sir Thomas Leventhorpe, Barronett, deceased, my full and Sole Executrix of this my last Will and Testament, And doe hereby give to my said Executrix her heires and Assignes, all the residue of my Estate both reall and Personall, after my Debts and funeral charges paid, desiring her to accept of this small Legacy which is all I have, and if I had more she should undoubtedly have it all, and I doe revoake all manner of Wills made heretofore, especially that wherein I made my Dear and loving Sister, the Lady Alice Bedell, my full and Sole Executrix, she being long since dead.

† In his petition to the Committee for Compositions, sitting at Goldsmiths Hall, in April, 1647, Sir Simon Fanshawe affirms that his estate is not worth, after payment of debts and charges, more than £200 yearly. The fine was only fixed at £60, but Sir Simon seems to have suffered in other ways; and in particular it is stated in the Composition Papers that personal estate to the amount of £2000, which had been devised by Mr. Ferrers (first husband of Sir Simon's wife) towards payment of his debts,—for which Sir Simon Fanshawe had become liable,—had been seized by the Committee for Hertfordshire, and it does not appear that any allowance was made to Sir Simon on this account. Hants, by whom he had William, founder of the Dengey branch of the Fanshawe family,—married secondly in June 1659, his cousin Alice, eldest daughter of Thomas Fanshawe, Esq., of Jenkins, by whom (who died in child-bed, April 1662) he had John, his heir at Parsloes, and Susannah, born March and died December, 1661. Mr. Fanshawe died April 6, 1689, aged 69, and was buried at Barking. In speaking in the Memoirs of Thomas Fanshawe of Jenkins, as "a worthy honest Gentleman and a great sufferer for y^e^ Crown, wholly ingaging his estate for y^e^ mainteuance thereoff," Lady Fanshawe goes on to say, "and so is my Cousin John Fanshaw of Parsles in Essex, who hath but 2 sons, one (unmarried) by his first wife, who was y^e^ daughter of S^r^ William Kinsmall, and y^e^ other is a child whom he had by his last wife, y^e^ daughter of my Cousin Thomas Fanshaw of Jenkins" (MS., fo. 14). It will be observed that the youngest son of John Fanshawe inherited Parsloes, and the place of Auditor, to the exclusion of William the eldest son.
